ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

Mrs. Casey and family, 9 Goldsmith terrace, Bray, wish to return thanks to their many kind friends, who sent messages of sympathy and Mass cards, in their recent sad bereavement.

IN MEMORIAM.

ALLEN—In affectionate remembrance of Elizabeth Allen, the darling and devoted wife of David William Allen, who died 26th August, 1929.
"Rock of ages cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in thee."

ARNOLD—In ever-loving and most treasured remembrance of our darling sister, Sara, who died at her residence, Cappoquin, 26th August, 1921.
"Until the day break."
—Mina.

MURRAY—In ever-present and treasured memory of my loved brother, George Joseph Murray, who died on the 26th August, 1922. Grant him, O Lord, eternal rest.
"Beyond the sea of death
Love lives yesterday, to-day and forever."
Caroline Georgina Murray.

RIDGEWAY—In loving memory of F. R. Ridgeway, who passed to Higher Life August 26th, 1927. A devoted husband and loving father.
"Father, in Thy precious keeping Leave me now our loved one sleeping."
Inserted by his wife and family.

SMITH—In fond and loving memory of our dear sister, Sarah Margaret, who was called Home 26th August, 1925, at her residence, 15 Villiers road, Rathgar.
To-day recalls sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest,
And those who think of her to-day
Are those who loved her best.
Inserted by her loving brother and sister.

CONTRACTS.

DUBLIN PORT AND DOCKS (BRIDGES) ACT, 1929.

RECONSTRUCTION OF BUTT BRIDGE.

The Dublin Port and Docks Board is prepared to receive Tenders from experienced and competent contractors for the Reconstruction, in Reinforced Concrete, of Butt Bridge, Dublin, and contingent works. Copies of Drawings, Form of Tender, Form of Contract, Specification and Bill of Quantities may be obtained from Joseph Mallagh, Esq., Chief Engineer, at the Offices of the Dublin Port and Docks Board, Westmoreland street, Dublin, on and after Monday, 25th August, 1930, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., except Saturdays, on payment of a fee of £10 (Ten Pounds), which will be refunded to bona-fide tenderers after the Board has placed the contract.

Tenders, which must be on the prescribed form, must be delivered under sealed cover, endorsed on the outside "Tender for Butt Bridge," and directed to the Secretary, Dublin Port and Docks Board, Westmoreland street, Dublin, so as to reach him not later than 11 a.m. on the 23rd September, 1930, and no Tender received after this time will be considered.

The Board does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender, nor will any estimate be paid for.

By Order, E. H. BAILEY, Secretary.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

WOMAN MOTORIST SENTENCED.

APPEAL LODGED.

(BEFORE MR. LITTLE.)

Annie McGeary, Frankfort avenue, Rathgar, was charged with being drunk while in charge of a motor car in Marlborough street between seven and eight o'clock last Saturday night. She was also charged with reckless driving and with driving without a licence.

Sergeant 22 C gave evidence that he saw the defendant driving the car in "a strange and careless manner." When he halted her he noticed that she smelled strongly of drink. He took her from the driver's seat and placed her in the rear seat, and then had the car driven to Store Street Station.

He found that the defendant was not in possession of a driver's licence, but the tax on the car had been paid.

The defendant's mother, who was in the car at the time, said that they had been visiting friends who were in trouble.

Mr. Little—And you then got yourselves into serious trouble. (Laughter.)

The Justice observed that he could not endorse the defendant's licence, as it had lapsed last November. He would impose a sentence of one month's imprisonment in the second division.

Mr. Grogan, solicitor, subsequently attended in court, and said that Miss McGeary did not realise the gravity of her offence, and had instructed him to intervene with respect to the sentence that had been imposed.

Mr. Little—You can give notice of appeal right away.

Sureties were fixed at £10 each, and notice of appeal was lodged.

YOUTHS AND A CAR.

STORY OF A TRIP TO SEE RACE IN THE NORTH.

Two youths from the Boys' Home in Middle Abbey street, Christopher Mangan (17) and Bernard Clarke (21), a cripple, who entered the dock with the aid of a crutch, were remanded in custody for a week, charged with stealing a motor car belonging to Mr. Michael Maguire, Ardlorchan, Foxrock, from outside Jury's Hotel, Dublin, last Friday night.

They were arrested at a football match at Dundalk on Saturday, when, it was stated, they made a statement to the effect that they took the car as they were anxious to see the motor race in Ulster.

When they got as far as Drogheda the car ran out of petrol. They hailed a passing motorist, who gave them petrol which brought them near the border. Having got so far they became frightened, and decided to abandon the car. They left it in a field, and walked on to Newry, where they attended a football match.

When the match was over they found a Citroen car standing outside the grounds, and, getting into it, drove back to a point near the border, where they abandoned it. They walked back to Dundalk, where they attended another football match. It was here that Guard Lally arrested them.

NO JURISDICTION.

CHARGE AGAINST UNKNOWN MAN DISMISSED.

A young man, who refused to give his name and address, was put in the dock charged with soiling and defacing a window in the shop, 67 Lower Camden street, the property of Mr. Jacob V. Zlotover, by painting on it in large letters: "1929-1930—Republicans tortured in Mountjoy."

After evidence had been given by a Guard, who said that he saw the accused man painting on the window, it was intimated that the owner of the shop had declined to come and give evidence.

Mr. Little said that in that case he had no jurisdiction, and must discharge the accused man.

REGISTERED LETTERS.

SALESMAN ACCUSED OF THEFT OF MONEY.

James Fox, Fairbrothers' Cottages, Mount Brown, was charged with stealing the sum of £23 13s. 11d. from a registered letter which had been given to him to post by the Radio Vacuum Cleaners, Ltd., Dawson street.

Detective Berry said that when arrested the defendant said that he got six letters. He opened one of them and removed the money which he found in it.

A woman clerk in the office of the company in Dawson street said that she gave the defendant six registered letters to post at the General Post Office. They contained the payments to salesmen and canvassers working in the provinces. The one which had been opened was addressed to G. W. Ingram, c/o Post Office, Claremorris, Co. Mayo. The defendant brought back the Post Office clerk's receipt. The handwriting on the envelope (produced) was not hers. The defendant had been employed as a salesman by the Radio Vacuum Cleaners, Ltd.

The defendant was remanded on bail for a week.

FOUR WOMEN REMANDED.

Mrs. Kirby, York street; Mrs. Gordon, Eccles street; Mollie Fagan, Smithfield, and Mary McIvor, Clarence Mangan street, were remanded for a week, charged with the larceny during the past two months of property of considerable value from the premises of Messrs. Switzer and Co.; Messrs. Cavendish, Grafton street; Messrs. Clery and Co., Sackville street; the Dublin Woollen Company, Ormond Quay; Roche's Stores, Henry street; Messrs. Walpole, Suffolk street; Messrs. Metcalfe, George's street, and Messrs. Burton, Dame street.

Detective Coghlan said that a great deal of property found in the house of Mrs Kirby had not yet been identified.

BREAKING AND ENTERING CHARGE.

Francis Gallagher, North King street, was remanded in custody on the charge of breaking into the licensed premises of James Gibney, Parkgate street, in company with James Condron, a prisoner on remand, and taking therefrom a sum of money. Condron is at present on remand, charged with stealing and being in the illegal possession of a pony, cart and harness, and a man's overcoat.

Guard 154 A said that Gallagher, when arrested, said that he was with Condron when the latter purchased the pony at Smithfield. He denied knowledge of the charge of breaking and entering.

INFORMATIONS REFUSED.

Informations were refused in the case in which Thomas Loughlin, a parcels van driver employed by the Dublin United Tramways Company, was charged with causing the death of Bernard Healy, aged seven years, by knocking him down with his van in Holles street on the 18th inst.

Mr. Gerald Byrne, solicitor, defended.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Thomas Fannon and Michael Brophy, who had been remanded several times in connection with the charge of breaking into Messrs. Beamish and Crawford's licensed premises in Wexford street, and stealing therefrom a quantity of whiskey and cigarettes, were returned for trial to the next Circuit Court, Fannin on bail of £50, and Brophy in custody.

OATMEAL steady; flaked 15/6, rolled oats 15/6 to 16/-, other cuts 12/9 to 13/-, as to quality ex mill per cwt.

LIVERPOOL CORN.—WHEAT—Higher quotations from Winnipeg and Chicago had a favourable influence here, and forward deliveries of wheat improved fairly at the outset, then receded slightly on general apathy, but again improved, with sellers reserved, though disappointing. Afternoon cables caused prices to give way, and only a moderate advance was registered at the finish. C.i.f. parcels held for 3d. advance, but business confined to No. 2 Manitoba afloat at 34/9 per quarter. C.i.f. parcels maize River Plate inactive and nominally unaltered. Wheat on the spot quietly steady. MAIZE—Spot parcels River Plate again lower at 6/2 per cental for anything ready for delivery. FLOUR quiet at late rates. Graded wheat futures opened ½d. to ¾d. per cental dearer, fluctuated moderatley, closing only ½d. to ¼d. over Saturday.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL.—BACON—Continental and Irish is still in fair demand, with offerings made sparingly, Danish being difficult to find, and making a premium of 4/- to 5/- per cwt. on official quotations, while American descriptions are more inquired for, and backs raised to 80/- to 91/- per cwt. SLIPPERY QUAY STEPS.

INQUEST ON BOY DROWNED IN THE LIFFEY.

An inquest was held in Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital, Dublin, yesterday afternoon on the boy, James Flanagan (11), of 6 Leary's place, Townsend street, who was drowned in the Liffey on Sunday afternoon.

Patrick Flanagan stated that he went with his brother James to Sir John Rogerson's quay on Sunday afternoon. When they were standing on the steps James threw stones into the water, but the dog which they had with them would not follow the stones. James slipped off the steps, which were slippery, into the water.

James Smith, City quay, said that he was walking along the quay when an alarm was raised. He saw a boy's hands over the water, near a boat, about twenty-five yards away. He then lost sight of the boy, but dived into the water in the hope of rescuing him. He failed to find the boy.

Dr. Louis A. Byrne, the Coroner, said that the witness acted very courageously, and it was not his fault that the boy was drowned.

Sergeant Rooney said that, after dragging operations, the body was recovered at seven o'clock on Sunday evening.

Dr. Beare, house surgeon, Sir Patrick's Dun's Hospital, said that death was due to asphyxiation.

The jury returned a verdict accordingly, stating that the occurrence was accidental.

Mrs. H. A. Cooke, Ballynonty, won first prize in the Indian Runner Drake class at Limerick Show.

TONE AND COMMENT.

DUBLIN UNDECIDED.

RAILS STILL EASIER.

Operations for the new account opened yesterday on 'Change, and a fair share of quiet dealing resulted, though the course of prices here and there proved disappointing, as realisations for cash were still in evidence. Government National Loans were supported. The notification that the Compensation 5 per cent. Stock was about to be redeemed, as mentioned in our columns last Saturday, largely accounted for the recent exceptionally favourable trend of prices. War Loan 5 per cent. relapsed, but India issues were firm and Land Bonds good. Corporation Stocks continue in request. Banking securities largely marked time, with Nationals a shade easier. Guinness Ord. opened firm on the large increase in last week's export return, but later eased slightly. J. Power and Son Pref. remain firm. The Home Railway market was generally lower on a preponderance of sellers in a market temporarily bare of support. Both Great Northern and Great Southern issues were lower on balance. A further rise was quoted for Dublin United Tram Ord. Alliance Gas were steady. Fresh depression was shown for Unilevers, but support was about later at a recovery. Courtaulds were busy at lower prices, but Coats were well held. Leading Tobaccos still tended to quiet appreciation. Dunlops were easy round 10s., as also Imperial Chemicals. Dolphin Hotel £5 Ordinary were called 4s. and the 6 per cent. £5 Pref. 12s. 6d. bid, but no business resulted. These shares were not dealt in for a long time past. Irish-American Oil Pref. recovered the recent set back, and Thwaites Pref. were buyers for choice.

LONDON IRREGULAR.

BRITISH RAILS WEAK.

Extremely quiet conditions characterised the majority of sections of the London Stock markets yesterday, members' attention being principally occupied with the arrangement of the carryover, whilst the fact that New York remained closed tended to restrict business still further. As a consequence of this extreme slackness of interest irregular conditions were apparent, with here and there outstanding weak features. The Waring and Gillow report was received with much disappointment, and there was a further scaling down in the quotation, whilst the Singer results and the passing of the interim dividend by William Hollins were other adverse factors.

Little of interest transpired in the gilt-edged section, and the final values were much the same as at the week-end. Among Colonial Government issues, Australians continued firm, and further improvements were scored. Extremely quiet conditions ruled among Foreign Government stocks. Chinese issues, however, again made a firm showing, the five per cent. 1912 being an especially strong market at 33½, or 2½ points harder, but Peruvian Corporations were marked down. Renewed liquidation was encountered among Home Rails, and the leaders all finished weaker. Great Western Ord. lost a further 2 points to 64. Colonial and Foreign Rails attracted but scanty attention, and for the most part closed unchanged. Among the Industrial issues, Anglo-Americans preserved a firm appearance, as did Tobaccos, but elsewhere irregular conditions prevailed.

DUBLIN BUSINESS DONE.

LAND BONDS BID FOR. UNILEVERS OVER LOWEST. TOBACCOS AND TEXTILES SUPPORTED.

Government National 5 per cent. Sterling rose ½ to 102½, but the Second 5 per cent. fell ⅛ to 102⅜, while the Third 4½ per cent. Loan repeated 94⅜. Land Bonds 4½ per cent. rose ⅜ to 94 to 94¼ nominally.

In British Funds, War Loan 5 per cent. fell ⅛ to 103⅞, but ditto. 4½ per cent. rose ⅜ to 99⅝, while India 3½ per cent. repeated 63, and ditto 3 per cent 54.

In Banks, Nationals fell 4½d. to 47s. 6d. for cash, while Bank of Ireland Stock repeated 319, Munster and Leinsters 6 and Provincials 28, but ditto new rose ⅛ to 22 for an odd lot.

In Breweries and Distilleries, Guinness again fetched 105s., 104s. 9d., while J. Jameson and Son Debs. repeated 6 and J. Power and Son Pref. 14s.

Steam and Canal Securities were neglected.

In Home Rails, Great Northern Ord. fell 1 to 21, the Pref. ¼ to 44¾, and the Debs. 1½ to 62, 64 nominally. Great Southern Ord. rallied ½ to 18⅜ ¼, but the Pref. fell 1¼ to 40¼, ¾, 40, the Guaranteed ½ to 52, and the Debs. ¾ to 63½.

In Drapery Shares, Switzers repeated 24s.

Among Commercial and Industrial Shares, British-American Tobacco rose 3d. to 99s. 3d. and Imperials 4½d. to 94s. 3d., 94s. 4½d. INDUSTRIAL MARKET.

UNILEVERS CONTINUE DEPRESSED.

Although the general rate at yesterday's carry-over among Industrial securities was 4½ to 5¼ p.c., evidence was forthcoming that a fair-sized "bear" account exists in certain shares. There was a small "backwardation" on Imperial Chemical Ord., while the Def. were arranged at "even" to 2 p.c. Courtaulds and Unilever N.V. were done at 1 to 3 p.c. "Bats," "Imps" and United Molasses were arranged on the basis of 3 to 4 p.c. Little disposition was seen to open up fresh commitments for new account, and the tone for the most part remained undecided. Trans-Atlantic issues made a fairly satisfactory showing in response to Wall street advices, but prices eased somewhat in the final "street" dealings. Waring and Gillow issues became more or less a nominal market, following the appearance of the annual report and accounts, which were dealt with in yesterday's issue. The meeting is to be held at the company's offices in Oxford street on Monday next. Unilevers continued weak on what was described as further forced selling.

An active trading was witnessed in International Nickels, but after changing hands up to 23⅜ the price eased in the "street" to 23. The "rights" were dealt in around 7½. Radio Corporation improved at one time to 42⅜, reacting later to 42.

Columbia Graphophones hardened at first to 2 11/16, easing in the "street" to 2 11/16. H.M.V.'s gained a modest fraction at 2 7/16.

Cables and Wireless Stocks seemed quietly steady, the Pref. closing at 71, the "A" Ord. at 19½, and the "B" Stock at 9½.

Coal and Engineering descriptions moved in uncertain fashion, and Electricals were dull.

Textiles continued a doubtful market, though a little support was forthcoming in places. J. and P. Coats hardened to 56s. 3d., Fine Spinners to 18s., and Patons and Baldwins to 19s. 3d. On the other hand, William Hollins came on offer at 13s. 9d. on the passing of the interim dividend, and there was some scattered selling of Bradford Dyers at 18s. 6d., the Preference at 14s., Calico Printers at 8s., and Sewing Cottons at 30s.

Rayons remained out of favour. Courtaulds dipped to 1 15/16 at one time, but steadied later to 1 15/16. All the Celanese issues were marked down, American Celanese to 2¼, and British Celanese to 7s.

Following the publication of the report and accounts dealings in the various Waring and Gillow became more or less nominal. The 10s. Ordinaries were quoted in the Stock Exchange official list at ¼, ¾, the £1 Preference at 3/16, 5/16, and the Debenture stock at 75, 81, business being recorded in the respective issues at 4s. 6d., 7s. 3d. and 79.

Among Catering and Food Supply shares Unilevers continued weak, the Ordinary losing 1s. 10½d. at 40s., and the NV. shares 1s. 3d. at 42s. 6d. The new shares were dealt in down to 10s. 9d. J. Lyons Ordinary gave way to 4 11/16, with Home and Colonial on offer at 12s. 3d.

Apart from Carreras "A," which continued to offer around 6¾, the Tobacco section had a steadier appearance. "Bats" found supporters, and gained the turn at 4 11/16, with "Imps" rather buyers at 4 11/16.

Breweries gave a rather mixed display. South African Breweries Ordinary maintained a firm front at 59s. 9d. Bass, Guinness and Watney Deferred were quietly steady, but Allsopps, Ind Coopes and Meux's closed slightly easier.

Newspaper shares were again pressed for sale. Bank and Insurance shares remained on the quiet side, while, among Shipping issues, Royal Mails declined to 19½.

In other directions a few scattered sales were reported of Dunlops and Imperial Chemicals Ord., which gave way a few pence to 9s. 9d. and 18s. 10½d., respectively. Kreuger and Toll and Swedish Match "B" hardened slightly. United Molasses were steady at the lower level.

RECENT ISSUE DEALINGS.

OIL SHARES FINISH LOWER.

Although there were very few buyers about, the tendency at the commencement of business in the Oil share market yesterday was slightly harder than on Friday, leading counters being quoted a trifle higher. There was, however, never any real basis for the improvement, and later in the day values gave way again, and at the close lower prices were general among the leaders, while shrinkages occurred in several of the more speculative descriptions. Shells finished in the "Street" at 4 7/16, showing a loss of 1/16. Royal Dutch closed at 29⅜, or 1½ down, and trifling shrinkages were marked in Mexican and Canadian Eagles. British Controlled continued on offer, and further weakened. Elsewhere Attocks receded to 1 3/16, shrinkages also being marked in Lobitos, Anglo-Ecuadorians and British Borneos.

RUBBER SHARES IDLE.

Extremely quiet conditions ruled in the Rubber Share market, and the closing values showed little material alteration from those ruling at the week-end, though the tendency was to depress quotations still further. There was also very little passing in the commodity market—spot eased off to 4 11/16d. per lb. after 4⅞d. at the opening, whilst October to December fetched 4 11/16d. per lb., and January to March 5 3/16d. per lb—London stocks of the raw material show an expansion of 394 tons on the week, and Liverpool stocks are increased by 625 tons.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

COMPENSATION 5 PER CENT. STOCK.

Notice is given that the Minister for Finance, in accordance with the powers conferred on him by Section 18 of the Finance Act, 1930, proposes, subject to the consent of the holders, to redeem, on the 1st November next, all amounts of 5 per cent. Compensation Stock not paid off through the ordinary annual drawing of 1st September. Redemption will be effected by payment to the registered holder of a sum equal to the face value of his holding, with accrued interest to 1st November, 1930, from which date interest will cease. Application for repayment should be made to the National City Bank, Ltd., 10 College Green, not later than 11th October, on the special form obtainable from the bank. Applications received after that date will not be considered, and no such application in the hands of the bank at that date may be subsequently withdrawn.

WARING AND GILLOW.

The full accounts of Waring and Gillow, Ltd., for the year ended January 31 last are now to hand. The Chairman now explains in a special letter to the Press that it was expected that the company would make a handsome profit on the sale of a property no longer required, and that had that been the case he considers that the Ordinary dividend should have been maintained. The actual net earnings fell from £282,000 to £126,884. A handsome dividend might have been paid, but the directors found it necessary to provide £127,585 against a debt which has not been duly met for money due on the sale of a property on which Waring and Gillow hold a second mortgage. The directors express the hope that the debt will be met in full. The balance sheet shows secured debts due by the Chairman amounting to almost £100,000, of which £63,000 net has been lent in the year under consideration. The holding of cash and gilt-edged is almost halved at £197,000, and, after deducting the debt reserved against, there is a fall in other debtors of about £145,000. Amounts due from subsidiaries are also lower, while there is a net item of £60,000 for special advertising. Among the liabilities there is also a new item of £119,000 advances from bankers. The favourable cash balance has thus been greatly reduced, and is now insufficient to provide necessary working capital. The chairman, Lord Waring, has resigned that position, and a committee, consisting of Lord Brentford and Sir Harry Peat, is to investigate the question of changes in financial and administrative control.

C.P.R. COMMON STOCK.

Since the announcement of Canadian Pacific Railway Earnings for the first half of the year the "bears" have been active operators in the market for the Common Stock of the company, and, despite a denial by the President of rumours that the 10 per cent. dividend might be reduced, the price at $176 for the $100 shares (shortly to be split) is little above the lowest point touched. Net earnings at $9,406,000 are lower than in the first six months of 1929 by $6,951,000. Indications, however, point to a better crop movement this year, and the second half of the year is, of course, more important, from a revenue viewpoint. It is interesting to note that the company has distributed dividends regularly since 1892; the 10 per cent. rate has been paid since 1911, having, therefore, covered the war years and the post-war depression.

L.M.S. DEBENTURES.

In consequence of representations made for an extension of time in which the issue of £1,500,000 5 per cent. Redeemable Debenture stock, 1952, may be retained in scrip form, the London, Midland and Scottish Railway has agreed, as a special case, to extend the time for lodgment for registration of the bankers' receipts given in respect of such issues to October 25. The above issue was made in March last through the company's brokers, who offered it at 100⅜ per cent., free of stamp and commission. The stock carries interest from April 10, and ranks pari passu with the existing 5 per cent. 1952 Redeemable Debenture stock.

SIR BASIL BLACKETT.

Sir Basil Blackett has been appointed a director of De Beers Consolidated Mines in the place of Mr. L. Breitmeyer, deceased.

U.S. BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Colonel L. P. Ayres, an authority on trade tendencies in the United States, predicts that the end of the business depression is approaching. He states that, while production is back to the level of five years ago, consumption is greater.

SUPER AUTOMATIC MACHINES.

It is announced by the directors of Super Automatic Machines (1928), Ltd., that in view of the continued adverse results of trading experienced by the operating company, Super Automatic Machine Company, Ltd., it has been decided to liquidate the company, and thus conserve, so fas as possible, the investment in, and advances made by Super Automatic Machines (1928) to its subsidiary.

ASSOCIATED LEAD MANUFACTURERS.

The scheme for the fusion of the interests of Associated Lead Manufacturers, Ltd., and Goodlass, Wall and Company, Ltd., was placed before the six per cent. Preference shareholders of Associated Lead Manufacturers, Ltd., at a meeting at Winchester House, London, yesterday. Mr. Clive Cookson, who presided, set out the financial provisions of the scheme and said that some newspapers had credited the company with getting the better of the bargain in the fusion scheme. He could not make that claim himself, as during the last five years they had built up a company which embraced the major portion of the British manufacturers of paint and various other commodities. Thus they were taking to the amalgamation a manufacturing unit with a high reputation at home and abroad. Under the scheme Preference shareholders would receive the same amount of dividend as in the past. Mr. Fache, a shareholder, asked why the shareholders were not told long ago of the condition of things. Recently the shareholders were asked to add to the Board three men who were going to increase its practical experience. Now, less than four months later, they were told that the capital was to be written off by £881,870. He thought that they ought to have some explanation as to when the directors made this faux pas. They were to be absorbed by a smaller company, and the shareholders were asked to commit suicide and drop the name of the company. The shareholders ought to have had an inkling that such a thing was going to happen. Mr. Moore, another shareholder, complained that the Preferred Ordinary shareholders had been disenfranchised by not receiving notice of meetings and being given power to vote. The chairman explained that the decision to proceed with the amalgamation was arrived at owing to the serious drop in the price of lead. This necessitated centralisation of trading interests in order to ensure more economical production. A resolution approving the amalgamation was carried by the requisite majority. The fusion scheme was afterwards placed before a meeting of the Ordinary shareholders, and the Chairman (Mr. Cookson) announced that each holder of a £1 Ordinary share would receive shares to the value of 11s. 3d. in the new company. This was approved.

A GOOD BRITISH EMPIRE DEBENTURE.

Investors who wish to obtain a sound, well-covered, fixed interest security, and who wish to keep their money within the British Empire might be attracted by Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills, Ltd., 6½ per cent. Thirty-year Guaranteed Mortgage Debentures. This company, which was incorporated in Canada in 1924, acquired timber limits of about 2,237 square miles of heavily-timbered pulp wood forests, and has erected at Quebec one of the finest equipped paper mills in the world, with deep water footage on the St. Lawrence River. The mills started production at the end of 1927, and during 1928 the production averaged 485 tons of paper per day. The issued capital is $8,000,000 in Preference Shares of $100 each, and 135,000 Ordinary Shares of no par value. Ranking prior to the share capital are £3,000,000 of the 6½ per cent. Guaranteed Debentures, and these are secured by a first mortgage on the property and rights of the company, including timber limits and lands, and a first floating charge on the undertaking and other assets. The payment of principal, premium and interest is unconditionally guaranteed by the "Daily Mirror Newspapers, Ltd." and "Sunday Pictorial Newspapers (1920), Ltd." The net profit of "Daily Mirror Newspapers" for the year ended 28th February last was £480,360, and "Sunday Pictorial Newspapers" £351,653, making a total of £832,013. The interest on the Guaranteed Debentures requires £195,000 annually. In June last the Anglo-Canadian Pulp Company was amalgamated with the Canada Power and Paper Corporation by means of an exchange of common shares, thus resulting in the largest newsprint manufacturing corporation in the British Empire, controlling over 20 per cent. of the total Canadian output of newsprint, and having a capacity of approximately 2,500 tons per day. These Debentures are repayable by 1957 at 105 per cent. by a cumulative sinking fund commencing 1932 operating at 1 per cent. per annum for five years and 2½ per cent. per annum thereafter by purchases at, or below, 105, or drawings at 105. The company reserves the right to repay the Debentures up to 1st July, 1936, at 107 per cent., and thereafter at 105 per cent. on ninety days' notice. The present price of the Debentures is round 105 (as compared with this year's highest of 108 and lowest of 100½), at which they give a flat yield of about 6 3/16 per cent.

£6,650,000 STEEL MERGER.

Registration details are available of United Steel Companies, which has been formed with a nominal capital of £6,650,000 in £1 shares, to amalgamate the United Steel Companies and the United Strip and Bar Mills. The assets of both undertakings are to be transferred to the new company, which will allot 5,022,884 fully-paid shares to existing holders of securities and shares of the United Steel Companies and holders of Preference shares of United Strip and Bar Mills. The cash for paying off the bank loans and dissenting holders of the Steel Company and Preference of the Strip Company will be provided as follows:—An advance by the bank of £1,300,000 to the new company, without security, for one year, with the right, if the loan is not repaid, to issue, either outright or by way of security, not exceeding £1,300,000 of six per cent. fifteen-year Debentures, repayable by eleven annual drawings, commencing June, 1936, at a premium (commencing at 2 per cent., and rising to 5 per cent.). The company retains power to redeem the Debentures at a premium of 5 per cent. on six months' notice at any time during the first four years of their currency. Any further amount required by the subscription by the holding company for cash at par and the issue to it or its nominees of £1 Ordinary in the capital of the new company to the requisite amount.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

IMPERIAL TOBACCO COMPANY OF CANADA.—The following cable, dated Friday, August 22, was received on Saturday from the Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada, Limited:—"Declared to-day Ordinary dividend of 1½ per cent. (against 1¼ per cent.), payable September 30; Preference 3 per cent., payable September 30, to shareholders of record at the close of business on September 3. Rate of exchange for Ordinary, 4.86⅔ per £1 sterling." The above dividend of 1½ per cent. on the Ordinary shares represents the fourth of that amount to be announced in respect of the current year, ending on September 30 next. In the previous period quarterly payments aggregated 6 per cent., plus a final distribution of 2 per cent. declared on the publication of the accounts in December.

PLATT BROTHERS.—Messrs. Platt Brothers and Co., textile machinists, of Oldham, have decided to defer payment of the dividend due on September 25 on both classes of Preference shares owing to the necessity of conserving the company's liquid resources. Up till the present the Preference payment has been met at due dates.

SELECTION TRUST.—The accounts of Selection Trust, Limited, for the year ended March 31 last show a profit of £307,325, which compares with £213,248 (after placing £10,000 to premises reserve) for the preceding year. The amounts written off Debenture issue expenses, discount on Debentures, and capital duty and issue expenses total £19,643, while the appropriations are £15,000 to income tax reserve, £20,000 to premises reserve, and £25,000 to contingencies reserve. An interim dividend of 2½ per cent. was paid on the Ordinary shares, and the directors now recommend a final dividend of 27½ per cent., making a total of 30 per cent. for the year, leaving a balance of £40,372 to be carried forward, against £36,890 brought in. In November last the authorised Ordinary capital was increased from £600,000 to £800,000, and the Ordinary shares of £1 were sub-divided into shares of 5s. each. In the same month £60,000 of the reserve was capitalised and issued as fully-paid Ordinary shares to the Ordinary shareholders, while in January last 160,000 Ordinary shares were subscribed for at par by the Ordinary shareholders. The dividend for the year 1928-29 totalled 10 per cent., after carrying £64,000 to reserve for income tax and £50,000 to reserve for contingencies.

R.M.C. TEXTILES.—Interim dividends at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, less tax, on the Pref. shares, and 5 per cent. actual, less tax, on the Ord. shares. (Last year the 5/- Ord. shares received an interim dividend of 4 per cent.)

LONDON MINING MARKET VERY QUIET.

ANOTHER SLUMP IN TIN PRICES.

Extremely quiet conditions ruled in the Mining share market yesterday, the accumulation of orders over the week-end being small, whilst fresh business was slack. As regards Kaffirs, while the Cape was inclined to lend support to a few of its specialities to a modest extent, buyers here held aloof, and Paris remained indifferent. Consequently movements on balance were irregular in character and insignificant in extent. Business in the Rhodesian department was reduced to very small proportions. Chartered finished lower on the day, and Tanks were dullish, while the Gold shares were hardly mentioned. Contrary to expectations, the price of Tin slumped rather heavily, closing £2 15s. down at £133 12s. 6d. per ton. There was a tendency to offer Tin shares, and, as few willing buyers were about, prices receded. Copper shares were easier for choice. In the Miscellaneous section, Burmas were better, but Tigon fell away. Closing prices:—

THE MONEY MARKET.

Conditions continued easy in Lombard street, and loans over the night were done at 1½ to 1¾ per cent. Old money was renewed at the same rate, while weekly fixtures went on at 2 per cent. There was a good demand for bills in the Discount market owing to the abundance of money seeking employment. October Treasuries were taken at 2 1/16 per cent., and Novembers at 2 3/16 per cent., while the "hot" bills were changing hands around 2 1/16. Fine three months bank paper was not better than 2 3/16 per cent., with business reported at a lower figure.

There was a general fall in the value of sterling in terms of the principal currencies in the Foreign Exchange Market yesterday. The New York rate closed at the lowest at a little over 4.87, as compared with Saturday's finish of 4.87 3/16. Canadian dollars appreciated to 1/16c. to 4.86 3/16. The feature of the European group was provided by the fall in the franc rate, which closed at 123.77½, as against the previous close of 123.82. Swiss francs also appreciated. In the South American section, Argentine dollars were fractionally dearer.

CABLES AND WIRELESS.

TRAFFIC RECEIPTS.

The estimated traffic receipts of Imperial and International Communications, Ltd., for July were £437,220, compared with £514,994 for July, 1929. Aggregate receipts for seven months were £3,244,943, against £3,623,143. The following are the totals for seven months:—

	1930.	1929.	Decrease.
Jan.	519,485	566,062	46,577	8.1
Feb.	460,052	501,319	41,267	8.2
	3,244,943	3,623,143	378,200	10.5

The statement now presented of the receipts for each of the months gives revised figures, as previously it was not found possible to include comparisons of the West Indian receipts, which have now become available, and will be included in future returns. In the annual report of Imperial and International Communications on the basis of figures then available it was anticipated that the current year's gross receipts would show a decline of £718,367, but taking into account economies that had been put into effect it was calculated that the profit for the year 1930 would not exceed £500,000, unless conditions improved considerably.

NOTES FROM THE "ZOO."

BADGERS AND FOXES.

WANTED—AN OTTER.

(From Our Zoological Correspondent.)

Between the continued bad weather and a further clearing away of a number of visitors from Dublin, the attendance at the "Zoo" during the past week did not exceed 5,977. Compared with the corresponding week last year, when only 3,105 people entered the Gardens, this might be regarded as satisfactory; but the small attendance in 1929 is easily explained by the fact that the Dublin tram strike was then at its height. With respectable weather conditions, a large number should certainly have passed the gate during the week just gone by.

NEW ARRIVALS.

For the coming week there is, at any rate, the attraction of some new arrivals; for in the Monkey House have been lodged a company of four Javan macaques—decidedly handsome animals, at present rather too much struck with the strangeness of their surroundings to respond very readily to advances of friendship on the part of human visitors, but clannishly profuse in their professions of attachment to one another. Some little green monkeys that have come over with them are already as destitute of shyness as any of the oldest inhabitants; but in the matter of looks they are hopelessly inferior to the macaques.

BADGERS.

Other recent additions to the collection include a number of badgers; three have reached the Gardens within the past fortnight. These animals—not long ago considered rather rare—have of late years so greatly increased all over Ireland that, were it not for their strictly nocturnal habits, they would probably now be thought too common to be worth looking at in a "zoo." Yet it is certain that only a very small minority of the visiting public have, in point of fact, ever seen "Brock" in the fields, or could claim more than the most meagre acquaintance with either his habits or his looks. Even in the "Zoo" one must take one's chance of getting a satisfactory peep at him. This distaste for daylight frequently keeps him, as it does the owls, in corners where he does not show to advantage. Badgers, however, even in the wild state, sometimes exhibit themselves by day, and with a little patient care they may, in confinement, become most engaging pets. It is rather remarkable that their great increase in numbers within the past twenty years has been followed by a very large increase in the number of foxes in many parts of the country. This fact, for which abundant evidence is forthcoming, goes far to support the view maintained by Mr. Mortimer Batten and other zoologists that badgers promote the spread of the fox by providing Madame Reynard with suitable earths in new localities.

AN OTTER PROBLEM.

It seems a curious circumstance that, with both badgers and foxes so evidently on the increase, the "Zoo" has been for some time at present in want of an otter—an animal for whom excellent accommodation exists, and whose graceful movements in the water are always delightful to watch. No one has put forward a theory that otters are becoming scarcer than used to be the case; yet, if one looks back twenty years into the "Zoo's" records of animals in stock, one finds that in 1911, without any special effort to obtain them, the collection contained simultaneously five otters, presents from five different donors in different parts of Ireland (the immediate neighbourhood of Dublin not excluded). Why has the list now been blank for as many as fifteen years?

A FURTIVE ANIMAL.

The otter is, indeed, a furtive animal—credited by some authorities with never sleeping two consecutive days in the same retreat, though he certainly often hunts the same piece of water for several consecutive moonlight nights. Quite recently, to the writer's knowledge, considerable alarm was caused by the appearance of one of these animals in a pool in the neighbourhood of Kimmage, along whose banks it was for some time afterwards thought wise to forbid children from roaming. With a few otters on easy show in the "Zoo," there would soon be less of this liability to "nerve attack" at the sight of so beautiful and harmless an animal in one of his chosen haunts. Surely the bare fact of an otter being wanted has only to be known to ensure a ready response.

EAGLES AND VULTURES.

The Gardens are at present particularly rich in eagles and vultures of many kinds, to whose presence it is the more necessary to invite attention as they are chiefly lodged in the remote corner beyond the Elephant House and the Seal Pond, and, perhaps, on that account are less frequently visited than the showy row of enclosures immediately beyond the Reptile House, where we find ourselves faced with the brilliant Kavirondo crowned cranes, the Brahminy kite, a healthy set of peregrines, and the two beautiful snowy owls. These, of course, cannot be overlooked; but the cages further on contain several of the most recent and rarest acquisitions and will well repay inspection.

DAMAGE BY WASPS.

It should be added that no difficulty can now present itself in the reading of the labels that tell the names of any of these fine birds and the countries they inhabit. The damage caused by the wasps (as noticed last week) has now been fully repaired by the substitution of new labels for the defaced ones. The wasps, however, continue their industrious work on the poster with the lion's head at the gateway. So strictly do they confine themselves to the light-coloured part that the lines of the lion's whiskers can be distinctly traced against the dark background—the background spared and the whisker rasped away. The wasps are of a kind that build underground nests; otherwise the weather of the past week would probably have gone far towards spoiling, if not destroying, their handiwork.

AN IRISHMAN'S DIARY.

The Royal Yacht Squadron : Children's Competitions : Slow-Worms. According to Cocker : George Farquhar : The Tangler. Semi-"Bull" : Twin Towns.

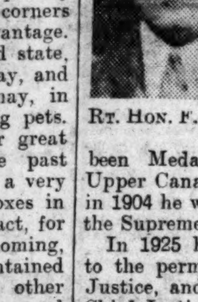

Twin Towns.

The idea of twin towns is an unfamiliar one to the Irish midlander, and when he passes through Ballybofey and immediately finds himself in Stranorlar, he has very little time to get over his surprise before he sees Lifford and Strabane one on either side of a bridge. When one thinks of the rivalry that exists between any two Midland towns a few miles distant from each other, one can imagine the jealousy that well might arise between two towns that are in such close proximity as these.

A few days ago a visitor from the Midlands walked boldly across the bridge from Lifford and entered Northern Ireland, past two Customs stations. Having crossed the river, she found herself in the land of Royal Ulster Constabulary in their sombre garb, of English stamps, and of extraordinarily cheap footwear as displayed in a shop window. Strabane is a beautifully situated town to which, one must admit, distance lends a good deal of enchantment; for the town itself is ugly apart from its background of hill and river. On her short way back to Lifford, the Free State visitor was interested to watch the country carts being searched, and to notice that the horses stopped of their own accord, though there was no barrier on the road. Pedestrians like herself were completely ignored.

Canada's Irish Chief Justice.

The Right Hon. Francis Alexander Anglin, K.C., the Chief Justice of Canada, who is at present in London on holiday, has very close Irish associations.

Rt. Hon. F. Anglin.

He is the son of the late Hon. T. W. Anglin (the grandson of an Irish emigrant), who was born at Clonakilty, and became Speaker of the Canadian House of Commons.

Lord Justice Anglin was born at St. John's, New Brunswick, sixty-three years ago, and was called to the Bar about forty years ago, after having been Medallist of the Law Society of Upper Canada. He took silk in 1902, and in 1904 he was appointed a Lord Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada.

In 1925 he was nominated for election to the permanent International Court of Justice, and in the following year became Chief Justice of Canada. A few years ago the Pope created him a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Gregory.

When on this side of the Atlantic Mr. Anglin usually visits Clonakilty. During his visit to London two years ago he was entertained at dinner by the late Mr. T. P. O'Connor.

Slow-Worms and Slugs.

Most books on gardening tell us that the slow-worm, a legless lizard, feeds exclusively on slugs, and I often meet them during gardening operations. However, I came across one of them in action a few days ago. I noticed a large yellow slug humped in a peculiar manner, and turned him over to find a young and lusty slow-worm securely attached to its back and feeding away vigorously. The slug seemed incapable of motion. Persons ignorant of the slow-worm's value often clear him out of greenhouses and flower borders, but he is easily distinguished by his sleek, grey, ringed coat, and, save for that and a flatter body, is like an ordinary earth worm. I also found members of the common lizard family under warm stones in the rockery. These interesting little fellows earn our gratitude by living on the insect pests that ruin our borders, and are just as valuable to the gardener as their cousin the slow-worm. In the South the peasantry regarded them with superstition, and considered it most unlucky to meet an "Arthaluachra," which they did frequently among young grass and clover. Indeed, the story goes of a man who once swallowed one, which insisted on taking up permanent lodgings in his interior.

The Tangler.

I met a curious character in a Southern provincial town the other day (writes a correspondent). He is known locally as "the tangler." He "spots" likely-looking horses for horse-dealers, and he has an intimate knowledge of the tricks of the trade. In this capacity he is of great service to his clients; for he prevents unscrupulous owners from selling broken-winded nags, or "blowers," to unsuspecting purchasers. He receives commission and generous refreshment from the horse-dealers. "Tanglers" have frequently been the means of discovering splendid hunters, and it is their great ambition to find a future winner for the Grand National.

Farquhar.

George Farquhar, the Derryman, whose "Beaux' Stratagem" is now delighting Dublin play-goers at the Gate Theatre, was a son of the manse. His father held a small living in the North, and it was his rather premature death that forced the future comic dramatist to give up his studies at Trinity College and take to the stage at the famous old theatre in Smock Alley, the site of the Roman Catholic church of St. Michael and St. John. It was the celebrated actor, Bob Wilks, who recommended Farquhar to the Smock Alley management. Strangely enough, Farquhar's first appearance on the stage was in the part of "Othello" in 1695, and then he got a permanent engagement at £1 a week. He was playing "Guyomar" in Dryden's "Indian Emperor" two years later, when he accidentally wounded "Vasquez" so badly in a stage duel that he gave up acting as a career. It was Wilks again who persuaded him to take up writing, and who helped him to get his commission in Lord Orrery's regiment. His first comedy, "Love in a Bottle," was successful at Drury Lane in 1698, and was followed by a new play nearly every year until his death in 1707. In 1700 his "Constant Couple" played for fifty-three nights in London and twenty-three in Dublin—long runs for those days. Love itself played him rather a shabby trick. The women whom he married had represented herself as a person of wealth, but after the marriage confessed her poverty. Farquhar never complained of the deception, although his short life was a constant struggle against adversity. In 1704 he paid a visit to Dublin again, and, failing in a subscription for his works, got permission from the Duke of Ormond, then Lord Lieutenant, for a benefit performance of another play of his, "Sir Harry Wildair," and he made £100 by the production. As patrons of the Gate Theatre have seen for themselves, Farquhar's were not the classic models, and he followed Shakespeare, Jonson and Fletcher rather than the ancients.

The Carrick Earldom.

The Earldom of Carrick, which will in due course fall to Viscount Ikerrin, whose marriage to Mrs. Marion Edwards, of Philadelphia, has taken place at Doylestown (U.S.A.), has for several generations been held by members of the Butler family, who have an ancestry common with that of the Ormonde family.

Edmund Botiller, from whom the Butler family trace their descent, sat in Parliament in the early years of the fourteenth century as the holder of a barony, and for his services against the Scots he was raised by Edward the Second to the Earldom of Carrick.

It was his lineal descendant, Sir Pierce Butler, who in 1629 became the first Viscount, and since then successive Butlers have held the title, several of them with distinction. The third Viscount was an officer in the Army of King James, the sixth Viscount was in Holy Orders, and was Chaplain-General to the Army in Flanders, under the command of the Duke of Ormonde.

Disguised as a Labourer.

The present Earl of Carrick, who succeeded to the title on the death of his father in 1909, also holds the subsidiary titles of Baron Butler, of Mount Juliet, in County Kilkenny, which dates from 1607, and Viscount Ikerrin, his heir taking the latter as a courtesy title.

The Earl is deeply interested in Irish agriculture, and it is recorded that once, disguised as a labourer, he set out to trace "suspected" butter which was being sold in the North of England as "Irish" butter. He was Comptroller of the Household of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland from 1913 to 1915.

Semi-"Bull."

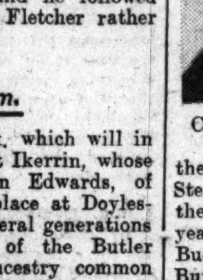

Standing the other day in the market square of Lurgan I overheard a curious expression which at first seemed to me to be very nearly a "bull," but which upon investigation resolved itself into a usage of words unfamiliar, but very logical. An old farmer was approached by a second person, whom he was unable for the moment to place. After exchanging a handshake, said the farmer to the other: "Where do I forget that I saw you?" By a curious coincidence upon my return home I happened to be turning the pages of Euripides's play, the "Heracleidai," when, to my astonishment, I noticed that old Iolaus makes use of that identical formula when the squire of Hyllus breaks in upon his moody brooding over the death by sacrificial murder of Hercules's daughter, Makaria. Here, then, is yet another of those strange-seeming modes of locution that are shared by the commonalty of our island and the classic artists of Hellas.

Children's Competitions.

The children who make holiday at a delightful little place on the Donegal coast are ardent golfers. It is quite a rare thing to see them dig in the firm, golden sand; far more often one may meet them, mashie in hand, trudging along the fairway. When one watches a boy or girl of eleven or twelve drive off with an easy swing that is the envy of older golfers, one realises that this really is the age at which to form one's style, and to learn the game. The complete absence of self-consciousness is a tremendous asset, and the children who competed in a competition there recently were quite undisturbed by the large "gallery" that followed them about. When the game was over there was a delightful lack of pretence about them. The score cards were handed in, and those adults who were responsible for the somewhat intricate scale of handicap retired to the pavilion, where they were closely watched by the interested competitors, who scorned the locked door and crowded about the windows, where they audibly discussed their chances. The prize-giving was a pleasant function; for there was a prize for everyone, even for the tiny girl who had done three holes in ninety-three.

John Buchan.

Colonel John Buchan, M.P. for the Scottish Universities, who was 55 yesterday, has contrived to pack more than an average share of work and adventure into his span of life. At Oxford he won the Colonel Buchan.

Newdigate Prize and was President of the Union, and, after quitting the University, was initiated into the affairs of Empire as secretary to Lord Milner when High Commissioner for South Africa. He "commenced authorship" at the age of sixteen, and, in addition to historical and political studies and one of the biggest and best histories of the war, has given us a long list of Stevensonian romances which fully deserve their immense popularity. After some years of active service in France, Colonel Buchan was head of the Intelligence Bureau of the Foreign Office, and nowadays combines novel-writing and parliamentary duties with the management of a famous publishing business.

The Royal Yacht Squadron.

The ill-fated yacht, Islander, in which Commodore King and his companions so tragically lost their lives, was attached to the most exclusive sailing club in the world—the Royal Yacht Squadron. Originally named the Yacht Club, it was established by fifty yacht-owners at Cowes Point, in 1812, and from its inception maintained an exclusive and distinguished roll of membership, in which Royalty was invariably included. Admission is by ballot vote of the members, and heredity, rather than wealth, is the door through which admission is gained. Not even the influence of a Royal sponsor will overcome the prejudice against the tradesman and the contractor, which is the very essence of this venerable institution. One of the world's most famous yachtsmen, Sir Thomas Lipton, who spent over £800,000 in a vain attempt to win the most coveted trophy of yachting, is numbered amongst the unsuccessful aspirants to membership; although proposed to the Club by the late King Edward, he was blackballed by the devoted members. He is a member of fifteen Royal Yacht Clubs, but the Squadron is not one of them. In 1827 the Club passed a resolution disqualifying any member who should apply steam to his yacht, and it was only after an unusually acrimonious controversy, lasting for years, that the resolution was rescinded. The first Royal Cup was presented to the Club in 1834 by William IV.

According to Cocker.

How often have we heard this familiar phrase, "According to Cocker," popularised by Murphy in his farce called "The Apprentice," in which the strong point of the principal character is his extreme regard for Cocker. By this well-known saying is generally understood a reference to the posthumous "Arithmetik" of the celebrated calligrapher, Edward Cocker, "late Practitioner in the Arts of Writing, Arithmetik and Engraving." This expression is supposed to indicate that a transaction has been concluded with the rigorous exactitude enjoined by the rules of "that incomparable art," as laid down in a treatise, the popularity of which was such that during the hundred years that followed its first appearance (1678) there appeared from the presses of town and country almost as many editions.

QUIDNUNC.

FIRST SHOT IN THE WAR

FIRED BY IRISH REGIMENT.

From a Correspondent.

At dawn on the morning of the 22nd August, 1914, the first shot of the British Army in the Great War was fired in a cavalry skirmish near the village of Casteau, on the Mons-Soignies road.

Shots had been fired previously on the water by Australian gunners at a German steamer attempting to escape from Sydney Harbour immediately that war was declared, and shots were fired when H.M.S. Birmingham rammed and sank the U 15 in the North Sea, off Kinnaird Head, in the early hours of the 9th August. The opening shot came about in this manner.

Between the 16th and 19th August the British Expeditionary Force, numbering 85,000 of all ranks and arms, under the command of Sir John D. P. French, was shipped to French ports without the loss of a single man, and went into rest camps till the 21st, when the forced march on Mons was begun, most of the troops getting to their objective, or its vicinity, by the evening of the 23rd, though some did not get in till midnight, and had then to begin trench digging.

FEELING FOR THE ENEMY.

As "the eyes and ears of the Army," the Royal Flying Corps had not expanded then. The cavalry divisions moved ahead or on the flanks. It fell to the lot of the Second Cavalry Brigade, composed of the 4th Royal Irish Dragoon Guards, 9th Queen's Royal Lancers, 18th Queen Mary's Hussars, and the 2nd Signal Troops under the command of Major-General H. de B. De Lisle, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., to cross the Mons-Condé Canal, pass through Mons northwards, and "feel" for the enemy.

Late in the afternoon of the 21st patrols of the 4th Royal Irish Dragoon Guards and 9th Lancers sighted cavalry patrols of the enemy hovering about the canal bridges to the east of Mons, but did not come within rifle range of them. The night of the 21st the 4th Royal Irish lay in the village of Obourg. At dawn on the morning of the 22nd the 4th sent out "C" Squadron to reconnoitre northwards on the Soignies road. It was not the first time that the 4th was on active service in France; for, when known at "Godfrey's Horse," from the name of its Colonel, it served in the battles of Landen and Steenkirk, under the eye of William the Third.

The quaint little village of Casteau—about six miles north-east of Mons and midway between that town and Soignies—was reached, and here the squadron went into cover, information having been received from some of the fleeing peasantry to the effect that German cavalry were about—the dreaded Uhlans, whose very name struck terror into the Belgians' hearts.

GERMAN TROOPS IN SIGHT.

Scouts were thrown out on the road northwards, and a few minutes later they reported that enemy cavalry patrols were in sight. The scouts were signalled to retire slowly, so as to draw on the enemy. Two troops of "C" Squadron dismounted and melted into the cover of hedgerow, ditch and undergrowth, and other cover, flanking the road, the horses being brought further back by the "Number Threes"; the other two troops drew their swords and prepared to pursue, if necessary. Six German troopers came down the road, followed by others, carefully scanning every bit of the road.

The concealed British lay in dead silence—only broken by champing bits, ring of hoof, tinkle of accoutrements or the "scringe" of saddle leather or stirrup. On came the Germans—till within 400 yards of the ambush. Scenting danger they halted, conversed for a minute, and then wheeled to the right about.

At that instant, Corporal Thomas, of the "C" Squadron, fired his carbine—the first shot of the British Army in the Great War—and the dismounted troopers burst into musketry. Captain Hornby—a senior captain of the 4th—asked for and obtained permission to attempt the capture of the Germans.

THE CHARGE.

"Trot," came the order, and then "Charge," as the horses got into their stride, and like a whirlwind the troopers swept down the road, overtook the Germans, swords flashed and fell, four Germans went down and the remainder were ridden down and taken prisoners. The Germans belonged to the 4th Cuirassiers—the same regimental number as the victors'. The two troops went on far enough to draw the fire of the main body of the enemy, and, having attained their object, withdrew in good order to their squadron.

To the 4th Royal Irish Dragoon Guards—afterwards amalgamated with the 7th Dragoon Guards and renamed the 4th/7th Dragoon Guards—belongs the distinction of having fired the first shot; making the first charge, sabreing the first enemy, and taking the first prisoners.

The regiment is at present stationed at Shorncliffe, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel E. M. Dorman, D.S.O., M.C. It arrived home last year, and among those who met to welcome it was ex-Corporal Thomas.

BELFAST, Monday.

The result of the Ulster Tourist road race is now history, and already, presumably, the sales of Alfa-Romeo cars are beginning to jump up. For a team of three cars in the one class to secure the first three places is a notable event in the annals of racing. Yet Nuvolari, Campari and Varzi were in winning mood from the start.

THE CARACCIOLA "AFFAIR."

The disqualification from the race of Rudolf Caracciola, the German "crack," is still being discussed in official circles. Of course, the Royal Automobile Club officials had no option but to disqualify the Mercedes if the car did not come within the regulations. Their complaint was that Caracciola's car was fitted with a supercharger larger than those of the other Mercedes. But the Germans have given a plausible answer to the complaint—namely, that the supercharger is larger, but that it is of standard size, since the car in question is a 1930 model, while the others of the team are 1929 makes. If the Germans are correct in their claims, trouble may arise, as the Mercedes people say that it is probable that the matter will be laid before the International Committee which controls automobile racing.

As matters stand, both sides seem to be in the right, but the point is: did the Germans explain at the time to the scrutineers that the large supercharger was of standard size on the latest model, or did they wait until it was too late for the car to race before making their assertion? If they told the scrutineers when the examination was made, then it was the duty of the R.A.C. to allow the car to race, and then hold an inquiry into its eligibility.

It is to be hoped that the affair will end amicably, and that Caracciola and his friends will again compete in the British race.

SIR HERBERT AUSTIN'S VIEWS.

Sir Herbert Austin, who was in Belfast to witness the road race, has given but small encouragement to Viscount Craigavon's invitation to motor manufacturers to start building cars in Northern Ireland. According to him, the great stumbling-block would be the market. No one make of car would satisfy the Ulster people, who would certainly want a variety of vehicles, so that the quantity to be manufactured of one make would have to be very small. Still, Sir Herbert thinks that there would be a possibility of a parts assembly works being established in Northern Ireland if the Ulster Government would assist by giving relief from rates and taxes for some years.

The Ards Circuit seems to be just what the manufacturers wish for as a test for their cars, and the chances of the venue of the road race being changed now appear to be remote. In a few hours it gives information regarding the qualities of the engine, the springing, steering and suspension of a car, which under ordinary circumstances would take a year to discover. The safety of the Ulster course, too, is a big factor in its favour; so the people of Ulster can look forward with a fair amount of confidence to witnessing another thrilling contest next year.

THE NEW ART GALLERY.

The report, just issued, dealing with the new Art Gallery and Museum, Belfast, is an interesting one. Up to July 20th some 23,000 visitors had been registered, and it has been noticed that many parties of school children, conducted by a teacher, have from time to time inspected the galleries. This is what the Libraries, Museums and Art Committee desire, and frequently talks are given to the children by members of the staff. Students from the School of Art and from Victoria College for art studies attend the Museum regularly for systematic study, and every facility is offered to them in their work.

The art collection is greatly enhanced by the beautiful paintings presented by Sir John Lavery, who is a native of Belfast, and his thirty-four gifts, forming a collection dating from 1884, illustrate the versatility of this great artist. The section alotted to modern art, to form the Sir R. Lloyd Patterson collection, has made considerable progress. It is being compiled with the assistance of the Contemporary Art Society from the bequest of Sir Robert Lloyd Patterson, and shows promise of being one of the principal features of the museum. Other pictures presented to the museum include an oil painting of the late Major-General Sir O. S. W. Nugent, K.C.B., D.S.O., by William Conor, from his brother officers; an oil painting by Humbert Craig, R.H.A., entitled "The Kerry Coast," presented by the artist; and a painting in oils of Sir Robert Baird, D.L., by T. Eyre Macklin, from Major William Baird, J.P.

"DRY" EXTREMISTS.

The old question of prohibition is again rife, and the supporters of both sides are attacking one another through the medium of the Press. The policy pursued by the prohibitionists has grown so intolerant of late that even staunch advocates of temperance are beginning to turn against them. The Rev. R. M. L. Waugh has just come under the lash of a teetotaller's tongue. Mr. Waugh is what the teetotaller calls a "fanatical prohibitionist," and is accused of dragging through the mud the temperance cause. The non-tolerant attitude of the "drys" to drink in any form is doing their cause more harm than good, and the temperance reformers will have to insist on prohibition being discarded from their programme if they hope to keep their party alive in Ulster.

STAGE AND SCREEN IN DUBLIN.

Musical Comedy "Try-out" at the Gaiety : Mr. Dudley Digges Appears at the Abbey : Harmony, Humour and Thrills at the Royal : Opera and Burlesque in Olympia Entertainment.

THE GAIETY THEATRE.

"OPEN YOUR EYES."

The new musical comedy which was presented at the Gaiety Theatre last night under the title of "Open Your Eyes," has a good framework, and is lively entertainment. As musical comedies go, the story is improbable enough to meet requirements that introduce such elements as a crook posing as a detective, and a real live detective posing as a count. Last night one felt that the utmost was not being made of the possibilities of fun-making which this comedy provides in plenty. It may have been the first night atmosphere, but there was a tendency to make the whole thing too serious and straight. There were moments in the first act when it seemed as if the fun were about to start, but all too soon there was a reversion to the serious. The audience were all too willing to help, and their applause was quick and unrestrained for the good points. So it was that when in the second act there was a clever bit of burlesque work between Veronica Brady and Herbert Mundin, the audience were reluctant to let the pair go off the stage. Later, the fun-making proclivities of Herbert Mundin as a member of a male quartette were one of the best things of the show.

Musically the show is typical of the modern musical comedy—light, frothy tunes that momentarily catch the ear, and are as quickly forgotten. All the principals, as well as the chorus, are dancers, while speciality dances were performed by the Jade Sisters—one of which was very frigidly received, and might be cut out—Roma Beaumont, Tony Smythe, Joan Gardner and others.

Of the principals, the outstanding were Veronica Brady, who had not nearly enough to do; Nancie Lovat, as the Countess, who sang and acted with nice restraint and charm; Stephanie Stephens, as the maid, a clever artiste; Billy Leonard, as the crook; and Herbert Mundin, as the detective inspector—the biggest success of the performance.

The show is very well staged and dressed, and has a peculiar variety and charm of its own.

THE ABBEY THEATRE.

"THE HOUR GLASS."

"The Hour Glass" is at the same time Mr. W. B. Yeats' best dramatic work and one of the most popular plays of the Abbey Theatre. Since its first production, in 1903, it has undergone many changes, but, except for the ending, it remains substantially the same.

"I wrote in prose," Mr. Yeats has said, "because it was so much easier than verse." His prose plays have always been the more popular, as they are the more dramatic. "A morality" is how Mr. Yeats describes "The Hour Glass," and, while its moral lesson is plain enough, its symbolism may pass unnoticed. The rationalist may deny the existence of the immaterial only at the cost of beauty; fools may enjoy that which wise men deny. Here the rationalistic wise man is saved by his own humility, but when that humility is dictated by imminent death its force is weakened. This wise man welcomes the will of God, "though that be my damnation."

It has been said that "The Hour Glass" once kept an actor to his religious observances for six weeks; last night's revival might have extended the period. For the first time the creator of the character, Mr. Dudley Digges, appeared on the Abbey Theatre stage as the Wise Man, giving an interpretation that thrilled a packed house. He appeared to be somewhat nervous during the opening scenes, but he rapidly mastered himself and rose to a climax of great power. His prostration before the angel was unconvincing, but from that point he was master of himself, the play and the audience. Looking like a Mandarin, and with a statuesque repose that deepened the impression of a Chinese, Mr. Digges put most of the action into his face and voice. He has a voice of great power, which he varied to meet the dramatic needs, so that Mr. Yeats's prose charmed like verse well-spoken.

He was excellently served by the company. Mr. Michael J. Dolan's Fool is one of his best parts, and Miss Eileen Crowe made an ideal Angel. In Miss May Craig the Wise Man had a very practical forthright wife, who played her part to perfection. The pupils were Messrs. Arthur Shields, Denis O'Dea, Fred Johnson and N. Wright; and the children, Raymond and Edna Fardy, the children of Miss May Craig.

"The Hour Glass" was followed by the ever-popular "The Eloquent Dempsy," with Mr. Peter Nolan as the chameleon-like Jeremiah. Others in an excellent performance were Misses Maureen Delany and Eileen Crowe, Messrs. Michael J. Dolan, F. J. McCormick, P. J. Carolan and Arthur Shields.

"The Hour Glass," with Mr. Dudley Digges, and "The Eloquent Dempsy" will be the programme for the week.

THE THEATRE ROYAL.

EXCELLENT VAUDEVILLE SHOW.

The Theatre Royal attracted large audiences last night when Nervo and Knox presented a novel vaudeville road show, "The Blue Bloods of Variety." The bill was headed by Jimmy Nervo and Teddy Knox, a pair of comedians who kept the audience in roars of laughter throughout numerous turns, which included "Making a Talkie" and "Rose in Bloom." They also contributed "The Conjuror's Nightmare," in which they were ably assisted by Billy Beryl, Jack Murray, Jottie Stunt and Ivy Page. Beryl Beresford was an excellent comedienne, and introduced several excellent humorous songs. She was frequently encored. Mr. Leslie Hinton accompanied her on the piano. Eddie Gray was a skilful and entertaining clubman; while Andy and Irving were efficient gymnasts and pleasing comedians. The four Brownie Boys contributed much to the enjoyment of the programme in music, harmony, humour and eccentric dancing.

An exciting and somewhat risky performance on motor cycles was given by the Tom Davis Trio. A "track" was erected, on which one of them rode a motor cycle at great speed. Then a passenger was taken on the pillion, and finally two motor cyclists raced around the track at a terrific speed. The feat gained prolonged applause. Speciality dancing by Audrey and Waters, and other numbers, filled a programme which was exceedingly bright from start to finish, and which gave obvious pleasure to the patrons.

THE OLYMPIA THEATRE.

MIRTH AND MELODY.

A first-rate entertainment is provided this week at the Olympia Theatre, where T. C. Reddin presents "Capitolians in Melodyland." All tastes were catered for in the programme submitted last night, and the items ranged from excerpts from opera to comedy. Particularly clever were the cameos from "Faust" and "Il Trovatore," in which parts were taken by Harry O'Dempsey, Kathleen McCully and J. C. Browner.

Mr. Walter McNally, however, proved the big attraction for the audience, his choice of songs giving him plenty of scope for his dramatic qualities. The selection included "Danny Boy," "The Flower Dance," and "La Reve Passe." In the latter he was assisted by Mr. Charles Harvey and his Capitolians.

The lighter side of the programme included songs and dancing by the Capitol Girls. Hogan and Haig were amusing in their cross-talk. Billy Coomber added to the entertainment with a number of songs, including "Miranda" and "Singing my Way Round the World." Miss Gertrude Mortimer gave a good rendering of "The Old Rustic Bridge by the Mill."

Mr. Charles Harvey and the Capitolians concluded the programme with a presentation, introducing "In a Japanese Garden."

ORGAN RECITAL IN DUBLIN.

Mr. Francis C. J. Swanton, F.R.C.O., gave an organ recital in St. Bartholomew's Church, Clyde road, Dublin, last night. The Intermezzo and Toccata from Second Symphony in C Sharp, by Marcel Dupré, were played for the first time in Ireland. The programme also included:—Organ Concerto in D minor (three movements) (Handel), Passacaglia and Fugue in C Minor (Bach), Choral Prelude "Rejoice Ye Christian Men" (Bach), Prelude on a Hymn of the Ancient Irish Church (Swanton), Fugue in C Minor (transcribed by M. Dupré) (Mozart), "Angel's Farewell" ("Dream of Gerontius") (Elgar), and Coronation March (Meyerbeer).

WELL-KNOWN FILM ACTOR IN DUBLIN.

AUDIENCE INSIDE AND OUTSIDE GRAFTON CINEMA.

A popular reception was given to Mr. Charles King, the film actor, when he appeared at the Grafton Cinema, Dublin, last night, and sang a number of songs from the stage before the presentation on the screen of the talking picture, "Chasing Rainbows," in which he plays the leading part.

Mr. King arrived at Kingstown yesterday evening with his wife and family, and an excellent piece of work was performed by the Gaumont News Company in taking a film of Mr. King's arrival both at Kingstown and at his hotel in Dublin, and in putting it on the screen within two hours.

Mr. King sang some of his "hits" from the films "Broadway Melody," "The Hollywood Revue," and "Chasing Rainbows," and received great applause from a crowded house. Outside the picture house a big crowd of people had collected, and kept calling for Charles King. Finally Mr. King appeared at the balcony window and made a little speech to the crowd. In answer to repeated calls for songs he sang a couple of numbers. The crowd stayed outside during the evening, and a large part of it was still there when he left shortly after midnight.

After the showing of the picture, which was a fine production, an informal reception to welcome Mr. King was held in the restaurant.

Welcoming Mr. King, Mr. P. J. Munford said that Mr. King was the son of Dublin parents who went to the United States and made a success. They had all been charmed that night by the picture in which he had played the leading part.

Replying, Mr. King said that his mother was born at 20 Longford terrace, Monkstown, and his father was a Dublin man. It was his intention to-day to visit Monkstown to see if the house in which his mother was born still survived. He could not express fully his appreciation of the welcome to his native land that had been extended to him. He would like to make special mention of all that Mr. Desmond Murphy, the manager of the theatre, had done for him since he arrived.

At the reception were Mr. and Mrs. E. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, Cork; Mr. and Mrs. A. Neville, Mr. M. Ellis, Mr. L. Ellerman, Mr. Partridge, Mr. Evans and Mr. Flanagan.

SPARE THE ROD.

WOMAN DOCTOR'S VIEWS ON CHILD TRAINING.

"A point of great importance in these days is the absence of happy relationships between mothers and daughters," declared Dr. Alice Hutchinson at the British Social Hygiene Council Summer School at Welwyn, Herefordshire, yesterday. Mothers and sons lived more happily together, sometimes, it was true, to the detriment of the sons. Love of a child for her father did not replace the love she was not receiving from her mother. The boy or girl who arrived at adolescence in a satisfactory frame of mind was the one who had no doubt whatever about being loved.

"It shocks me to hear such phrases as 'If you are not good I shan't love you.'"

Asked what her attitude was towards the slogan, "Spare the rod and spoil the child," Dr. Hutchinson said:—"I started with the conviction that all whipping and slapping of children is thoroughly bad. I still think that seven-eighths of it is bad, because it is done in a temper.

"That is the first drawback. The second is that you instil fear; and the third is that the child probably does not care twopence about it. If you leave the child without any sharp punishment its progress may be very slow, but I am asking myself whether occasional sharp slapping, with a warning beforehand, is not good."

ROTARY CLUBS.

COMING COUNTY DOWN CONFERENCE.

The Belfast Rotary Club yesterday discussed the arrangements for the approaching annual conference of the Rotary International Association of Great Britain and Ireland which is to be held at Newcastle, Co. Down.

It was intimated that in addition to the representation from the Belfast organisation officers and members would be present from the Londonderry, Limerick and Dublin Rotary Clubs.

Past-President George G. Lyttle said that there was every assurance of a successful conference, the arrangements, so far as Belfast is concerned, being well advanced.

Later, the conveners of the respective committies in connection with the conference made reports concerning progress and at the close President Harris Rundle said that they all felt assured that this year's conference would prove the most successful yet in the career of Rotary in Great Britain.

Among leaders of the Rotary movement from cross-Channel centres who are expected at the conference will be:—Mr. Wilfred Andrews, Sittingbourne, Kent, and Mr. W. W. Lair-Fish, editor of the Rotary Wheel.

GLIDING "RECORD" CLAIMED.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

COLOGNE, Monday.

Starting from the Wasserkuppe, in the Rhoengebirge yesterday, Herr Kronfield, the well-known glider pilot, made a glider flight to Marktredwitz, in the Fichtelgebirge, a distance, as the crow flies, of 160 kilometres (almost one hundred miles). It is claimed that this beats his own world "record" by ten kilometres.

NORTHERN IRELAND HERRING FISHERIES.

The Ministry of Commerce for Northern Ireland furnishes the following particulars of the quantity and value of herring landed in Northern Ireland during the week ended 23rd August:—

RHEUMATISM

NEW "DUO-FORMULA" STOPS PAIN AND LOOSENS EVERY JOINT.

TEN DAYS' TREATMENT FREE.

Think of it. In 30 days from now you may be freed of every trace of Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Lumbago, or even Rheumatoid Arthritis. Hundreds of the worst cases have been cured. Why not you?

The Rev. Thos. Coles, The Vicarage, Great Bourton, Banbury, writes: "I wish to thank you for the very great help you have been to my wife. Been very early in the Treatment the effect was very marked, and at the end she was entirely free from pain and able to go anywhere. Mrs. Coles is in her 70th year, so that there is certainly hope for the aged. We recommend you everywhere."

Other remarkable cures are reported every day all over the country. The "Duo-Formula" was discovered by Mr. Arthur Richards, who has since improved it, until no case, however bad, is beyond the power of this wonderful remedy.

Every sufferer can have a ten days' supply FREE OF ALL CHARGE. Send your name and full address to Mr. A. Richards (Dept. 737), 50 Cray's Inn Road, London, W.C.1. Write to-day, as this offer may not be repeated.—(Advt.)

WANTED—A BETTER HUMAN STOCK.

PROBLEM OF THE FEEBLE-MINDED.

ACTS THAT "DID NOT APPLY TO IRELAND."

"Our State has of late legislated for the birds of the air, the animals on the land and the fish in our waters, in response to active public opinion. Are children of less value than they? Are they not, from their very weakness, infinitely the more pitiful and, therefore, in the greater need of the paternal arm of the State being stretched forth to shield them?

"This is a national question, and the truest wisdom and the greatest charity, where national interests are concerned, is to protect by segregation those afflicted creatures, and prevent the continuous burden of illegitimacy being left on the nation by promiscuous licence, thus lowering physically and mentally the general standard of our race."

These remarks were made by Professor John Cooke, M.A., T.C.D., in an address on "Feeble-minded Children," which he delivered at the Dublin Rotary Club luncheon meeting in Clery's Restaurant yesterday.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S WORK.

When Queen Victoria came to the Throne, said Professor Cooke, there was not a single Act of Parliament specially intended to shelter children from the wrongs inflicted upon them in any one way. At the close of her reign she had set her sign manual to about 100 Acts in which children were concerned—a crowning glory to her, both as a mother and a Queen.

"Ireland has shared in all the benefits in this work for children, and here in our own city in the forty years of the activities of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children no fewer than 100,000 children have passed through the hands of its able and devoted officers.

"In all ages God's mentally afflicted creatures have been a difficulty and a burden on both domestic and general social life. Those in whom reason was entirely dethroned have for centuries been put under restraint, too often in days long gone by, a restraint of the most cruel kind. Medical science has made great advances in their case; and, then, care and treatment are now carried on under the best conditions in great institutions specially set up for the purpose. Kindred to these are the feeble-minded, a large and varied class, but for whose treatment no general provision on an adequate scale has yet been made or specially designed for this country.

IRELAND'S NEED.

"Legislation in Great Britain has been busy with them in our own day, as various Acts of Parliament from Westminster show where they have come specially under the Board of Control and the Board of Education. The Royal Commission of 1906 issued a most valuable report on the 'Care and Control of the Feeble-minded,' followed in 1913 by the 'Mental Deficiency Act,' and in 1914 by the 'Defective and Epileptic Children Act,' bringing those classes into the category of persons to whom statutory authorities were required to give special attention.

"Every effort was made by those here who were interested in the mentally deficient to get these measures extended to Ireland, but this was not done, due to that perverse parliamentary action that eased the passage of various measures which 'did not apply to Ireland.'

"That Ireland sorely needed the mercy extended to the afflicted is shown by the estimate made in 1906. There were 25,415 mentally afflicted persons in the country outside of asylums, and 66 per cent. were in immediate need of provision being made for them, as against 44 per cent. in England and 34 per cent. in Scotland. How far these estimates would stand the more rigid and elaborate system of registration now adopted it would be impossible to tell, but they give evidence enough to show how reprehensible was the action that withheld the extension of these measures to the country that seemed to need them most.

"From a few queries made in distant areas just recently, I quote two replies: 'In the past year forty mentally deficient have come under my notice who required dealing with.' Another writes: 'Since last May I have come across sixteen mentally deficient children who required provision to be made for them.' These only go to show the necessity for State investigation—in other words, to find out how many are there in this country.

BRITISH ACTS.

"In ten years the results of the application of these Acts in England were such that in 1924 a Committee was appointed by the English Board of Education and the Board of Control to inquire into the incidence of mental deficiency in England and Wales, or, in simple words, to give answer to the question: 'How many mental defectives are there?' The Committee were all experts, and the chief medical investigator was Dr. E. O. Lewis. Dr. Lewis brought to his task quite exceptional attainments—the ripest educational, medical and official experience—and has produced a report of the highest value.

"The total population of the six areas investigated in England and Wales was over £22,000, and very elaborate tables of statistics show how thoroughly the work was done. It was calculated that of the 10,700,000 children under 16 years of age in Britain, the feeble-minded of all grades would average 148,000. Much has been achieved to make provision for such vast numbers, but the task of giving full accommodation and adequate treatment to the afflicted creatures is very far yet from fulfilment. In comparing the numbers of children in rural and urban areas, it has been found that the incidence of feeble-mindedness falls heavier on the dweller in rural districts than in the cities and towns in the proportion of about two to one; this is an important matter in the case of Ireland, where the rural population is so great in comparison with town dwellers.

STEADY DECLINE.

"If we take the population of Ireland as about one-ninth that of England and Wales and strike that average for the feeble-minded children under 16, we get the serious figures of 15,500 for the whole country. How far this estimate would agree with such a thorough investigation as that made by the Board of Control and Education, one can only guess. That the incidence of feeble-mindedness falls more tenderly and mercifully on Ireland than on the adjacent kingdom I cannot believe. In matters of personal comfort, such as food, dress, and especially housing, our standards are lower with the masses of the people.

"The sad drain of emigration, still serious, takes a heavy toll of vigorous youth of both sexes from our diminishing population, thus lowering the general standard of virility. There is, too, the accumulated effect of long years of much political strife, social agitation and general unrest which the moralist must condemn as a cruel waste of national energy from the more practical pursuits of life. There is also a steady decline of manual labour on the land, and a consequent diminishing cultivation which must affect the general physique. Consanguineous marriages and the monotony and loneliness of life among the scattered population of rural areas—all add to the cause to which is due the birth of such numbers of children yearly who are doomed physically and mentally to be a burden on the community throughout their lives. When we take further into consideration the slum children and the conditions under which they have been born and live the whole aspect of childhood assumes vast dimensions that give it a special significance among the many major problems which civilisation has to deal with.

"For the purposes of official organisation and treatment the mentally deficient are usually divided into three classes. Of these the idiots are the lowest in the scale. The imbeciles are something higher in the scale. The feeble-minded stand above both these, and they can be trained in habits of self-help and to perform work, when they become adults, for payment, but they require watchfulness. There is no dividing line between right and wrong with them, and morally they may prove a real social danger when evil tendencies prevail.

ONLY TWO INSTITUTIONS.

"It is sad to think that in the Free State there are but two institutions for the reception and treatment of feeble-minded children—totally inadequate to the stern necessity of the case. Throughout the country hitherto numbers have been consigned to the workhouses, where the accommodation and treatment must of necessity be inadequate, and when placed in an asylum they become an equal burden on the management. It is plain on the face of it that, for their own sakes, separate accommodation and treatment, public or private, are essential for idiots and imbeciles, and their segregation made complete. The case of the feeble-minded in Ireland is particularly sad, for the gradations in it cannot be finely drawn; so that the treatment and teaching within this class require specialised qualifications in those into whose care they are committed.

"There are no arrangements in the Free State for the separate teaching of these children, and hence the necessary educational treatment they should receive forms no part in the training of the teachers. But in England a third year's course of training is recommended for those purposing to teach in the special schools for the reception of the feeble-minded children.

"The Government of Northern Ireland have adopted the English Education Act to deal with this 'educable' class, and the establishment of a central institution is but a question of time. After-supervision is necessary in the adult stage, and this is given by local workers who devote themselves to social welfare, now well organised across the Channel.

RIGHT OF THE STATE.

"I have already hinted at the moral danger the feeble-minded become to the community. Conscience, which normally governs conduct and draws a strict line between right and wrong, is so feeble or absent altogether that feeble-minded girls become a prey to men of gross passions and fall victims to their lust. Every workhouse has experience of the use made by feeble-minded women in trouble, whose children usually become a charge upon the rates.

"The worst phase of this evil is that of children under sixteen years of age. These the State protects, but the difficulty of proceeding against the delinquents in these revolting cases is very great, and they usually escape. The evidence of the poor victims is valueless and that of a witness invariably not forthcoming. Parents are unwilling to go into court and spread family trouble abroad, while the case sometimes is settled by a money consideration. When cases can be proved the law should show no mercy to the offenders.

"Logically the right of the State to prevent idiots, imbeciles and hopeless degenerates from propagating their species can hardly be questioned, and for their own sake the greatest kindness and the greatest charity is to save themselves from the consequences of their own weakness and the infliction that has fallen upon them."

Mr. George E. Smyth, in proposing a vote of thanks to Professor Cooke, said that the country was at least defective in not having something done to remove that national disgrace. He had seen a return which showed that nearly one per cent. of the population of Great Britain was mentally defective. It seemed strange that they should safeguard the country at its ports while no real attempt was made to prevent the propagation of this species among the mentally deficient. The problem was: How were they to raise a better human stock?

Dr. Fannin seconded the motion.

Mr. F. M Summerfield, Honorary Secretary, in supporting the motion, pointed out that the Rotary Club sometimes was held responsible for the addresses of speakers. There had been a suggestion that day of a matter that was anathema to the majority of the people—namely, limitation of birth. That Club comprised members of various opinions, and he did not want it to go forth that Rotary supported all the views expressed by speakers.

The Chairman, Mr. G. J. Clampett, F.R.G.S., conveyed the thanks of the meeting to Professor Cooke for his contribution on a question of outstanding importance.

Among the visitors were Rotarian Schuman, Fort Worth, Texas, and Rotarian Thomas Stoner, Des Moines, Iowa, U.S.A.

ENGLAND TO TANGIER.

BRITISH PILOT'S ONE-DAY FLIGHT.

BREAKFAST AT HOME: DINNER IN MOROCCO.

CAPTAIN C. D. BARNARD, the well-known British airman, yesterday carried out a on-stop flight from Lympne to Tangier. He had breakfast in England in the morning, and arrived at his destination in time for dinner. He will make the return flight to-day.

THE PILOTS' HOPES.

A TINY MACHINE.

Captain Barnard left Lympne at 6.6 a.m. yesterday, hoping to reach Tangier in the evening, and to begin the return journey to England at dawn to-day.

The machine used for the flight is a Puss Moth, with a 120 hore-power engine, capable of sending the little 'plane at over 100 miles per hour.

The start had been postponed since last Friday on account of unfavourable weather reports. At dawn yesterday, however, news came from France and Spain that, except for a slight head wind, conditions were ideal.

Captain Barnard had breakfast at a Hythe hotel, where he spent the night, and yesterday evening he hoped to sit down to dinner in the international part of Tangier, 1,200 miles from his breakfast table.

THE START.

When he arrived at the aerodrome, which overlooks the channel, dawn had already broken with a glorious Eastern sky. The airman jumped out of his car, and carrying his small attache case, immediately went to his spick and span little monoplane, which was dwarfed in the spacious hangar by two French and Dutch air liners, which were ready to leave for the Continent. He was hatless, and wore light brown plus fours and white shoes.

Half a dozen people saw the departure. Within a few moments the 'plane had disappeared in the misty clouds. Captain Barnard carried with him a flask of coffee, some oranges and sandwiches.

HOME FOR DINNER TO-NIGHT.

He agreed that it was more like going off for a picnic than anything else, when a reporter wished him the best of luck.

"I hope to be back in time for dinner in London to-morrow night," he remarked just before the start, "and I also hope to prove once again the wonderful ability of this British aircraft. I am making the flight under exactly similar conditions to those of the Malta flight the other week.

"My oil and petrol will cost about £9, and what quicker or cheaper kind of travel could you wish for."

The machine took off with a load of 90 gallons of petrol, but the consumption is not likely to be more than two-thirds of that quantity, the engine being capable of 20 miles to the gallon.

ARRIVAL AT TANGIER.

AN UNINTERRUPTED FLIGHT.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

TANGIER, Monday.

Captain C. D. Barnard, the famous long-distance airman, who set out from Lympne at 6 o'clock this morning in a Puss Moth machine on a non-stop solo flight to Tangier, arrived here at 4.30 this afternoon. His flight of 1,200 miles was accomplished without mishap and in excellent flying conditions.

Captain Barnard expects to leave on his return non-stop flight to England at 5 o'clock to-morrow morning.

MRS. BARNARD'S COMMENT.

"He always manages these things somehow," she added with a note of pride in her voice. "He seemed sure before he left, that, given good weather, he would make the journey all right."

It is expected that Captain Barnard will arrive at Croydon on the return flight this evening.

GIRL DROWNED AT CROSSHAVEN.

HOLIDAY BATHING ACCIDENT.

FROM OUR REPORTER.

CORK, Monday.

Miss May Leahy, aged about twenty, of Kilfinane, Co. Limerick, who had been on a holiday to Crosshaven, near Cork, lost her life while bathing this morning.

Along with a sister, Miss Leahy had been staying at Myrtleville with their aunt, Mrs. Conway. The two girls, accompanied by Mrs. O'Mahony, a daughter of Mrs. Conway, went for a swim.

There was a strong south-westerly wind and a heavy sea, and the bathers found themselves in difficulty. Their shouts for assistance were heard, and several people ran to their aid.

Mr. Arthur Powell, barrister-at-law, entered the water and brought the dead girl's sister ashore. Mrs. O'Mahony left the water unaided, but there was no trace of May Leahy.

Her body was washed up on the rocks about half an hour later.

Dr. Arthur Buckley, Dr. Saunders, medical officer for health for Cork City, and Colonel Walker, R.A.M.C., applied artificial respiration, but without success.

An inquest will be held on Wednesday.

ADVERTISING AND PUBLICITY CLUBS.

COUNCIL MEETING FOR DUBLIN.

At the weekly lunch meeting of the Publicity Club of Ireland, held in Jury's Hotel, Dublin, last Thursday, Mr. C. E. McConnell, President, addressing the members regarding the activities of the Club for the coming session, requested the fullest co-operation of all members, so as to make the Council meeting of the Advertising and Publicity Clubs of Great Britain and Ireland, to be held in Dublin next October, a real success. A sub-committee was formed to complete arrangements for the delegates' entertainment during their visit.

It is understood that two delegates from every Club will attend the next meeting, so that nearly every large centre in Great Britain will be represented.

Mr. McConnell stated later that the Publicity Club of Ireland was arranging a comprehensive programme for the present season. Over eighteen new members were elected at the last meeting of the Club.

The Programme Committee has arranged several public meetings on important subjects relating to trade and industry in the Irish Free State. Announcements regarding these will appear later.

VILLAGE SAVED BY COAL DISCOVERY.

Scremerston Colliery and village, near Berwick-on-Tweed, have been saved by the discovery of a new coal seam. Mr. D. E. E. Evans, the manager, in an interview, stated that the colliery directors, after anxious thought, decided to make last efforts to save the colliery and village, and accordingly they issued directions to win new coal. Immediately a pair of drifts were driven by compressed air drills of the latest type, and these drifts, after being continuously worked, reached the seam. Samples of the coal will shortly be put on the market.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE ILLEGITIMATE CHILDREN ACT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—That the Illegitimate Children Act received the assent of the Governor-General on the 17th June is not generally known. Clergymen of all denominations have been much perplexed by inquiries from charitable persons interested in pathetic cases of destitution of mothers of illegitimate children as to when the Act is to come into force, and as to the obligation of the putative father under the Act to contribute to the support or otherwise in respect of such child and for the enforcement of such obligation.

In Section 2 of the Act are contained the provisions of the Act which, in the intention of the Legislature, give the key to the answer to these questions. If the section raises questions of difficulty, one matter is sufficiently clear—namely, that in all cases where it is intended to advance a claim for the relief afforded by the Act, an information should be immediately sworn before the nearest District Justice either by the mother of the illegitimate child or by some authorised officer of the local body administering the relief of the poor then giving relief to the mother of such illegitimate child. If this be not done within three months from the 17th June—the date of the passing of the Act—grave questions of law may, and will, arise on the construction of Section 2 (2) of the Act, which is as follows:—

S. 2. (2) An application for the issue of a summons or other process under this section may be made only—

(a) before the birth of the illegitimate child in respect of whom the application is made, or

(b) within six months after the birth of such child, or

(c) where the alleged father of such child contributed to the maintenance of such child within six months after its birth, at any time after such contribution, or

(d) where the alleged father of such child was not resident in Saorstat Eireann at the date of the birth of such child, at any time within six months after such alleged father first enters Saorstat Eireann after such date, or

(e) where the alleged father of such child was resident in Saorstat Eireann at the date of the birth of such child, but ceased to be so resident within six months after such date, at any time within six months after such alleged father first enters Saorstat Eireann after such cesser, or

(f) where the child is born within six months before the passing of this Act, within three months after the passing of this Act.

A question here immediately arises—is the Act retrospective? Under the provisions of (f)—namely, "where the child is born within six months before the passing of this Act"—the application for issue of the summons must be made within three months after the passing of the Act. Does then this clause (f) qualify clauses (c), (d) and (e)?

The principle of construction of Acts of Parliament on the question whether they are to be read retrospectively or otherwise is well established. It is as follows:—When the Act imposes a civil liability or creates a new criminal offence, then such Act shall not be read to be retroactive unless express provision is made by the Act that it shall so be read. Secondly, when the words of the Act are ambiguous or contradictory, and so open to contention whether or no they shall be read to be retroactive, then the Act must be construed to speak only as from the date of its enactment. A third principle of construction is that the policy of the Act, to be gathered from reading of the whole Act, must be considered in determining doubtful questions of construction. The one thing clear upon the face of the Act is that the information to ground all future proceedings must be forthwith sworn and laid before a District Justice. Thus, and thus only, will all rights of contention be preserved.—Yours, etc.,

THE IRISH GRAND PRIX.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In your issue of the 23rd inst two statements appear:—(1) that Herr Caracciola's car failed to pass the final examination prior to the Irish Grand Prix; (2) that Captain Campbell and Earl Howe, the other drivers of Mercedes cars, refused to run unless Herr Caracciola was permitted to compete and that, in consequence, the Club allowed him to start. Both these statements have no foundation in fact, and I hasten to contradict them.

I would also point out that the second statement appears to reflect on the bona fides of the officials of this Club in carrying out the rules of the competition, and also on the sportsmanship of Captain Campbell and Earl Howe, about which there can be no question.—Yours, etc.,

RAILWAY FREIGHTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Some years ago representatives of a big American combine were in this country for the purpose of running a fleet of heavy lorries for the conveyance of live-stock to and from fairs and markets. The encouragement given at the time was not very good, and the matter dropped. The present big increase in freights puts a different complexion on matters. For instance, if one is sending a ram from Dublin to Castlerea, the charge is 37s. 6d., and the same to Wexford. These charges are fully 300 per cent. higher than pre-war rates, and this in the face of falling prices for every kind of agricultural produce.

I regard these charges as monstrous. We are all aware that the railways are not paying dividends, but this is no reason for exploiting the farmer. The running costs of railways must come down, and the sooner the matter is boldly tackled the better for the country at large.—Yours, etc.,

DEATH OF MR. E. ARNOLD.

WELL-KNOWN THEATRICAL MANAGER.

Mr. Elijah Arnold, whose death occurred at Clacton yesterday, after an accident, in which his wife was killed, through being knocked down by a motor cyclist, was one of the best-known men in London theatrical circles. He had been at the St. James's Theatre for forty years.

Mr. Louis Nethersole, of the St. James's Theatre, said last night:—"He was one of the best-loved and most respected men in the theatrical world. He was the doyen of box office managers, and what he did not know about the theatre was not worth knowing. It was a tragic thing that Mr. Arnold, who had worked hard all his life, should have died only a month after his retirement. The accident happened a week after he had handed in his papers. He was never fully conscious after the accident, and never knew that he had lost his wife. I think that was a fortunate thing, for they were deeply attached to each other, and I do not think one would have wanted to live without the other.

"They celebrated their golden wedding a few years ago. I expect they will be buried together in the family grave at Chiswick old churchyard, where there is a family grave."

WRECK OF PORTUGUESE STEAMER.

PASSENGERS AND CREW SAVED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

LISBON, Monday.

The 4,000-ton steamer Guine, belonging to the Portuguese Colonial Navigation Company, has been wrecked on the Guinea coast. It is stated that the wreck was caused by the ship's running on a sandbank at Areias Brancas, in the channel near Bolama, Port Guinea. Two steamers, the Benguela and the Amboim, arrived in response to the wireless messages, and were able to take off all the passengers and the crew. The vessel is presumed to be lost, but the Colonial Navigation Company believes that the mail bags have been taken on board the other ships. The crew, it is stated, behaved with great courage. When the mishap occurred the ship was on its way back from West Africa to Lisbon.

COVENTRY WOMAN'S DEATH.

EVIDENCE AT INQUEST.

A few hours after she had said to a neighbour: "I shall not live to see morning," Mrs. Mary Williams (67) was found dead in bed at her home in Whitefriars street, Coventry. The evening before her death she had been knocked down by a motor cyclist. She was taken to Coventry Hospital, but was sent home, as she appeared to be suffering only from superficial injuries.

At the inquest at Coventry yesterday it was stated that Mrs. Williams before leaving hospital shook hands with the motor cyclist and said that the mishap was a pure accident.

The doctor stated that the woman's condition was such that it appeared quite safe to send her home by ambulance. She died from heart failure, brought about by hemorrhage and shock.

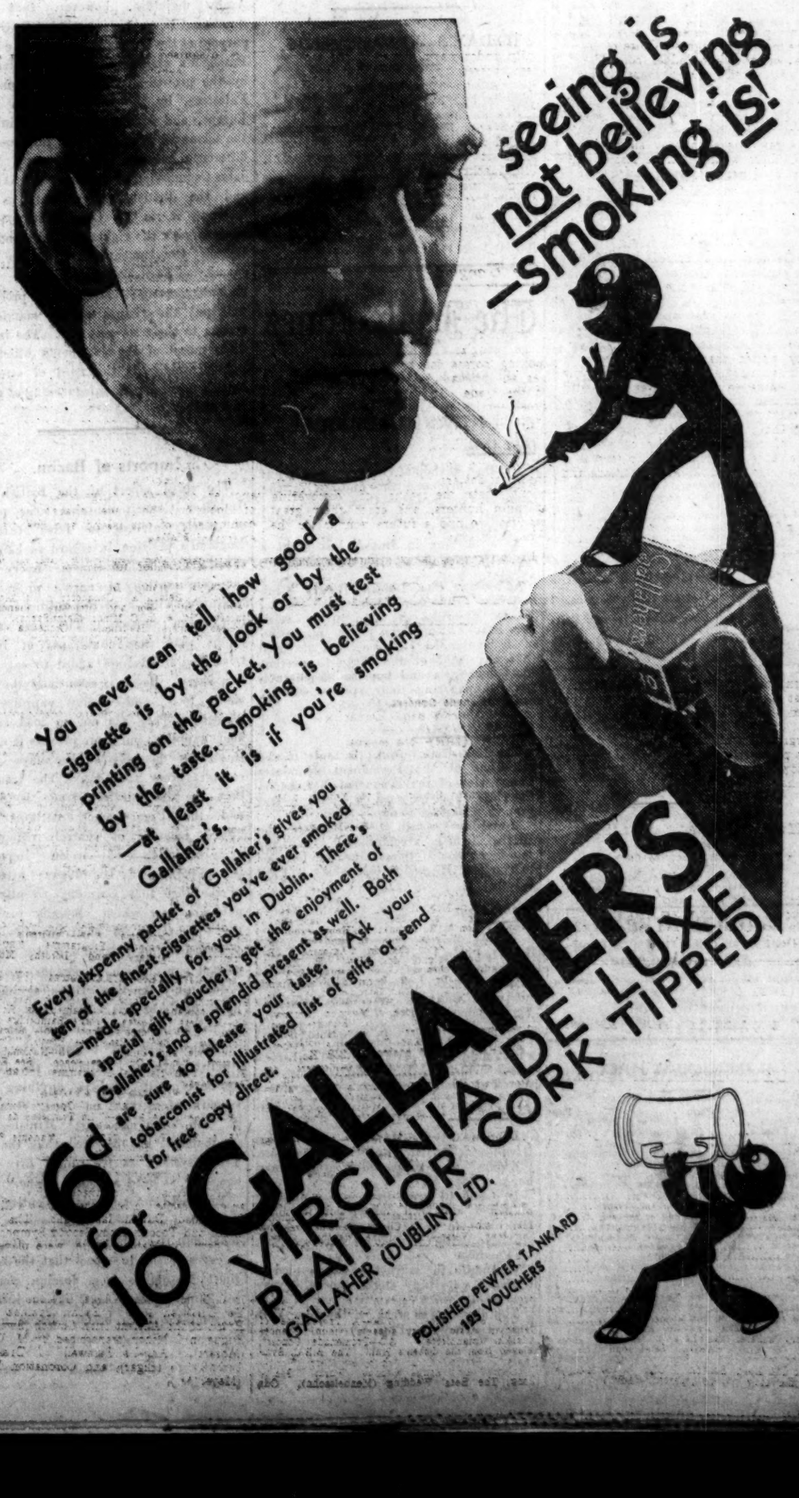

A verdict of "Accidental death" was returned, the motor cyclist being exonerated.

FLEMISH DEMONSTRATIONS.

BRUSSELS, Monday.

Dr. Bosman, Councillor of the South African Legation at The Hague, and another speaker, who intended to deliver an address at the unveiling of a Flemish memorial at Dixmude yesterday, were forbidden to cross the Belgian frontier.

At Ostend yesterday a certain amount of fighting took place between young men at a demonstration arranged as a counterblast to that held at Dixmude. Three persons were injured.

NEWS SUMMARY

IRELAND.

Dr. Day, Bishop of Ossory, preaching at Kilkenny, defended the findings of the Lambeth Conference.—(Page 7.)

Belfast is anxious to have another motor race.—(Page 7.)

Addressing the Dublin Rotary Club yesterday, Professor John Cooke, M.A., T.C.D., discussed the need in the Irish Free State of legislation for the protection of feeble-minded children, and declared that the right of the State to prevent idiots, imbeciles and hopeless degenerates from propagating their species scarcely could be questioned.—(Page 5.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

The British Government's reply to the criticisms of the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations on the riots which occurred in Palestine last year is published to-day.—(Page 7.)

Yesterday Captain C. D. Barnard, the British airman, accomplished a non-stop solo flight in a Moth machine from Lympne to Tangier. He will return to-day.—(Page 5.)

ABROAD.

Two bombs were thrown at Sir Charles Tegart, Police Commissioner, in the streets of Calcutta yesterday. Sir Charles escaped injury, but his chauffeur was wounded, an Indian was killed, and three motor cars were damaged.—(Page 7.)

Miss Winifred Spooner, the English flier, who started thirty-fifth in the air race round Italy yesterday, had advanced to ninth place when the first lap was completed at Rimini yesterday.—(Page 7.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were again irregular. British Rails were weaker. "Kaffirs" were supported from Johannesburg.—(Page 3.)

In Lombard street there was a plethora of money and keen competition for bills. Overnight loans were made at 1½-2 per cent. No bullion movements were reported.—(Page 3.)

The Mandate for Palestine.

In its criticism of British action in Palestine the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations is well within its rights. Before the Great War such right of external censure on any aspect of British rule was unknown; but it is now a term of the mandatory system to which, no doubt, in course of time, the British mind—now, perhaps, resentful—will become accustomed. The Commission's criticism is twofold. It suggests that last year's grave disorder in Palestine was stimulated by blunders of the British Administration, and it states definitely that much bloodshed could have been prevented by an adequate supply of police and military force. According to the Commission—which here differs sharply from the findings of the Shaw report—the rioting was no mere outburst of racial and religious fury between Jews and Arabs. On the Arab side, at least, it was "a movement of resistance to the policy of the mandatory power solely in its capacity as mandatory." Moreover, the British authorities were taken by surprise. The intelligence service broke down, and police and troops were insufficient, with the result that wholesale murder occurred over a large area. In its reply to the Commission's censure the British Government admits that, "in the light of subsequent events, the forces immediately available were inadequate to deal with sudden and widespread disturbances." On the other hand, the British Government warmly defends its policy in Palestine, and as warmly disclaims all responsibility for the recent disorders. It denies that the Arab protests were directed against British administration, and it deplores the Permanent Commission's failure to appreciate the difficulties of the mandate—in particular, those created by the Arabs' political pretensions.

In November, 1917, the British Cabinet ratified the Earl of Balfour's famous "declaration" that—

"His Majesty's Government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavours to facilitate the achievement of this object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other country."

All later Governments have accepted this declaration, although they have refused to read into it the demands of the extreme Zionists. In 1919 Britain became a signatory of the Covenant of the League of Nations, and some years afterwards, under the Covenant, she accepted the mandate for the administration of Palestine. The British Government's latest reading of Lord Balfour's declaration was stated recently by Lord Passfield: "The mandate did not envisage the establishment of a Jewish State—only of a Jewish national home in Palestine consistently with the maintenance of the position and rights of the Arab population." Article 22 of the Covenant, under which Britain holds the mandate for Palestine, refers to certain former possessions of the Turkish Empire which may be administered by a mandatory "until such time as they are able to stand alone"; and under its mandate for Palestine the British Government was to be "responsible for putting into effect the Balfour declaration." The Arabs maintain, however, that the "national home" is inconsistent with the purpose of the Covenant, and, despite Lord Passfield's assurances, they are alarmed by the growth of Jewish possessions in Palestine, by the influx of Jews from Europe, and by the ambitious claims of the advanced Zionists. The fundamental difference between the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations and the British Government, as we interpret it, is the Commission's strict concern with the rights of Arabs and the British Government's regard for the sanctity of Lord Balfour's promise. It is an embarrassing situation, which probably will put the virtues of the mandatory system to their severest test. The immediate moral of the documents which we publish to-day is the need of stronger British forces for the safeguarding of peace in Palestine.

Imports of Bacon.

The third report of the British Pig Industry Council contains some points of much interest to Irish farmers. England's position in regard to bacon is causing growing uneasiness. Every year the consumption of native produce is declining, with a corresponding increase in foreign imports. The fact seems to be that the inhabitants of industrial England cannot afford to eat their own bacon. Bacon is essentially the poor man's food, and foreign supplies are plentiful. They are not so good as the home supplies; but their price is less, and England's housewives nowadays must consider every farthing. The result is that the English pig trade is dying, and the Pig Council declares that "some measure of control, regulation, or restriction of bacon imports" is imperative. It draws attention to the fact that Germany recently has passed a law which virtually prohibits the importation of meat supplies, and, consequently, as Britain provides the only market in which foodstuffs can be "dumped," the competition against the home producer has become acute. The suggestion that bacon imports should be controlled will be welcomed by every English farmer. Although the British workman still suspects anything that savours of a tax on food, even Dr. Addison, the Socialist Minister for Agriculture, has declared that the Free Trade system, as it applied fifty years ago, is "as dead as Queen Anne."

England cannot supply her entire bacon demand from her own resources. She must import a certain quantity, and there is every reason to expect that the restriction of supplies from foreign countries would be accompanied by an increased demand for Irish bacon. Bacon in this country is not produced under foreign conditions. It is just as costly as the Wiltshire or Ayrshire variety, and its increased importation would not expose the English producer to unfair rivalry. The Irish Free State, indeed, has precisely the same problem as England. Although she is among the greatest pig-producing countries in the world, her imports of bacon last year amounted to £889,010, while her exports came only to £904,000. The poor people of Ireland also cannot afford to eat their own bacon, and in many cases small farmers who produce pigs for export actually buy foreign supplies for their own use. This condition of affairs, of course, is deplorable economics. The Free State can raise a sufficient number of pigs to satisfy the home market and leave plenty of bacon for export. Her position is identical with regard to butter and eggs. There is no excuse for the import of foreign butter or eggs into the Free State. Proper organisation among the farmers, accompanied by an efficient marketing scheme, would do something to lessen the evil, but without a measure of Government control over imports it cannot be remedied. If the British Government takes the advice of the Pig Council, the farmers of the Free State will have a splendid opportunity. The free admission of Irish bacon, under a system of regulated imports from foreign countries, would establish the principle of Empire free trade and would create a useful precedent for later developments. When, some years ago, the import of pigs from the Continent was prohibited for a short period the Free State exporters reaped a rich harvest.

The Arthurian Legend.

Yesterday the first International Arthurian Congress opened at Truro, and its discussions, according to Mr. Vinaver, the joint secretary, will be "on the historical value to be placed on the Arthurian legends." We must suppose, as in duty bound, that this project is worthy, but somehow we fear for the illusions of our childhood. While we may know beyond dispute that the basis of the Arthurian legend rests secure in that unexplained interruption of the Saxon conquest which has defeated historians, we must realise that many charming details and embellishments of the old tale are in grave danger. What healthy boy has not believed firmly in the old dynasty of Orkney, of which the "tall sons of Lot and Bellicent were such great exponents?" Who, crossing the Northumbrian moors on an autumn eve, has not been able to call to life King Uriens fighting his grim wars against the pagans? Even the drab modernism of a Great Western Railway station cannot rob Caerleon of its legendary associations. Here, except to the dullest traveller, is the place where Percival prayed, Gawain laughed and Lancelot loved. Above all other places, however, Cornwall calls Arthur still. Any point from Sennen Cove to Landewednack, to many of us, might have seen that last weird battle in the West, the sequel of which day unsoldered all. This Arthurian legend, borrowed in parts though it may be from many countries, is England's epic. The Arthurian Congress is about to examine it in the light of cold science. Arthur may degenerate into a woad-painted chieftain; Galahad and Gaheris may be relegated to fairy stories, and Merlin may melt into those mists that, we were taught to believe, he could conjure into being with a word. Yet we shall remain their bigoted supporters. The Round Table must have existed; for it could not have been invented.

Fruit-Growers.

On another page we publish the lament of the fruit-growers of the Dublin district, which includes Julianstown, Stamullen and Gormanston. They have decided unanimously to found a Fruit-growers' Association, whose chief function will be the proper marketing of the soft fruit grown in the district. The figures given show that the fruit-growers' grievance is not frivolous. During the present season jam manufacturers have offered 2¾d. per lb. for fruit, while the Dublin market, necessarily limited in its demand, has offered 5d. per lb. These meagre tenders would be defensible if the sale price of jam and the retailers' prices for fresh fruit were commensurate. A survey of the statistics, however, reveals that the manufacturers, in their offer of 2¾d. per lb. for the raw commodity, are allowing themselves a considerable margin to cover carriage and other incidental expenses. So convinced are the growers of the strength of their case that they are proposing to put it to a financial test. Plans are being discussed for the erection of a jam factory at Duleek, which will be run by the new Growers' Association and will be supplied with the produce of its members. Confident hopes are entertained that the factory will "prove a paying proposition." If the growers' figures are accurate, there seems to be no room for doubt. In any case, any movement that tends to reduce the price of fruit in Dublin deserves our earnest support.

AN ALL-YELLOW WEDDING.

MARRIAGE OF LORD COWDRAY'S DAUGHTER.

In the little village church of Easebourne, near Midhurst (Sussex), the wedding took place yesterday of the Hon. Angela Pearson, third daughter of Viscount and Viscountess Cowdray, and Mr. George Anthony Murray, only son of Sir Evelyn Murray, Secretary to the General Post Office, and Lady Murray.

Among the numerous guests who filled the church, which stands just outside the Easebourne gates of Cowdray Park, were the Duke and Duchess of Atholl, the Duke of Norfolk and Lord Richard Nevill.

Miss Pearson wore a lovely wedding gown of ivory satin made in mediæval style, with a satin train five yards long. The priceless old Brussels lace which covered the train was the gift of the Duchess of Atholl, who wore it at her own wedding.

It was an all-yellow wedding, yellow being the Cowdray colour. Yellow frocks were worn by the bridesmaids, all the ushers wore yellow buttonholes, and a yellow car conveyed the bride and her father to the church.

THE PRINCE'S GOLFING HOLIDAY.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
LE TOUQUET, Monday.

The Prince of Wales spent another full day on the golf links. In the morning he had a friendly round with Captain Aird, his equerry, which ended so late that His Royal Highness did not return to the hotel for lunch till three o'clock, and in the afternoon he took part in a foursome with Sir Philip Sassoon, Mr. Sheltel and Captain Aird.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The King and Queen have been joined at Balmoral Castle by the Duke of York and the Duke of Gloucester. The Duke of York drove from Glamis Castle over the pass in the Grampian Mountains to Balmoral, where he is expected to remain till Friday. It is probable that the selection of the name for the newly-born Princess will be discussed during the Duke's visit.

Princess Mary and the Earl of Harewood are entertaining a party at Goldsborough Hall for York Races, which open to-day. Their guests include the Earl of Lonsdale, Sir William and Lady Noreen Bass, Major and Mrs. F. Fetherstonhaugh and Mrs. Edward Clayton.

Queen Marie of Rumania arrived at Sinaia last Saturday, and has had an interview with King Carol. Queen Helena and the Crown Prince Michal of Rumania are staying at Kustendji, on the borders of the Black Sea, where the British cruiser squadron is stationed at present. The Queen and the young Prince visited the Commandant, Admiral Davies, on board the flagship.

The Duke and Duchess of Abercorn are in residence at Government House, Hillsborough, where they are entertaining a house party this week.

Prince and Princess Takamatsu of Japan were welcomed by the Crown Prince and the Crown Princess of Sweden on their arrival in Stockholm. A gala performance was given in the Opera House in honour of the Royal tourists, who will leave Stockholm to-day for Norway on an extended tour.

The Marquess and Marchioness of Londonderry have returned to Londonderry House, Park lane, from Santander, where they were the guests last week of the King and Queen of Spain at the Magdalena Palace.

Lord and Lady Osborne Beauclerk, who were the guests of the Earl and Countess of Dunraven at Adare Manor, have returned to Newtown Anner, Clonmel. The Earl of Kilmorey, Captain the Hon. Henry and Mrs. Fitzalan-Howard, Captain E. Brooke, Mr. Owen and Miss Williams Wynn are among the guests whom Colonel and Mrs. Langdale are entertaining for York Races this week.

The marriage arranged between the Hon. Somerset Maxwell and Miss Susan Roberts will take place on October 15th at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster.

A marriage is arranged, and will take place in India in October, between Captain T. F. M. Woods, M.B., B.Ch., Univ.Dub., R.A.M.C., only son of Dr. and Mrs. Annesley Woods, Birr, King's County, and Juliet Frances, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Rogers, 71 Merrion square, Dublin.

Dr. J. F. O'Grady has returned to 115 Morehampton road.

Dr. John Lait has returned to 35 Fitzwilliam place.

Dr. Robert J. Rowlette has returned to 55 Fitzwilliam square, Dublin.

Dr. D. J. Cannon has returned to 13 Parnell square.

Dr. Rutherford has returned to Woodley, Highfield road.

Dr. J. N. Frost has returned to 4 Brighton terrace, Sandycove, Co. Dublin.

Mr. William Brady, B.D.S., has returned to Qui Si Sano, Blackrock.

Mr. E. T. Pasley has returned to 6 Rathmines road.

Miss Madeline McCann, C.S.M.M.G., has left 28 Upper Pembroke street for a month.

For Motoring in Autumn the new Nappa and Chrome Leather Coats showing at Switzers will be found to be both practical and smart. Incidentally, Nappa Leather, being so light in weight, also makes an ideal Walking Coat.

GENERAL HERTZOG LEAVES SCOTLAND.

PRIVATE VISIT TO THE PREMIER.

General Hertzog, who has been on a visit to the Prime Minister at Lossiemouth, arriving there on Saturday, left yesterday by train. He expressed himself as delighted with his stay in the North. Mr. Ramsay Macdonald informed a Press Association reporter that General Hertzog's visit was a purely personal one, and that no significance was attached to it. Mr. Macdonald is expected to leave by aeroplane to-day, arriving in London about 3 p.m.

COMMISSIONS IN THE ARMY.

PASSING-OUT LISTS.

The War Office has published the July passing-out lists for the Royal Military Academy and the Royal Military College, together with the list of successful candidates at the examination of officers of the Supplementary List, Supplementary Reserve and Territorial Army for appointment to commissions in the Regular Army.

The following are among the successful candidates:—

Royal Military College—Gentleman Cadet Ardee, Lord (prize cadet); Gentleman Cadet Moriarty, R. E. B.; Gentleman Cadet Duveen, A. E. J.; Corporal Waugh, N. R. (lance-corporal, the Inniskilling Dragoon Guards).

IRISH AMATEUR FILMS.

A NEW VENTURE IN DUBLIN.

Although from time to time there have been shown in Dublin films in which Irish actors and Irish scenery have been featured, the realm of the screen has hitherto been a field unexplored by native genius. If for no other reason then that it shows the pioneer spirit, the enterprise of the Irish Amateur Film Society is to be commended in releasing for public entertainment at the Peacock Theatre this week a trio of films which are entirely Irish—in fact, not only Irish, but distinctly local in their stories, their settings and their action.

The presentation is nicely balanced, being supported by two "Shorts." One under the title, "Bank Holiday," by Mary Manning, gives a glimpse of the manner and the places in which Dublin folk spent the recent bank holiday. Some of the beauty spots in the Counties of Dublin and Wicklow are delightfully reproduced. The second "Short," under the title, "Pathetic Gazette," is a very amusing skit on an incident in the historic days of Cuchulain and Deirdre.

The feature film, which runs for about an hour, is entitled "By Accident." It has been produced under the direction of Mr. J. N. G. Davidson, who is also the author of the story. It is in the nature of a psychological study, in which there is laid bare the soul of a young man who is instinctively a coward. It is the youth's misfortune that always his temperament lets him down. He is of the not unusual type who dreams of deeds heroic where others enact them. Introspection has made him oversensitive and weak. Thus in the film he is shown weak with fear when faced with the ordinary task of climbing down a ricketty ladder from the top of a tower. The descent accomplished, he hastens to overtake his boy and girl companions, but arrives at the moment when the girl to whom he has been paying his attentions gives herself into the arms of the other youth. Again the temperamental morbidity takes hold of him, and he recalls bygone incidents where always he had played the weakling.

There was the incident when he climbed to the top of Nelson Pillar and became terror-stricken at the prospect. Unfortunately, at the moment that this mood seized him, he was standing on the verge of a cliff overhanging the sea. Recalling in his introspective mood how his father accidentally struck against him, he jumped and, by accident, fell over the cliff. Badly smashed, he regained consciousness at the foot of the cliffs, and undergoes a dreadful torture of the soul as he lies there broken and unable to move, with the tide slowly creeping in upon him. There is a tense scene as he realises his impending death. Again and again events of his life pass before his mind, and through all there is a fierce desire to make it known that his death was "by accident."

The subject is interesting, and the treatment is really good. Mr. Blake Giffard plays with excellent understanding and ability the exacting part of the soul-tortured youth, whilst others in the company are Mr. J. K. Mandy, Miss Olive Purcell, Miss Mary Manning and Mr. Paul Farrell.

The scenes are all outdoor, and show well known spots at Sutton, on the Feather Bed Mountain and the Phœnix Park, as well as Sackville street. There is a very fine view of Dublin's great thoroughfare, as seen from the top of the Nelson Column, whilst many will be interested in the close-up "shot" of the figure of Nelson on the top of the Pillar.

On the whole the continuity is good, as is also the work of the camera man, Mr. Harold Douglas. With a little more speed in the actual projection, the entertainment will be excellent.

It is a very commendable venture into a new world, and augurs well for the future of this young Society.

A NOTABLE BEGINNING.

Mr. Lennox Robinson appeared before the curtain at the second performance last night, and in the course of a witty address stated that he had been legitimately married twenty years ago to the stage play, and was still faithful to his old wife of the theatre. On the other hand, to any young man or woman of 20 or 25 years interested in the art of the drama, which involved the stage play and the cinema, he would say that the interest and excitement of the new generation was going to be in the art of the cinema, and he would encourage them to go in for that instead of the stage play. The art of the cinema was still in its crude stage when it became suddenly popular, and very quickly got into the hands of capitalists. The result was what they saw. In one or two cases they had great artists like Charlie Chaplin becoming a popular success. On the other hand, they had a great number of pictures made for the vulgar mind in every vulgar land.

"It seems to me," he said, amidst laughter, "that the cinema, in its commonness, has just got as common as it can be." Even in America they find that they have gone as far as they can in one direction. Now they have to come back. They were coming back to smaller theatres, much the same as in Paris and London, where they were returning to the older style of pictures.

That night, however, they were seeing a new Irish picture. There had been Irish pictures made before, but this was different. This picture contained more feeling in any ten feet than there was in any hundred feet of pictures across the street. He looked on the production, not as a great achievement, but as the beginning of an intelligent making of Irish pictures by intelligent Irishmen. He hoped that that night was the beginning of a real Irish art of the cinema.

THE DEAD EXPLORERS.

BODIES BEING BROUGHT TO SWEDEN.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.
STOCKHOLM, Monday.

The Swedish Government received the following official report to-day from M. Arnesen, the Swedish Consul at Tromso:—

"Captain Jensen states that his ship, the Terningen, met the Bratvaag—the vessel of the Norwegian scientific expedition—on August 8th, at Victoria Island, Franz Josefland. Dr. Horn showed Captain Jensen the discovered bodies of Andrée and Strindberg, which would be identified. Frankel is probably lying frozen down in the boat found in the camp. All these have been taken on board the Bratvaag, in addition to three rifles, two cases of instruments, harpoons, fishing tackle, Andrée's altimeter and his diary, and the remains of a bear. The bodies are wrapped in sailcloth with salt. The steamer is expected to reach Norway about September 10th. A monument has been erected, and an account of the discovery deposited on the spot at Kvitoya."

I understand that it is possible that the gunboat Svensksund will leave for Tromso to bring home the bodies. This gunboat originally conveyed Andrée's party to the Polar regions when his expedition started.

AUSTRIAN ARCHDUKE MARRIED.

BRIDE THE FORMER WIFE OF HUNGARIAN DIPLOMAT.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
BUDAPEST, Monday.

The Archduke Albrecht, son of the Archduke Friedrich, has just married Madame Irene Leibach, the former wife of M. Ludwig Rudnay, the Hungarian Minister in Sofia, from whom she was divorced. As the lady is not of Royal birth, it is doubtful whether she will be allowed to use the title of Archduchess. A suit to annul the former marriage of the Archduke's wife is proceeding in Rome, as her divorce from M. Rudnay is not recognised by the Church. The present marriage was a civil ceremony, and took place outside Hungary.

THE KING.

The King, who is at Balmoral, and the gentlemen of the household, were out grouse shooting in glorious weather on the moors yesterday. Birds were plentiful and a good bag was secured.

SIR ERIC GEDDES.

The doctors attending Sir Eric Geddes, who went to a nursing home early this month, are now satisfied that nothing of a major character is wrong with Sir Eric, and that in a week or two he will be in his usual robust health. No operation was necessary.

LONDON LETTER

LEAGUE OF NATIONS STAFF.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
MONDAY NIGHT.

One of the subjects to be discussed at Geneva next month will be the nationality of the officials of the League of Nations. The Italian Government has forwarded a complaint at the number of British and French members of the secretariat, and this objection is to be supported by several of the smaller States anxious that their own nationalities should receive a greater share of official posts. The smaller States propose that a solution of the question shall be found in the increase of the number of posts, so that they may be given an allotment of the newly created offices. That, certainly, is an easy way out of the difficulty, but not likely to be entertained. It is suspected strongly that the League already is very much overstaffed. Moreover, would the smaller States bear a share of the additional cost that their proposal would involve? As matters stand, Great Britain bears more than a fair share of the costs of the League, while several countries whose contributions are hopelessly in arrears make no attempt to reduce their debt.

League of Nations and Palestine.

There were published simultaneously to-day two official documents of considerable importance. One was the report by the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations, which seeks to lay on Great Britain blame for the Palestine riots, and the other was a spirited reply by the Government defending British policy and action in that part of the world. The Commission does not absolve British officials on the spot in respect of the occurrences of about a year ago. In fact, it is inclined rather to take them to task for inaction and unpreparedness. It declares that the Palestine Government in several instances was taken by surprise and appears to have displayed a lack of insight, especially on the occasion of the Jewish demonstration before the Wailing Wall on August 15th last year. The Government declares that much of the Commission's criticism is based on ex parte evidence.

The Food Council.

When the Food Council meets again in London it will inquire into complaints about the price of bread, though the housewife need have no visions of paying less for her loaf as a result of the activities of that body. If the Council had been equipped with powers to take direct action against "profiteers" and with authority to demand papers, accounts and information, it would have proved of inestimable value to the great body of consumers. Unfortunately, it has been in the position of having to accept anything that witnesses cared to put before it, and, naturally, inconvenient facts were left in obscurity. The Government intends to supplant this body with a Consumers' Council, and a bill has been drafted already with that object.

Railway Troubles.

As a protest against recent dismissals of railway servants, men employed at the London North-Eastern Railway's Bishopsgate goods dépôt put into operation to-day the policy of working strictly to rule. The result was a slowing down of work there and delay in the handling of goods. This action was without the sanction of the National Union of Railwaymen, which always has been opposed to it, and averted a similar protest at King's Cross last week. The officials of the body are using their influence to get the men to revert to normal working, and there is every likelihood that the Bishopsgate trouble will be only of brief duration. The Union takes up the position that the matter in dispute is one for negotiation.

Mr. W. M. Citrine.

Mr. W. M. Citrine, Secretary of the Trade Union Congress, returned to London to-day after his three months' trip to the Antipodes. After several strenuous years of fighting big issues and acute controversies in the trade union movement he broke down completely in health, and was ordered absolute rest from all work. The General Council granted him long leave of absence, and he sailed for Australia last April. The voyage has done him much good, and he will resume duties immediately, leaving for Nottingham to-morrow for a meeting of the General Council which is to make the final arrangements for Monday's opening of the Trade Union Congress in that city.

Territorial Recruiting.

Official returns do not disclose any improvement in recruiting for the Territorial Army. Indeed, there has been another set-back, compared with the strength at about this period last year. The drop is 1,170. Apart from a few areas, where recruiting always has been brisk, it seems to be growing more and more impossible to get the required numbers to complete the establishment of the force as a whole, in spite of the incessant efforts to induce men to join. It is manifest that the prevailing obsession of sport and political propaganda against militarism, combined with the present-day young man's dislike of discipline, are not without effect. The present strength of the Territorial Army is 136,840, including all ranks, which figures are 11,000 below the total of four years ago.

New Height-Recording Machine.

Experiments carried out by the Air Ministry have been responsible for a considerable improvement in the instruments by which aeroplanes are navigated on long-distance flights. An especially marked advance has been made in the height-recording apparatus. In at least one serious mishap the theory was advanced that the pilot was misled by the height indicator, upon which he was relying, and, as a result, new instruments are undergoing a test. Formerly, these did not allow for variation in the height of the land, whereas the new instruments are designed to show the actual height of the machine above the ground, no matter whether it be mountain or valley.

Music in the Navy.

The transfer of the Royal Naval School of Music from Eastney to Deal has been postponed until next April, and many people are hopeful that, in the meantime, the Admiralty again may change its mind. It is not at all unlikely that those hopes may be fulfilled, as the Board have wobbled remarkably for a long time in deciding whether to effect the move or not. This "Kneller Hall of the Navy" was formed in 1903 as a training establishment for musicians for the fleet. It has become world-famous for the provision of bands, which, both at home and overseas, have brought credit to the Royal Navy. The proposal to remove the school from its present quarters has met with severe criticism and protest, and, outside the Admiralty, not a word has been uttered in its favour. Economy is assigned as the reason for this policy, but the amount of money to be saved hardly is worth the trouble of the transfer.

Mushroom Fears.

The alleged mushroom poisoning of several people lately has received such prominence in the newspapers that now there is no demand for the fungus. Hundred-weights have had to be destroyed, rotting for want of a market, as no one would purchase them even at the most enticing prices. The trade in these delicacies is, for the moment, at a standstill, and no orders are passed from the central markets to the growers, with the result that the latter will suffer heavy financial losses unless the public scare quickly ends.

INDIAN BOMB OUTRAGE.

ATTEMPT ON SIR CHARLES TEGART.

ENCOUNTER WITH HATHI KHEL WAZIRS.

OFFICER AND EIGHT MEN KILLED.

SIR CHARLES TEGART, Police Commissioner of Calcutta, had a narrow escape from death at the hands of assassins yesterday. He was driving through one of the principal streets of Calcutta, when two bombs were thrown at him.

Sir Charles was uninjured, but his chauffeur was wounded, his car was damaged, two other motor cars were wrecked, and an Indian, who is supposed to have been one of Sir Charles's assailants, was wounded so seriously by splinters of the bombs that he died soon afterwards.

A review of the general situation up to Saturday last, issued last night by the India Office states that in India proper the situation is "distinctly easier."

The report speaks of peace efforts made by some tribes, renewed activity by others, and the gathering of hostile forces in certain districts.

Among the districts where hostile activity continues are the Peshawar northern border, the Kurram border and Waziristan.

A "marked improvement" is noted in Sind, where last week the communal situation was described as "serious."

A message from Simla states that the Massozais have submitted, and accepted the full terms of settlement.

GENERAL SITUATION.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

Peace moves by some tribes, renewed activity by others, and the gathering of new hostile forces in certain districts are mentioned in the Government of India's review of the situation up to August 23, which was issued from the India Office last night. In India proper, however, the situation is stated to be distinctly easier.

On the northern border of Peshawar district, it is stated, the Haji of Turangzai and his emissaries have remained active, and still have great hopes of raising a lashkar to attack Peshawar district by way of Gandac.

KURRAM BORDER.

On the Kurram border the agitation has spread. On August 19 a lashkar collected in the neighbourhood of Utsar and Bargawisar, and reconnaisance aeroplanes and militia pickets were heavily fired on. Defensive measures adopted by the Kurram militia and successful measures adopted by the local Afghan authorities to restrain the tribes on their side of the border caused the hostile forces to disperse after a few days.

It appears, however, that the dispersal was only temporary, and they have now turned their attention to the Kharlachi side, about eight miles west of Parachinar. There was considerable firing in that area throughout the night of the 22nd and 23rd.

In Waziristan there has been some recrudescence of activity, and a lashkar of about four thousand is believed to have collected with the object of attacking either Datta Khel or Wana.

INTERNAL POSITION.

With regard to the internal position in India, the report states that the situation in most provinces is distinctly easier, but there is no province in which the conditions are normal or in which it can be safely said that some activities of the civil disobedience movement may not assume fresh vigour.

There has, fortunately, been a marked improvement in Sind, where the communal situation was reported last week to be serious. The position is now under control, although, as was apprehended, the loss of life and property has been considerable, and it will take some time to restore a sense of security.

SUBMISSION OF THE MASSOZAIS.

FULL TERMS ACCEPTED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

SIMLA, Monday.

The Royal Air Force aeroplanes continue to keep close observation on the Mohmands in the Tirah and Waziristan, but nothing of importance has been reported. Officers and men of the Royal Air Force were present at a jirga (meeting) in the Kurrah, where the Massozais made a complete submission as the result of the punitive action taken by the Air Force and the good work of the Kurram militia. The Massozais agreed to accept in full the terms imposed upon them, and have brought in all fugitives from justice who had been hiding in their territory, including one man who has been an outlaw for a quarter of a century. They have also agreed to ban Congress preachers in their territory.

ON THE FRONTIER.

WARNING TO HAJI OF TURANGZAI.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PESHAWAR, Monday.

Jaji tribesmen, who were occupying the Afghan post of Amirthana, on the Kurram border, have been ousted by hostile Afghans. The Maliks of Doaba, in the Charsadda Tahsil, have warned the Haji of Turangzai that the Khawazai and Utman Khels will not tolerate a visit of the Haji's lashkar.

THE BOMB ATTACK.

SIR CHARLES TEGART'S ESCAPE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

CALCUTTA, Monday.

A dastardly attempt was made this morning to assassinate Sir Charles Tegart, the Police Commissioner of Calcutta, when he was driving to his office. As his car was about to enter Dalhousie square, in the business quarter, two bombs were flung at him. They exploded with a deafening noise.

When the smoke cleared away the people rushing to the scene saw an Indian lying on the pavement bleeding profusely. The chauffeur of Sir Charles Tegart's car was seen to be wounded, but Sir Charles himself had escaped injury. His car and two others in the vicinity were extensively damaged by the explosion.

The Police Commissioner immediately leaped from his car, revolver in hand, and gave directions for the treatment of his chauffeur, and the removal of the Indian, who died a few minutes afterwards.

The road soon was thronged with British and Indian officers, and hundreds of clerks from the neighbouring offices.

OUTRAGE CONDEMNED.

Party representatives on the Bengal Legislative Council this afternoon condemned the attack on Sir Charles Tegart.

Mr. J. N. Basu, Liberal leader, said that terrorists should know that they could never look for sympathy from the people if they had recourse to murder and other similar methods to gain their objects, however high.

Mr. A. K. Fameul ul Haq, on behalf of the Moslems, remarked that his community stood steadily aloof from this sort of crime.

Mr. A. Marr, Finance member and Leader of the House, on behalf of the Treasury Benches, associated himself with everything that had been said by Mr. Basu.

The President of the Council expressed joy at the fact that Sir Charles Tegart had not been hurt, and said that he was glad to find the House condemning the distardly and cowardly attack.

SIR CHARLES TEGART'S ACCOUNT.

Sir Charles Tegart was seen by Reuter's Correspondent at his office not long after the outrage. He appeared to be perfectly calm, and was quite undaunted by his experience.

In giving his own account of the outrage Sir Charles said: "I was coming to my office just about eleven o'clock, and when my car was in front of Harold's shop and about five yards from the tram lines two bombs were thrown at me. I am not quite certain where the bombs came from. One of them landed on the left and the other on the right side of my car. I took my revolver from the cupboard and told the driver to pull round, and when the car had turned back ten or fifteen yards I saw one fellow in a corner of Dalhousie square, near the Central Telegraph Office, and, jumping out, I ran in his direction. When I reached the spot where he was lying I saw that he was very badly hit. He died shortly afterwards. In his possession were found two bombs and a loaded revolver. Two constables arrested another Indian, who was bleeding, and had a revolver and a bomb with him. He gave his name. He is a law student.

"One bomb struck a coolie and damaged two motor cars standing in front of Harold's shop. Pieces of bomb pierced the door of my car; one became embedded in a tyre, and another cut the coat, puggree and arm of my driver, slightly wounding him.

"We have known for some time that a recrudescence of terrorist activity was to be expected. I usually keep a watch along my route, but to-day I was thinking of other things."

Sir Charles Tegart himself collected many pieces of the bomb, which were of the Mills type, and composed of aluminium alloy.

A NOTEWORTHY CAREER.

Sir Charles Augustus Tegart, C.I.E., M.V.O., is the son of the late Rev. J. P. Tegart, of Dunboyne, Co. Meath, and was educated at Portora Royal School, Enniskillen, and Trinity College, Dublin. He joined the Indian Police in 1901, and has been noted for his able handling of extremists who in recent years have busied themselves in fomenting unrest. His influence on more than one occasion has prevented serious racial conflicts in Calcutta.

Yesterday's was not the first attempt upon his life. In 1903 a young Bengali, Gopi Nath Saha, shot Mr. E. Day in broad daylight in a main street of Calcutta, and afterwards confessed that he had mistaken him for Sir Charles Tegart. Gopi Nath Saha was hanged.

During the Great War Sir Charles was fired at more than once by emissaries of German and American agitators, who sought to land arms in India.

Sir Charles Tegart played a noteworthy part in the handling of the Komagata Maru affair. Gurdit Singh, an Amritsar Sikh, chartered that little Japanese vessel to carry 350 Sikhs and 21 Punjab Moslems to the United States of America, where they were not allowed to land. The Komagata Maru returned to moorings a few miles from Calcutta, where a special train was ready to convey the Sikhs to the Punjab free of charge. They refused to enter the train and began to march in a body to Calcutta. On the way, however, they encountered a force of armed police, with whom Sir Charles Tegart was present as an officer. A riot followed, in which there was loss of life on both sides. Sir Charles handled the situation with marked ability, and was largely responsible for the restoration of order. Sir Charles has been Commissioner of Police in Calcutta since 1923, and he served in the Great War.

Sir Charles Tegart married Kathleen Frances, daughter of the Rev. J. L. Herbert, of Disserth, Llandrindod Wells. Lady Tegart is an accomplished amateur actress and an active member of the Calcutta Amateur Dramatic Club.

SERIOUS CLASH.

BRITISH OFFICER AND EIGHT MEN KILLED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

SIMLA, Monday.

While reports from the Kurrum region mention the complete surrender of the Massozais, a serious clash has occurred with the Hathi Khel Wazirs, resulting in heavy casualties on both sides.

The British casualties consisted of nine killed, including Captain Ashcroft, and ten injured, while the native lashkar casualties totalled 32 killed, 14 wounded and 70 prisoners.

The Bannu-Kohat road has been closed to Europeans.

According to the Indian Army list, Captain F. Ashcroft was attached to the 13th Frontier Force Rifles, with headquarters at Bannu. He was 30 years of age, received his commission in 1920, and was gazetted to the rank of captain in 1927. During his stay in India he had mastered Pashtu.

According to a later report, a mixed force of regular infantry, frontier constabulary and police moved from Bannu early yesterday morning to occupy some ground where a meeting under a hostile Mullah named Fazl Qadar, was advertised to take place, and to effect the arrest of

AFTER THE MOTOR RACE.

BELFAST WANTS ANOTHER EVENT.

COURSE AVAILABLE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Monday.

The motor race excitement was subsided in Belfast, but a number of enthusiasts now are eagerly canvassing the prospect of another event of a somewhat different kind. The Tourist Trophy Race of the Royal Automobile Club is confined to standard cars of the sports type, catalogued for sale to the public by the manufacturers. It now is suggested that a race should be organised for racing cars on the lines of those held on the Brooklands course. It would be too expensive to construct another Brooklands, but what is desired is a course or circuit of about ten miles, with several long, straight stretches. It is understood that such a course is available, and that with very little alteration by the County Council concerned, and with the assistance of the Northern Government, it could be made suitable.

DRIVERS INTERESTED.

The public would welcome such an event, and it is believed that many of the racing drivers would be willing to compete; for some of those who were over for the Tourist Trophy Race declared that they would return if a race of this kind were organised. The only point in doubt is whether the manufacturers would support a purely racing event with the racing types of cars; but it could be argued that many of these cars already are competing frequently at Brooklands, and it would not be a difficult matter to send them across for the proposed race. A substantial prize fund would have to be organised, and it is understood that efforts to do so are about to be made.

A TWENTY-FOUR-HOUR RACE?

It also has been suggested that there should be a twenty-four hour race for standard sports cars, and the Portrush, Portstewart and Coleraine triangle has been mentioned as a likely venue for such an event. It is felt that such an event would appeal more strongly to motor car manufacturers, as it would tend to improve the reliability of ordinary cars.

As Sir Herbert Austin declared, in an interview in Belfast last Saturday evening, manufacturers generally are not in favour of racing car events, or building special cars for racing purposes. He is of the opinion that the time for that is past, and that efforts should be concentrated upon road racing to improve the reliability of standard sports cars.

HEAVY TRAM TRAFFIC.

The total number of passengers carried by the Belfast trams last Saturday was greatly in excess of the traffic on the two previous Tourist Trophy race days. 496,414 people used the trams, and the revenue was £2,806.

In 1929 the persons using the trams numbered 480,446, their fares amounting to £2,714, so that this year there was an increase of 15,968 passengers and £92 in fares. The traffic on the County Down Railway, while heavy, was not up to the "record" of 1929

35,000 WORDS BY WIRE.

The telegraph department of the General Post Office at Belfast, and the special telegraph office on the course had a busy time last Saturday. It was estimated on Saturday night that 35,000 words had been telegraphed to various newspaper offices, and of this number 20,000 words were handed in at the special office on the course.

The telephone also was extensively used, and reports were sent direct from the course to London, while there were numerous calls to the Continent, particularly to Italy, conveying the news of the Alfa-Romeo victory to Milan, where the cars were manufactured.

CONDITION OF INJURED DRIVERS.

Captain A. C. R. Waite, son-in-law of Sir Herbert Austin, who sustained a fractured jaw when his "Baby" Austin car crashed at Ballystockart, is progressing satisfactorily.

Mr Kaye Don, who had four ribs broken when his Alfa-Romeo overturned and caught fire, also is progressing as well as can be expected.

THE ITALIAN VICTORY.

BANQUET IN DUBLIN.

A banquet organised by the Italian colony in Dublin was held in Clery's Restaurant, Dublin, last night to celebrate the Italian victory in the Ulster Tourist Trophy Race. As T. Nuvolari, G. Campari and A. Varzi had to leave Belfast to take part in a race in Italy on Thursday, they were unable to be present at the banquet.

Signor Giorgis Favilla said that Signor Ramponi would have been delighted to represent the successful drivers, but his doctor would not give him permission to travel to Dublin.

Signor Favilla added that an important engagement had prevented their Consul from attending the banquet, and he had sent Signor Rafto to convey to them his best wishes for a happy gathering.

ANTI-ATHEIST DEMONSTRATION.

BIBLES FOR USE AMONG RUSSIANS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

RIGA, Monday.

About 25,000 people took part in a giant "Bible demonstration" here yesterday. Members of many denominations took part, and resolutions were passed to be forwarded to the President and the Prime Minister, demanding the cessation of atheistic influences in schools and the prohibition of alcohol.

The procession received the blessing of a representative of the Russian Orthodox Archbishop from the steps of the Russian Cathedral, and a car-load of Russian Bibles was presented to the Archbishop for use among Russian refugees and immigrants.

The demonstration was to a large extent inspired by the recent British movement of protest against anti-religious propaganda in Russia.

NEW YORK ARSENAL DISCOVERED.

BOMBS AND FOUNTAIN PEN PISTOLS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Monday.

A "gangsters' arsenal," containing "pineapple" bombs of the kind commonly used in Chicago, hand grenades, steel bullet-proof armour and pistols in the form of fountain pens, which can be carried unobtrusively in the pocket like the ink-filled variety, has been seized by the New York police in the Brooklyn apartment of Jack "Legs" Diamond, a notorious gang chieftain.

The seizure was made as the result of three detectives trailing a man whom they recognised as Diamond's chauffeur.

Following the seizure, detectives started on investigations elsewhere. Bombs and pistols were discovered. This resulted in the arrest of three men and one woman, presumed to be friends or employés of Jack Diamond.

They were questioned, and the information obtained from them led to the discovery of a blood-stained motor car in a Brooklyn garage belonging to Harry Western, owner of the Chateau Roadhouse, in the zone under Diamond's influence. Western left his home on Friday, and the car has not been seen since. The police believe that he is the victim of foul play.

DEATH OF FRENCH GEOGRAPHER

BOULOGNE-SUR-SEINE, Monday.

The death is announced of M. Jean Brunhes, Professor at the College of France, Member of the Institute, and Chevalier of the Legion of Honour. M. Brunhes was the author of two well-known works—"Geographie Humaine" and "Geographie de la France."

ITALY'S BIG AIR RACE.

MISS SPOONER'S ACHIEVEMENT.

RAPID PROGRESS IN FIRST LAP.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

RIMINI, Monday.

The fine performance of Miss Spooner, the British airwoman, was the chief sensation of the day in the international aerial tour of Italy, which started this morning from Rome. It was a foregone conclusion that the Breda and Fiat 'planes would be among the first to reach Rimini, since they started early and are fast machines.

Miss Spooner was regarded as "the dark horse" of the race, but few people expected her to put up as good a performance as she did. Starting thirty-fifth, she ended ninth in the first stage, thus going up no less than twenty-six places. At Fermo she was second and only about twenty minutes behind the first machine. She lost ground, however, during the last miles of the race. Miss Spooner won an easy victory over her only woman rival, Signorina Fumagalli, whom she left far behind. Miss Spooner is the only British competitor in the race. She arrived here at 1.36 p.m., after having completed the first stage from the Littorio Aerodrome, Rome, which she had left at 5.45 this morning.

ORDER OF ARRIVAL.

The first to arrive was Sacchi, at 12.32 p.m. He was followed by Donati, second. The Germans, Lusser and Notz, were sixth and seventh.

The competitors were greeted on landing by Signor Balbo, Minister of Aviation, who gave the signal for the start from Rome and then hurried on Rimini.

A large crowd had gathered to welcome the fliers. Fifty-three competitors are taking part in the race. They start at intervals of a few minutes, according to handicap. The results will depend both upon speed and technique.

To-morrow all the competitors will spend the day in resting here. The second lap will start on Wednesday, and the competitors will have the same handicaps with which they left Rome.

Miss Spooner's performance will be watched with the greatest interest here. The next lap is very much harder than the first one, as it includes many landings in small fields hidden among the mountains. It will, therefore, give the pilots a greater opportunity to show their skill. It is thought that Miss Spooner may easily improve her position, although she does not know the country as well as the majority of her Italian rivals.

THE START.

In a message dated Rome, Monday, Reuter's Correspondent says:—Signor Balbo, Minister for Aviation, gave the signal for the start of the International Air Race round Italy at the Littorio Aerodrome this morning. Fifty-two competitors took off at various intervals between 5.27 and 5.52 a.m.

Miss Winifred Spooner took off eighteen minutes after the first 'plane.

Signor Mussolini was prevented at the last minute from being present at the aerodrome to start the race, and his place was taken by General Balbo, who arrived on the field just after dawn. He inspected the fifty-two 'planes which were drawn up in a long line, and was introduced to each of the fliers.

The first competitor to take off was the German, Lusser, flying a Klemm machine. He disappeared over the hills to the south at a fast speed, followed a minute later by Signorina Fumagalli, who also made a good start.

Miss Spooner had arrived at the field many hours before dawn, and personally superintended her machine being put into line. She busied herself, in company with a mechanic, in looking over the engine and seeing that everything was in good order. She leaned out of the window and shook hands with General Balbo when he came to wish her luck. Half an hour before the start she set the engine in motion to warn it, and see that it was running smoothly. She took off simultaneously with the noted Italian flier, Guazzeti, who was a member of the Italian Schneider Cup team at Venice three years ago. She was off the ground before him. Then, when only a few yards up, she circled in a narrow turn and passed over the cheering spectators, waving her arms in farewell. Her engine was working smoothly, and she was going well when she disappeared over the hills in the direction of Naples.

SWISS AIRMAN COMES TO GRIEF.

A telegram from Naples states that the machine which Dufaux, the Swiss airman, was piloting in the race was seriously damaged when he was landing at Naples. The pilot was uninjured.

THE DUBLIN CITY ELECTIONS.

ACTIVITY IN ALL CAMPS.

FROM OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT.

Interest continues to be aroused by the approach of the date for nomination for election to the new Dublin Corporation. Already the Dublin Trades and Labour Party have selected their candidates and have settled down to the work of canvassing.

Yesterday at a meeting of the Committee of the Licensed Grocers' and Vintners' Association it was unanimously decided to put forward candidates on the commercial register on behalf of the licensed trade, and the candidates selected were Mr. William J. O'Hara and Mr. J. J. Higgins, who have both served as Councillors.

Fianna Fail will hold a convention of all city branches next Sunday to decide on the number of candidates to be put forward, and to select those candidates.

Cumann na nGaedheal have not yet decided what the official attitude is to be. The matter was discussed last Friday, but was adjourned until to-morrow, when a decision will be reached. The view is advocated strongly by some leading members of the organisation that a certain number of candidates should be put forward, but that no attempt should be made to secure the return of such a number as would give the party a majority vote in the Council.

OTHER WORKERS' CANDIDATES.

At a meeting of the Dublin members of Revolutionary Workers Party, held last night, it was decided to contest the forthcoming Dublin elections. After a lengthy discussion on a draft municipal programme two candidates, Mr. J. Larkin, junior, and Mrs. E. McGregor, were unanimously adopted.

AUSTRALIAN FINANCE.

SIR OTTO NIEMEYER ON RATES OF INTEREST.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

ADELAIDE, Monday.

Sir Otto Niemeyer, in the course of a statement here, said that the high rates of interest on loans to Australia could only be decreased by Australia's limiting her money demands, and by arranging her Budgets in such a manner as not to encroach unduly on private enterprise. Australia must be careful not to provide too generously for public utility services.

FRUIT-GROWERS' DECISION.

FORMATION OF AN ASSOCIATION.

IMPORTANT STEP IN THE FREE STATE.

A decision to form a Fruit-Growers' Association, having for its object the promotion of the interests of all fruit-growers in the districts of Duleek, Julianstown, Stamullen and Gormanstown, was reached at a largely attended meeting of the fruit-growers of these districts held in Duleek last night.

A committee appointed at a previous meeting to examine the whole question submitted a long report, in the course of which it was stated:—

"As far as can be ascertained, there appears to be about one hundred statute acres under cultivation of soft fruits in the district of Duleek—i.e., Duleek, 40 acres; Julianstown, 23 acres; Stamullen and Gormanstown, 30 acres, and about seven acres in the townlands of Ardcath, Bellewstown and Rathfeigh. The number of householders engaged in growing soft fruits in the said districts appears to be about 145, as follows:—Duleek 75 growers, Julianstown 30, and Gormanstown and Stamullen 40. It is estimated that about seven persons per statute acre are annually employed for a period of four weeks in the picking of the fruit at 2s. per day to each picker, which, on the acreage under cultivation shown above, would mean that about 700 persons during the four weeks receive in wages about £1,680.

£2,880 IN WAGES.

"In addition, it is stated that at least one man per statute acre is employed in the early spring in preparing the ground, weeding, etc., for a period of three months at an average wage of £1 per week, involving an additional sum of about £1,200 for payment in wages, making a total sum of about £2,880 annually paid out in wages in these districts in connection with the industry. This expenditure is almost exclusively in respect of outside labour, and does not include remuneration in respect of the time devoted to the industry by the growers themselves or by the members of their families.

PRODUCTION COSTS.

"Regarding the cost of production, the following specimen return for the year 1929 was submitted by a grower in the Dublin district, and the figures therein having been carefully examined by various members of the Committee have been declared a true and correct statement of the cost of production in respect of one Statute acre under cultivation of raspberries:—

RECEIPTS—Amount received for fruit sold (two-thirds of yield to jam manufacturers at 4½d. per lb., and the remaining one-third sold in Dublin market at 6d. per lb. net to grower), £60 4s. 0d.

EXPENDITURE—Artificial manure, £1 10s.; 20 loads farmyard manure at 5s. per load, £5; lime, £1 8s.; one man at £1 4s. per week for 3 months, £14 8s.; 7 pickers at 2s. per day, £16 16s.; carriage to Dublin on portion of crop, 14s.; casual labourer, £1 4s.; rent, £1 4s.; water and incidentals, 12s.; total, £42 16s.

NET PROFIT per Statute acre, £17 8s.

"From the above statement it will be seen that the net profit per Statute acre is shown at £17 8s., and no calculation is made in respect of reasonable remuneration for the time devoted by the grower to the cultivation and marketing of his crop. Taking this return for the present season, when the price offered by the jam manufacturers was 2¾d., and even less, per lb., and the average price obtainable in the Dublin market 5d. per lb., the receipts would show a decrease of about £24, which would result in a complete loss to the grower, were it not for the fact that the yield this season averaged about 25 per cent. increase on the yield of last season, so that the grower actually received a net profit of about the same amount as he received last season.

THE ECONOMIC PRICE.

"We are of opinion that the economic price payable by the jam manufacturers this season to the growers should have been at least 4d. per lb., as had it not been for the third portion of crop marketed in Dublin at 6d. per lb. last season, as indicated by the above statement by the Dublin grower, he would have been unable to show a profit of more than about £10 per Statute acre. Generally speaking, it is estimated that this year's crop realised at this year's price, of 2¾d. per lb. about £50 gross per acre, and when the expenses of production as per above model return are deducted, the grower could only expect to have for himself about £7 clear profit for his acre.

"Reference to some of the price lists of jam manufacturers purchasing fruit in these districts reveals that their present price per lb. pot of raspberry jam (second quality) is about 7¾d., and this would show a margin of 5d. per lb. to cover costs of transport of fruit to their factory and the expenses incidental with the production of the finished article.

MARKETING METHODS.

(1) Two leading manufacturing firms operate extensively in these districts and take considerable quantities of fruit from the growers. These firms despatch lorries to various centres where agents are employed to collect the fruit. This has been a most convenient method of disposing of crop, as many of the growers are greatly facilitated by having their crop purchased at their doors, and if the price offered by these firms was more satisfactory, no doubt, practically all the growers would eagerly avail of the facilities thus offered for the disposal of their crops. The payments are made by these firms in various ways to suit the convenience of the growers, and in many cases advanced payments are made in anticipation of the season's yield.

(2) A certain quantity of the choicer quality of fruit is despatched to the Dublin market, and yielded this season an average price of about 5d. per lb., but early consignments often fetch as much as 10d. to 1s. per lb. during the first week of July. The expenses entailed by marketing soft fruit in Dublin market are very considerable, and the following return in respect of five crates sent to Dublin for sale this season illustrates these expenses under the various headings:—Gross receipts—Two crates at 7d. punnet, £1 17s. 4d.; one at 6d., 16s.; one at 3d., 13s. 4d.; one at 6d., 16s.; gross total received, £4 2s. 8d. Expenses, including punnets, cartage, porterage and commission, £1 4s. 9d. From the foregoing statement it will be noted that the expenses of marketing five crates of raspberries in Dublin market amount to £1 4s. 9d., which is about 30 per cent. of the gross amount of selling price. The payments to growers for fruit marketed in Dublin market are also made in various ways, sometimes per post to consignor and sometimes in cash by the lorry drivers. Many complaints are made in respect to undue delays which frequently occur in payments reaching consignors of fruit to Dublin market.

(3) The third method of marketing the fruit is with private consumers, and this season it is estimated that only about two tons were marketed in this manner at prices averaging 5d. per lb.

AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

"This calculated that the value of the crop of raspberries from these districts last season at the prices then current was in the neighbourhood of £4,500, and the average yield usually is about one ton to the statute acre; it can, therefore, be realised how important

LATE NEWS.

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH "THE TIMES."

PALESTINE RIOTS.

WISDOM AFTER THE EVENT.

The Times of to-day observes in a leading article:—The general report on the Palestine disturbances, which has been drawn up by the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League Council, was published yesterday, together with a long "memorandum of comments" by His Majesty's Government. The memorandum deals at length with the criticisms, explicit or implicit, of the policy of the mandatory contained in the report; it is, in fact, a counter-criticism, and an effective one. In it the British Government draws attention to the inconsistencies in the report of the Mandates' Commission, to the injustice of its criticisms of the policy of the mandatory during the last five years, to the apparent readiness of its members to accept ex parte statements "reflecting on the conduct of His Majesty's Government" — statements which the Government has had little or no opportunity to rebut—and to their singular refusal to accept many of the most important findings of the Shaw Commission.

ADMITTED MISCALCULATIONS.

After remarking that an official body of the international importance of the Permanent Mandates Commission is assumed to be capable of constructive, as well as of destructive, criticism, but that it has let the occasion escape it, The Times proceeds:—The Mandates Commission, it is true, has found the Shaw report of use—when it criticises British policy or British administration. No one in this country is concerned to deny that there have been miscalculations—errors of appreciation rather than of policy—on the part of the Government, which were contributory causes of the riots and murders in Palestine, or that the local authorities were guilty of sins of omission. The report of the Shaw Commission enumerated the weak points in the mandatory administration, the insufficiency of the local forces and a defective intelligence service among them. These weaknesses have been, or are in progress of being remedied, and it is expected that Sir John Simpson's report will furnish answers to the most contentious questions which were raised in the report.

After this official admission that mistakes had been made and must be remedied was it necessary for the Permanent Mandates Commission to go over all the ground already traversed by Sir Walter Shaw and his colleagues, and to paraphrase so much of their criticism? That is really all that it has done, whether in criticism or in commendation of our effort in Palestine. It has made no serious constructive criticisms of past policy, but has delivered instead a vague and rather pointless homily on what might have been, or ought to have been done.

The report will hardly improve its collective reputation, though one of its members emerges with distinct credit from its minutes. It is recorded in the official account of its third meeting, which took place on June 4th, that "Count de Penha Garcia said it was, of course, easy to be wise after the event, and nobody could have foreseen what was going to happen."

SPIRIT OF UNITY AND BROTHERHOOD.

DR. DAY AND LAMBETH CONFERENCE.

A defence of the findings of the Lambeth Conference was made by Dr. Day, Bishop of Ossory, preaching in St. Canice's Cathedral, Kilkenny, on Sunday.

Referring to the composition of the Conference, Dr. Day said assuredly it was the greatest body of Bishops, not only in numbers, but also in knowledge and experience that had ever met together in a single room in the history of the world. One of the most striking features of the Conference was the spirit of unity and brotherhood which bound the whole body together. Some of the subjects discussed were highly controversial, and often wide differences of opinion were expressed, and yet in all the debates he did not hear one harsh, bitter or hurtful word.

There was a manifest desire on all sides to understand the position of others, and to meet all the difficulties, with the result that on every subject but one a unanimous report was issued. The first and most important subject dealt with was the Christian doctrine of God, and the Committee appointed to deal with it presented a report which recognised frankly "that large numbers of the younger men and women of to-day, including many most high-minded, are alienated from the Church and from organised religion," and it called to the Church boldly to face the difficulties raised by modern thought and science.

THE CHURCH ON SCIENCE.

There was a time, not so very long ago, when the Church treated science as a doubtful friend and as a potential enemy; now she realised that God has nothing to fear from the increasing revelation of the natural forces which He created, and so the Conference called for a new readiness on the part of the clergy and laity alike to interpret the faith in the light of modern research, and called upon the clergy especially to study more keenly and systematically the best thinking of the day about the doctrine of God and the meaning of life, so that in preaching and teaching they may guide their people into the way of truth. The bishops felt that in sermons and religious teaching generally there has been a lack of positive and confident teaching about the things of God, which caused the Church to lose its influence to a great extent upon educated people.

The second subject discussed by the Conference was the difficult subject of sex and family life, and the report and resolutions on this subject had been more criticised than any of the others. "But there is nothing controversial," continued Dr. Day, "in these words about family life, 'the beauty of family life is one of God's most precious gifts, and its preservation is a paramount responsibility of the Church. Its foundation is the life-long union of husband and wife. Holy marriage is part of God's plan for mankind, and any community disregards this at its peril. Empires have perished before now because the dry rot of laxity and corruption in family life have set in; to maintain the ideal of marriage is, therefore, to preserve the social health of the community. It is a national interest of supreme value, and it follows that divorce is unnatural; it destroys the security of the union and the stability of the family.'"

The controversial part of the report was that which dealt with birth control, and this was the only point at which there was any real difference of opinion among the bishops. Sixty-seven bishops voted against the resolution, which gave a qualified assent to the use of methods of birth control under certain circumstances. The Conference affirmed as strongly as possible the duty of parenthood, as the glory of married life, and the benefit of a family as a vital contribution to the nation's welfare, and as a means of character building for both parents and children. The Conference condemned in the strongest way the refusal of healthy parents to have children in homes where there is, or by self-denial may be, provision for them. But the majority of the Bishops felt that there were cases—hard cases they may be—but none the less thousands of cases where the limitation of the family was not merely advisable, but a moral duty. It was the first time in history that any Church had given even a qualified approval to birth control, and the resolution of the Bishops had been strongly criticised.

He (Dr. Day) felt sure that the resolution was right, and he voted for it. The resolution faced the matter plainly, straightforwardly and courageously; it dealt with the facts of life as they are, and it gave guidance and help to many men and women who are perplexed and troubled, and who had a right to look for the guidance of the Church.

THE PALESTINE RIOTS.

GREAT BRITAIN'S REPLY.

A PROTEST.

The British Government's reply to the more serious criticisms levelled against them by the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations concerning events in Palestine in August and September last year was officially issued yesterday.

The Government note with satisfaction that the measures taken by them to restore and maintain order in Palestine last autumn appear to have met with the tacit approval of the Mandates Commission, and that in their opinion the action which was subsequently taken seems to "afford a guarantee that public order cannot again be seriously disturbed."

JEWISH FEARS.

The Government are also glad to note that the Commission consider that the statement of their accredited representative regarding the suspension of certain immigration permits should "dispel the fears which have been expressed in Jewish circles as to the mandatory Power's inclination to discharge in full its obligation to encourage Jewish immigration, and to ensure the establishment of the Jewish national home under the conditions stipulated in the mandate."

The memorandum proceeds:—

"It is also noted that the Commission appear disposed to acquit His Majesty's Government of any charge of failure in its obligations or its immediate duties in regard to the establishment of a regime of self-government in Palestine, that the Commission's conception of the immediate duty of the mandatory Power is in accord with that expressed by the accredited representative, and that, generally speaking, the mandatory Power's conceptions as regards future policy in Palestine are not called in question by the Commission."

SUGGESTION OF INCONSISTENCY.

"Perhaps the most important criticism," states the memorandum, "is that the partial inaction of the mandatory Power as regards its obligations to the Palestine population, both Arab and Jewish, is the fundamental cause of the friction, which eventually culminated in the serious disorder of August, 1929."

The Government suggests that the Commission is inconsistent. In one place the Commission states that the resentment which caused the Arabs to commit excesses was "ultimately due to the political disappointments which they attributed to the parties concerned in the mandate and primarily to the British Government."

Later it argues that a more active policy on the part of the Government in promoting the interests of the Arabs in the social and economic spheres and in bringing the two sections of the population, Jewish and Arab, into close association would have blunted the edge of antagonism.

THE ARAB DEMANDS.

"The Commission," states the Government, "fails to take account of the paramount importance hitherto attached by the Arab leaders to the political issue, and it ignores the fact that the demands of the Arabs have always been for a particular form of representative institutions which would be plainly incompatible with the execution of the mandate.

"The repeated offers of His Majesty's Government to associate Arabs and Jews in a form of representative government which would be compatible with their mandatory obligations have always been rejected by the Arab leaders.

"The difficulties created for the mandatory Power by this attitude on the part of the Arabs seem to be inadequately appreciated by the Mandates Commission, although they were more than once brought to their notice by the accredited representative."

THE PROTESTS.

The memorandum says the Mandates Commission argue that the Shaw Commission were wrong in holding that the outbreak was not an outbreak against British authority.

"His Majesty's Government do not find any evidence of that view," states the memorandum. "It may be that the outbreak was ultimately due to political disappointments. The evidence to which the Permanent Mandates Commission refer in support of their view is apparently the protest by various Arab authorities against the fundamental position in Palestine as fixed by the mandate itself.

"These protests are not in any sense protests against British authority, but are protests against the mandate and the action of the League of Nations.

"British authority is only implicated as being the mechanism by which the mandate is worked.

AN IMPORTANT FACT.

"Whatever may have been the attitude of the Arab leaders," the memorandum proceeds, "the significant fact remains that during the disturbances no attack was made or attempted on the local representatives of British authority.

"This fact, which speaks for itself, and which was directly brought to their notice by the accredited representative, finds no place in the report of the Permanent Mandates Commission."

As to the Commission's reference to the inadequacy of the armed forces at the disposal of the local administration, the Government point out that the reduction was carried out on the advice of a High Commissioner, to whose knowledge of the country was added the experience acquired during a distinguished military career, and that the reduction was a step in the direction of establishing civil government on more normal lines than before.

Nevertheless, in the light of subsequent events, it cannot be denied that the forces immediately available were inadequate to deal with sudden and widespread disturbances.

The Government deny that the Commission have "several times" drawn their attention to the danger of excessive reduction of British forces.

THE CORE OF THE PROBLEM.

"It is remarkable," comments the Government, "that no reference is made by the Mandates Commission to the important qualification that the mandatory shall be responsible for 'safeguarding the civil and religious rights of all the inhabitants of Palestine, irrespective of race and religion.'

"This, in the opinion of His Majesty's Government, is the core of the problem.

"Although the difficult nature of their task is elsewhere to some extent recognised, the bearing of this particular obligation upon the problem of devising measures which would admit of the increasing development of the two races side by side is largely ignored."

The Government note that "the findings of the Shaw Commission on questions of fact, such as the causes and responsibility for the outbreak, have been in some cases ignored and in others called in question."

"Whatever view may be taken as to the conclusions arrived at by the Commissioners, their verdicts on questions of fact, coming as they do from so authoritative a source, and based as they are upon actual evidence tested by vigorous cross-examination, make surprising the attitude towards them of the Mandates Commission.

GOVERNMENT'S PROTEST.

"The manner in which ex parte statements reflecting on the conduct of His Majesty's Government have been adopted by the Commission, while the considered judgments of the Shaw Commission, based on an exhaustive inquiry on the spot, and upon evidence which had been subjected to searching cross-examination by eminent counsel, have been dismissed as untenable or have been ignored, suggests that undue weight has been given to criticisms of the mandatory which His Majesty's Government had insufficient opportunity of rebutting, or, in some cases, none at all.

"His Majesty's Government cannot but feel that protest is called for against the procedure of the Commission in basing much of their criticism on information drawn from such sources."

THE COMMISSION'S CRITICISMS.

QUARREL OVER THE WAILING WALL.

The following are some of the criticisms of the Mandates Commission on the report of the British inquiry into last year's rioting in Palestine:—

The Mandates Commission considers that the Palestine disorders cannot justly be regarded as an unexpected disturbance in the midst of political calm, like the sudden explosions of popular passion which have so often been witnessed in the East. They were preceded during the last four months of 1928, and in the early part of 1929, by a number of premonitory incidents which were usually connected with the Wailing Wall.

This historic spot became, as it were, the focus of the claims of the two races concerned, each of which sought to utilise incidents unimportant in themselves in order to establish their respective claims de jure or de facto.

The quarrel over the Wailing Wall gave rise among the inhabitants of Jerusalem and throughout a large part of Palestine to a state of nervousness and suppressed excitement, which was likely on an early occasion to develop into an outbreak of violence.

The reference in the British report on the inquiry into the disturbances in Palestine—namely, that the outbreak was not directed against the British authorities—has been, in the view of the Mandates Commission, expressed too categorically.

POLITICAL DISAPPOINTMENTS.

Doubtless, the Arab attack was directed only against the Jews, but the disagreement which caused the Arabs to commit these excesses was ultimately due to political disappointments which they attribute to the parties concerned in the mandate and primarily to the British Government.

All the declarations by persons and organisations representing the Arab section tend to emphasise the fact that the Arab movement was a movement of resistence to the policy of the mandatory Power solely in its capacity as mandatory.

It goes on to say that the mandatory Power is alone responsible to the League of Nations for the mandated territory which it administers on the League's behalf, and it is on the observance of the mandate that the Commission has to advise the Council.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE.

The report then says that the Palestine Government was in several instances taken by surprise by the events which occurred there. In the case of the agitation the administration appears to have displayed a lack of insight, especially on the occasion of the Jewish demonstration before the Wall on August 15 and the Moslem counter-demonstration of the following day, the gravity of which it apparently did not foresee, and again during the days of August 20 to 23, when the danger grew imminent, and could probably have still been warded off by proper precautions.

The inadequacy of the intelligence service, which is admitted by the mandatory government, explains this failure to appreciate the situation. The hesitation of the local administration during this period is explained by the fact that at the time of the incident it had altogether inadequate armed forces at its disposal.

"UNCONVINCING ARGUMENTS."

As might have been expected in a country where explosions of religious and racial passions have constantly threatened the public peace, there was a defection on the part of the native contingent as soon as the rioting brought the two races into conflict. Some of them even joined the rioters.

It has been urged that the presence of larger forces would have had no decisive effect, and reference has been made to the massacre of 1920 and 1921, which larger British garrisons were not able to prevent.

This argument seems unconvincing, and the Permanent Mandates Commission cannot help feeling that the insufficient number of the British troops and the inadequacy of the police force was the main cause of the large area over which the disturbances took place and the gravity of their consequences.

HEBRON AND SAFED.

The circumstances attendant upon the outbreak at Hebron and Safed suffice to show that this inadequacy was largely responsible for the loss of many lives.

The report goes on to say that it is necessary to ascertain whether the mandatory Power has by the general policy it has followed since the mandate came into force done everything that could be expected of it to prevent the explosion of the antagonism that was known to exist and to lessen its violence.

Up to the present the execution of the mandate has certainly not given satisfaction either to the impatient advocates of the Jewish national home or to the Arab extremists alarmed by the influx into the country of immigrants who do not share their religious faith or their national aspirations.

THE SHAW COMMISSION.

The Shaw Commission, to which reference is made in the memorandum, was appointed to inquire into the Palestine outbreak. It consisted of Sir Walter Shaw, formerly Chief Justice of the Straits Settlements, Chairman; Sir Henry B. Betterton, M.P.; Mr. R. Hopkin Morris, M.P., and Mr. Henry Snell, M.P. The Commission went to Palestine, and its report was issued on March 31.

CANADIAN CABINET.

PARLIAMENT EXPECTED TO MEET NEXT MONTH.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
OTTAWA, Monday.

Most of the Ministers of the new Bennett Cabinet were re-elected to-day unopposed. On account of the difference in time, no report has yet been received concerning Mr. H. H. Stevens, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, who was nominated for a British Columbia constituency. It was stated that a Labour candidate might oppose him. Now that the constitutional requirement has been fulfilled—that Ministers with portfolios must be re-elected—the way is open for calling a special session of Parliament to consider the unemployment problem. The session is likely to start about September 10, and will probably last about two weeks, ending in time to allow Mr. Bennett and his colleagues to reach England for the opening of the Imperial Conference.

PERUVIAN REVOLT.

EX-PRESIDENT'S HOUSE ATTACKED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
NEW YORK, Monday.

Senor Leguia, President, and virtual Dictator of Peru, is reported to have resigned and to have fled to Panama on board a cruiser.

The revolt, which was led by Colonel Sanchez Cerro, is proceeding quietly. Despatches from the newspaper La Nacion say that popular manifestations are being held in the streets of Lima. The police are watching carefully, but so far there has been no trouble.

A new Military Cabinet has been sworn in, with General Semiento, who has been nominated Minister of War, as President of the Council.

VIOLENT SCENES.

Later messages state that there were violent scenes in Lima to-day, says the Lima correspondent of the Associated Press, following the departure of the former President. Some members of the mob who had been roaming the streets shouting vengeance against the fallen politicians of the dictatorship, attacked ex-President Leguia's house, running a motor lorry against the door and breaking it in. They were driven back by the ex-President's servants, who fired at the mob, causing several casualties. Another section of the mob attacked and ransacked the house of the former Foreign Minister, Senor Pedro Jose Radagamio.

A number of political prisoners in the central prison on hearing of the overthrow of the Government demanded their freedom. Their request was refused, and one of the guard fired at a crowd of men who attacked him. Several were injured and had to be taken to hospital. Demonstrators attacked the offices of newspapers which they regarded as organs of the Leguia Party. The office of La Prensa was stoned, and some doors and windows were broken.

MR. SCULLIN'S HEALTH IMPROVED.

HE WILL ATTEND THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
PERTH, WESTERN AUSTRALIA, Monday.

The condition of Mr. Scullin, the Commonwealth Prime Minister, who has been suffering from bronchitis and pleurisy, is much improved, and after consultation with two doctors he has decided that he is sufficiently strong to proceed on his journey to England for the Imperial Conference.

Accordingly he has been taken straight from his bed in the train to the Orama. To those around him he expressed gratification at the solicitous farewell given to him by the public, and hoped that he would be strong enough adequately to represent Australia at the Conference.

FRENCH NAVAL PLANS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Monday.

An interview with M. Dumesnil, the Minister for Marine, on France's naval programme, is published in the Petit Parisien this morning.

M. Dumesnil recalls that the London Naval Treaty imposed no limitation on the French building programme.

"Last May," he continues, "I was able to display to the President of the Republic at Algiers, side by side with modernised battleships of the Bretagne type, a splendid force of new vessels, including three 10,000-ton cruisers. Since the beginning of this year I have authorised the laying down of the vessels constituting the 1930 programme."

M. Dumesnil said that he had re-introduced the system of carrying out part of the training of naval officers in sailing ships, "the finest school for seamen."

Another important task, after the modernisation of the fleet was the modernisation of ports and arsenals. Modernisation must be the keynote in everything.

"While holding fast to precious moral traditions," the Minister concluded, "the navy must become a young organism, taking advantage of all modern technical progress."

THE BROMLEY BY-ELECTION.

MR. BALDWIN'S LETTER TO MR. CAMPBELL.

Mr. E. T. Campbell, the Conservative candidate at the Bromley by-election, has received the following letter from Mr. Baldwin, who is at present holiday-making at Aix-les-Bains:—

"23rd August, 1930.

"MY DEAR CAMPBELL,—I was very surprised to hear that the local branch of the United Empire Party had decided to oppose you in the Bromley by-election. After reading your election address and your views on Empire policy, it is difficult to understand their object. Everyone who knew you in the House of Commons will testify to the fact that your speeches in Empire debates showed practical knowledge of Empire affairs and anxiety for further reciprocity between the mother country and the Empire.

"I appeal to all Conservatives throughout the constituency, and especially to those who hold strong views on Empire policy, to rally round you in this important by-election and vote for you on September 2nd, since the Conservative Party is the only party who can carry such a policy into effect. To support any other candidate would split the Tory vote, and would play straight into the hands of the opponents of this very Empire policy, the prospects of which would thereby be jeopardised for many years to come."

CONSERVATIVE OFFICE AND MR. REDWOOD.

The Conservative Central Office Press Department issued the following yesterday:—

"Further information regarding the career of Mr. V. C. Redwood, United Empire Party candidate for Bromley, is now available. Mr. Redwood was elected to the Queensland Parliament in 1908 to support an anti-Socialist Government. In June, 1909, he supported a Labour motion of no confidence, which resulted in this Government being defeated. At the subsequent election he stood for Toowoomba as an Independent, pledged to support the Socialist Government, and was heavily defeated.

"As a member of the Queensland Parliament he made several speeches advocating nationalisation, particularly of the railways, of the liquor trade, of banks and insurance companies. When his political career came to an end he had his voice trained and embarked on a career as a public singer. He visited Queensland and appeared under the name of Senor Vernon Brisbani."

MR. REDWOOD'S REPLY.

At the conclusion of his meeting at Beckenham last night, where, in conjunction with the other three candidates, he addressed a meeting organised by the National Citizens' Union, Mr. V. C. Redwood, the United Empire candidate, said to a Press Association reporter:—"I have seen the statement issued by the Conservative Central Office. It is wrong, entirely wrong. I stood twice on my own policy, and at my own expense, for the city of Toowoomba (Queensland). Twice I was defeated. The third time the Premier came to me and asked me to join his party, which consisted of vigorous Conservative and Labour men. I have never sat as a Conservative. I have never sat as Labour, I have never supported nationalisation. When the Premier broke away I voted on my own, and through illness I was defeated.

"Yes, it is true I have sung in public. I have raised may thousands of pounds for charity, and during the war I did everything I could to help the Government. I certainly did sing in the name of Senor Vernon Brisbani."

During the evening, Mr. Redwood, in reply to questions, said: "I did not advocate the nationalisation of the liquor trade in Queensland. I believe that the liquor trade should be regulated on sound lines, as is taking place in this country, by giving people real refreshment places."

Mr. R. McLaren, aged 27, a mill clerk employed in Messrs. Birds' standard jute mill at Titaghur, India, was accidentally shot on Sunday with a revolver by a friend with whom he was spending a holiday in a bungalow at Narayanganj, in the Dacca district.—(Reuter.)

the leading agitators. The Mullah appeared with a large gathering of armed tribesmen amounting to a regular lashkar, and sent a message that he was prepared to surrender on condition that he was permitted to march with his armed following, first to the place of meeting, and thence to Bannu Gaol, where they would give themselves up.

A magistrate and a political officer were sent to parley with the leaders, but the Mullah, with the hostile lashkar continued to advance towards the place where the meeting was to be held, and in doing so came up against a platoon of infantry.

Captain Ashcroft, who accompanied the platoon, was attacked by a man in the lashkar, and in attempting to defend himself was shot dead from behind. A general engagement at close quarters with hand-to-hand fighting took place, resulting in heavy casualties on both sides.

Whilst this conflict was taking place near the Bannu Kohat road a motor car with two British officers in it, which happened to pass along, was fired at by other members of the lashkar. One bullet passed between the front and back seats of the car, but no damage was done. The Bann Kohat road has been closed to European passengers, and arrangements have been made for patrolling the road between Bannu and Latambar.

SHANAPUR AFFAIR.

GONDS RESIST ARREST.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
NAGPUR, Sunday.

The police yesterday came into violent collision with a mob of one thousand Gonds (low-class natives) in the village of Shanapur, in the Betul district, when an attempt was being made to arrest the ringleader of a gang of men engaged in breaking the Forest Law. Several policemen were seriously injured, and one constable is reported to be missing. A lathi charge having failed, the police opened fire, killing one Gond. Armed police are hurrying to the spot, the latest report being to the effect that the Gonds are assembling in large numbers.

INDIAN BOMB OUTRAGE.

CALCUTTA, Tuesday.

After a search of the Canning Hostel, which is attached to Bangabashi College, the police arrested at midnight five boarders and two friends.

It is understood that one of the twenty-six house searches, at present going on in Calcutta, has revealed a book containing a list of names of members of a terrorist band, who are planning outrages in Calcutta and throughout Bengal. The perpetrators of yesterday's outrage were seen by an eye-witness to scale the railings leading from the gardens of Dalhousie square to the road, there is always a crowd at this spot, and Sir Charles Tegart's assailants doubtless relied on this. The perpetrators of the outrage are understood to be three men. One of them was killed, another wounded and arrested, and the third escaped.

EUROPEAN ASSOCIATION'S MESSAGE.

The report that Sir Charles Tegart shot one of his assailants is completely unfounded. Sir Charles is indignant at this baseless rumour; for he did not fire his revolver, though he instinctively seized it as a measure of self-protection. The men arrested as a result of last evening's house searches belong to the same body as the Chittagong armoury raiders. The arrested law student will appear before the magistrate to-day.

PEACE TALKS AT SIMLA

SIMLA, Monday.

Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru is due here to-morrow to join with Mr. Jayakar in the negotiations with the Viceroy and the Government of India on the basis of the letter transmitted to the Viceroy through Mr. Jayakar from Mr. Gandhi, Pandit Motilal Nehru, and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru.

Mr. Jayakar reached here on Thursday, the same day as the letter, and had a three-hour interview with the Viceroy soon after his arrival. He has since been indefatigably conversing with different members of the Government in preparation for the pending more formal discussions.

The letter has been successfully withhold from the Congress leaders. A summary of its chief points has been published, but it is authoritatively declared in an unofficial quarter that this summary is incorrect. There is reason to believe that the letter is a very long one, but Mr. Jayakar and Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru evidently hope it contains what may yet be made the groundwork of a general agreement.

Bombay City appears to share their hope, but it is impossible to discover a similar state of optimism anywhere else in India, either in official or in unofficial calculations, nor does anybody exhibit distress at the possibility of the breakdown of negotiations.

ALLEGED BRITISH RUM-RUNNER

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
SAVANNAH, GEORGIA, Monday.

The motor ship, Nedeva, said to be of British registry, was brought into port to-day by coastguard vessels, with a cargo of assorted liquors valued at about $40,000 (£8,000). The ship was captured at the mouth of St. Catherine's Sound.

Lieutenant Burton, who effected the capture, said that he sighted the Nedeva at dusk yesterday evening, seven miles away. Although the motor ship tried to make off the coastguard vessel intercepted her before she reached St. Catherine's Island. As the coastguard boat drew near three of the Nedeva's crew jumped overboard into a lifeboat, while a fourth sought safety by hiding among the cargo. The coastguard vessel struck the motor ship on the starboard side, opening her seams. The Nedeva was brought to port otherwise intact with her cargo.

ANOTHER ALLEGED LIQUOR SHIP.

OSLO, Monday.

A motor schooner, the name of which is given as Emanuel, of London, arrived at Roervik, to the north of Namsos, on Sunday evening with engine trouble. The Customs officials, it is alleged, suspected the vessel of carrying liquor, and searched her. According to the newspapers, the vessel's papers showed that she was bound from Antwerp for Archangel with a cargo of 25,000 litres (about 50,000 gallons) of liquor.

A strong guard was placed on board the schooner, and policemen were sent to Roervik to investigate the matter, while a coastguard cutter was also despatched to the scene to take the liquor to Nidaros (Trondhjem).

Of the eight men on board the schooner, seven are believed to be Englishmen, while the remaining man is reported to be a German. This latter individual, who got on board a vessel bound for Nidaros, will be met by the police on his arrival there. The other members of the crew have not been allowed to leave the vessel.

[NOTE.—A system of partial prohibition is in force in Norway, and, in view of the fact that there was apparently no concealment of the nature of the cargo, it is to be supposed that the detention of the ship is of a purely technical character.]

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S SALARY.

The salary of the County Surveyor of OFFALY, under the new county engineering scheme which is to come into force, has been fixed by the County Council at £700. The existing salary and bonus came to £600.

DOGS POISONED.

During the past week a number of dogs, stated to have reached a total of fourteen, have been poisoned in the vicinity of OLDCASTLE, Co. Meath. Greyhound owners are in a dilemma with regard to exercising their charges.

TICKET COLLECTOR INJURED.

AN ANCIENT COIN.

The Rev. J. R. MacDonald, Rector of Waringstown, near LURGAN, has found a groat coin of King David II. of Scotland, struck in Edinburgh about 1366. The coin was found in St. Patrick's graveyard, Donacloney, near Waringstown, and bears the following inscription:—"David, by the grace of God, King of the Scots, resident at Edinburgh. The Lord is my protector."

PRIEST'S JUBILEE.

The Very Rev. Canon Eugene McMahon, parish priest of Cleenish, COUNTY FERMANAGH, celebrated his jubilee on Sunday, when charity sermons were preached in the three churches in his diocese in aid of a fund to clear off the parish debt. Canon McMahon is a native of County Monaghan, and was educated at the Irish College, Paris. In his younger days he took an active interest in politics, and was a warm supporter of the Irish Party. He has always taken a deep interest in education in the county.

SHEEP SALE AT ASHFORD.

The annual sheep sale held at ASHFORD by Messrs. Haskins Bros., salesmen, Wicklow, yesterday, proved one of the most successful for the year in the county. Nearly 3,000 sheep changed hands. Many buyers were present from all parts of the country, from Dublin, Meath, Kildare, etc., and hardly any of the stock offered remained on the owners' hands at the end of the day. The prices showed a distinct advance on recent quotations, ewes running well up to an average of 50s., and lambs over 30s.

CORONER AND HEART DISEASE.

"Deceased had a weak heart, and that is a disease which does not give anyone much notice," said Mr. John Tracey, City Coroner, at an inquest yesterday in DERRY on Alexander McCallion, aged 45, who was found dead in his lodgings on Saturday night in Osborne street, Rosemount. McCallion, it was stated, had three glasses of wine and a bottle of stout before he was assisted home. Medical evidence was given that death was due to heart failure, and a verdict was returned accordingly.

LORRY DRIVER FINED £5.

At PORTADOWN Petty Sessions yesterday, before Major McCallum, Resident Magistrate. Robert McCrory, Mullivilly, Tandragee, was charged with being drunk in charge of a motor lorry at Portadown on the 14th inst., and with driving at a speed dangerous to the public. The police evidence was that the defendant was drunk and incapable of driving, and this was borne out by Dr. McDonald, who examined the defendant in the barracks. The defendant was fined £5, and his licence suspended for 12 months. On the second charge he was dealt with as a first offender on paying 20s. costs.

AVOCA OCHRE WORKS.

At a meeting held in AVOCA on Sunday, Father O'Connell presiding, on the motion of Mr. Gaffney, seconded by Mr. Byrne, the following resolution was passed:—"That we respectfully call upon the Government to take such steps, or to pass such legislation as will compel the owners of the Avoca ochre works either to work the mines themselves or to let at such a figure as will be economic; that we believe that the rents and royalties they heretofore charged are wholly out of proportion to the actual value, and must have the effect of closing this industry; that we are satisfied if a proper economic rent be charged this industry will provide employment for all the local men, and many outside the area."

Mr. Joseph Barron, principal, Piltown National School, has been appointed principal of THOMASTOWN National School, in succession to Mr. Thomas O'Gorman, who resigned after 31 years' service.

LOUTH SHOW.

Louth Show will be held at DUNDALK on September 3rd and 4th. For the jumping and driving competitions there are prizes totalling £100 and a silver cup. The entries close on Monday with the honorary secretary, Earl street, Dundalk.

FUNERAL OF CANON COHALAN.

The funeral of the late Canon Cohalan, P.P., Bandon, brother of the Bishop of Cork, took place at Bandon yesterday. The business of the town was suspended for some hours as a manifestation of sorrow. During the Solemn Office, the Venerable Archdeacon McCarthy, P.P., Kinsale, presided, the celebrant of the Requiem High Mass being Bishop Cohalan. There were over 160 clergy present, delegates from public bodies, and representatives of Cork military headquarters.

A SUNDAY COURT.

At a special court in NEWRY on Sunday, a farmer named Owen McAteer, Ballyholland, Newry, was remanded in custody, charged with having that morning assaulted Constables McClung and Monaghan. The evidence showed that in consequence of a report the constables motored to Ballyholland, where they found defendant, armed with a spade. McAteer, it was stated, tried to strike them with the spade, and threatened to kill anyone who approached him. They succeeded, however, in disarming him.

GEASHILL CHURCH RE-OPENED.

The Service for the re-opening of GEASHILL Church took place on Sunday. The church has been re-painted and redecorated. The seating capacity of the building was taxed to the utmost. The clergy present were:—The Rev. Canon C. R. Kitching, M.A. (rector); the Rev. C. T. Rennison, M.A., and the Rev. T. C. Hammond, M.A., who preached the sermon. The preacher dwelt on the subject of public worship, and, deploring the laxity of the present age in this respect, urged a greater reverence for church attendance on Sundays.

RENT COLLECTOR'S WHISTLE.

That a rent collector employed by the LONGFORD Board of Health announced his arrival to the tenant of a labourer's cottage by blowing a whistle was given in evidence at Ballymahon District Court, before Mr J. P. Kenny. The Board sued Patrick Maguire, Carrigedmond, for possession, there being nineteen weeks' rent due, amounting to £5 11s. 8d. The tenancy was weekly. Mrs. Maguire, wife of the tenant, said that Miss Shanly, the rent collector, would not call to their house for the rent. "Miss Shanly's father collects the rent too, and he has a whistle. When he comes to the end of the boreen he won't come to the house, but takes out his whistle and blows it." The decree sought was made, with a stay for one month.

RECKLESS DRIVING.

When Frank Harkness, TULLYHOGUE, was charged at Dungannon Petty Sessions yesterday with recklessly driving a lorry, William Caldwell, Tullynure, said the lorry tore along the road at fifty to sixty miles per hour, and could not take the bend, crashing into the bank. Mr. B. B. Hoy, who defended, asked witness if he knew that Nuvolari won the T.T. race at a little over seventy miles an hour. "He couldn't have passed the lorry man," replied the witness. Mr. Moriarty, Resident Magistrate, said it was a gross case of driving in a manner dangerous to the public. He imposed a fine of £3 and 20s. extra costs.

TOWN LIGHTING CRUX.

At a special meeting of the MULLINGAR Town Commissioners yesterday, called for the purpose of considering tenders for the lighting of the town, a letter was received from the Electricity Supply Board stating that the Commissioners must bear the cost of all extensions. In their tender the cost of extensions was quoted at £510 13s. The total tender of the Electricity Supply Board was £871 13s. (including extensions). The Midland Lighting Company (gas) tendered at £285 17s. Mr. T. Gavin proposed, and Mr. J. Carroll seconded, that the tender of the Midland (Mullingar) Gas Company be accepted. Mr. P. Brett said that it was monstrous to ask the Commissioners to pay £510 for extensions. His view was that the Supply Board were not running the scheme to the advantage of the country. Mr. T. J. Shaw proposed, as an amendment, that the tenders be adjourned for a week, and that in the meantime the Mullingar Gas Company be asked to quote for 79 lamps at so much per lamp, covering the areas where extensions would be required, with a view to a lighting compromise, in which the main streets would be electrically lighted. On a division, seven voted for the amendment and seven against. The Chairman gave his casting vote for the amendment, which was passed.

MOTOR COACH IN COLLISION.

TWENTY-EIGHT PERSONS INJURED.

Twenty-eight people were injured when a motor coach containing tourists, most of whom are understood to be Americans, collided with a small car at Blackthorne Station, Bicester, Oxfordshire, last night. The coach afterwards dashed into a wall.

The motor coach, belonging to a Hampstead company, contained some twenty-four passengers, who were members of a conducted party of American tourists. When leaving Blackthorne the driver of the coach swerved to avoid a car at a "blind" corner. A collision occurred, the coach crashing head-on into the wall of a bridge. The stonework was very strong, and prevented the vehicle from falling over on to the railway below.

As the result of the impact, the whole of the seats of the coach were swept into a pile at the end of the coach. The party was conducted by Mr. Frederick George Boyer, of Mackinson road, Hampstead, Lonodn, and after the accident he said that he opened one of the doors, and, with the aid of a number of passing motorists, was able to get the passengers out.

Two doctors from Aylesbury were quickly on the scene, and as first aid was rendered to the passengers, they were placed in motor lorries and conveyed to Bicester Cottage Hospital. From Bicester the more serious cases were sent on to Oxford.

Later in the evening, on account of pressure on the accommodation at the Cottage Hospital, the passengers were removed from there to London.

THE LATEST POSITION.

The Financial News understands that the latest position of Waring and Gillow is as follows:—The negotiations with the banks are proceeding favourably, but certain creditors are still unwilling to come to an arrangement. If during the next few days any considerable number of writs is served by creditors, the trustees for the Debenture holders (the Law Debenture Corporation) will be compelled to put in a receiver. It is hoped that this will not be necessary, since the creditors are likely to receive their money sooner by coming to a business arrangement (since there is no question of assets being insufficient) than by bringing on themselves the lengthy formalities of a receivership.

WOMAN'S DEATH MYSTERY.

Adjourning until September 15th the inquest at Worcester yesterday on Miriam Bradley (48), a married woman, living apart from her husband, the coroner said that the post-mortem had failed to reveal the cause of her death, and certain organs had been sent for analysis. A police constable said that he could find no letters or drugs in the house at Orchard street where the woman died. Witnesses stated that they assisted the woman to alight from a 'bus. She seemed unable to walk, but spoke in such a way that they did not think she was the worse for drink. They left her at her home. William Ames, for whom Mrs. Bradley kept house, said that when he arrived home from work he found her dead in a chair.

BRITISH NAVAL VISIT TO RUMANIA.

QUEEN HELENE ON A DESTROYER.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
CONSTANZA, Monday.

Queen Helene and Prince Michael, accompanied by the Minister of War, General Condescu, and Admiral Scodrea, with twenty officers of the Rumanian Navy, went on board the British destroyer Ardent to-day. The destroyer immediately put out to sea for manœuvres. On their return this evening Rear-Admiral Davies, the Commander of the Squadron, and his officers dined at the Royal Palace at Mamaia, near Constanza.

AMERICA CUP.

FROM REUTER'S SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.
NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND, Monday.

Sunday did not mean a day of inactivity here. Sir Thomas Lipton's sleek, green sloop went out of the harbour early for a spin over the Ocean course, and seemed to enjoy the heavy weather, for she rode the seas easily. She had aboard her new local pilot, Captain William Stewart, who will be first assistant to Shamrock's skipper, Captain Hearn, in the coming races.

Captain Stewart is a native of England, but is a naturalised American citizen. He is a resident of Glencove, New York, and because of his familiarity with the tides and currents here he has been selected for the post. He was a member of the crew of Valkyrie III., the late Lord Dunraven's unsuccessful challenger, in 1895.

FUNERAL OF FAMOUS FRENCH POET.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
VIENNE, ISERE, Monday.

The funeral of the well-known poet, Andre Rivoire, who was a native of Vienne, took place here this morning. Andre Rivoire wrote a number of plays, both in verse and prose, collaborating with Lucien Besnard in Mon Ami Teddy and with Maurice Donnay in La Belle Angevine.

NEW POLISH CABINET.

STOCKS CLOSE WEAK.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.
NEW YORK, Monday.

The opening tendency was firm. The somewhat better tone of week-end reports, including a more active demand for steel products at Youngstown and Chicago, and some improvement in wholesale and retail buying in the Middle West, resulted in the resumption of moderate bullish activity by professionals. Many issues, such as American Waterworks, Case Threshing Machine, New York Central, U.S. Steel, Columbia Carbon and Eastman Kodak, rose 1 to 4 points. However, weakness developed in Oils, which unsettled the entire list, cancelling the early advances, and causing numerous declines of 1 to 3 points, with Skelly Oil, Shell Union Oil and Sinclair Oil touching new low levels. The liquidation in Oils reflected growing discouragement in speculative circles over the industry's earning prospects and progress in reduction of gasoline stocks. It was pointed out that the statistical position of the oil industry was better than a year ago, but that prices were lower, and the dividend rate of some of the companies endangered. Vanadium Corporation broke sharply following the publication of an analysis indicating reduced earnings for the second half of the year. The declines in Oils, embracing Standard of New Jersey, Houston Oil, Atlantic refining, Skelly Oil and Sinclair Oil, were restricted to 1 to 2 points, but the general list extended its losses in the final dealings. The market closed weak. Canadian Corporation and Goodyear Tire dropped 6 points, and Columbia Carbon, Case Threshing Machine, American Waterworks, U.S. Steel, New York Consolidated Gas, American Can, Eastman Kodak, Loews Incorporated, United Aircraft, Worthington Pump, Radio Corporation, American Tobacco "B" and Allied Chemical declined 1 to 3 points. Government Bonds firm. Railroad Bonds steady. The day's sales totalled 1,597,000 shares.

Money on call closed steady at 2 per cent. bid and 2¼ per cent. asked. All loans were transacted at 2 per cent. Sterling exchange easier. Silver ⅜c. up at 35⅝.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Monday.

WHEAT opened steady, ⅜c. lower to unchanged. Receipts of 1,200 cars for the week at Minneapolis and Duluth, and the Department of Agriculture estimating that the wheat crop in twenty-two countries would show an increase of 4 per cent. compared with last year, together with larger visible stocks and fine weather conditions in the North-West, had a bearish effect on the market. The close was barely steady at ⅜c. to ⅝c. loss.

FRUIT-GROWING.

the industry of soft fruit cultivation is to these districts, and what possibilities there are for development. Soft fruits, however, being a very perishable commodity, require a ready market at a price which allows reasonable remuneration to the grower after allowances being made for all out-of-pocket expenses; and, having investigated all the circumstances, we have to consider what remedial measures are necessary to bring about an improvement of existing conditions of production and marketing of the crop.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

"We, therefore, submit the following recommendations for consideration:—

(1) That immediate steps should be taken to form a Fruit Growers' Association for the districts of Duleek, Julianstown, Stamullen and Gormanstown, and that all fruit growers in these districts be invited to become members of the Association when formed. That such Association should have for its object the promotion of the interests of all fruit-growers, whether of soft fruits or other fruits in these districts, by facilitating the co-operation of all fruit growers and others interested with a view to the protection of fruit-growing as an industry by any legal ways and means which in the opinion of such an Association would be conducive to the attainment of this object. The activities of such an Association would be many and varied, and as time went on schemes could be promoted with a view to assisting in the improvement of the system of cultivating and marketing the fruit. The setting-up of this Association would be a preparatory step towards the discovery and exploitation of new markets, and the establishment of distributing stations in suitable areas in order to facilitate the sale of fruit to private consumers;

(2) The encouragement of small landholders and occupiers of labourers' cottages to engage in the cultivation of soft fruits, as it had been ascertained that increased supplies of soft fruits could be purchased by jam manufacturers in Dublin and elsewhere, who were at present obliged to satisfy their requirements by imported supplies from Great Britain and pulp from abroad.

(3) The holding of frequent meetings in convenient centres, at which instructors from the Department should be present to give lectures and demonstrations in new methods of cultivation and marketing of fruits.

(4) The introduction of new varieties of soft fruits, and, wherever feasible, the making of experiments in same.

PROPOSED JAM FACTORY.

Discussing the suggested establishment of a jam factory at Duleek, the Committee reported: "We have no hesitation whatever in reaching the conclusion that such a local factory, if set up and financed by the fruit growers themselves to the extent necessary to secure to them the controlling interest in the concern, should, if properly conducted, prove a paying proposition. This project requires most careful consideration, and would necessitate expert advice and assistance from persons qualified by means of their practical experience in the working of similar undertakings and conversance with trading conditions."

The report was unanimously adopted, and it was decided to form a fruit growers' association.

The following Executive Committee was elected:—Chairman, Mr. George King, Julianstown; Vice-Chairman, Mr. Michael Moss, Duleek; joint treasurers, Mr. Richard Clarke, Duleek, and Mr. George King, Julianstown; secretary, Mr. P. McCarthy, Duleek. Committee—Messrs. P. Curley, P. Carragher and James Loughran, Duleek; Joseph White, Patrick Duffy, Joseph Kinnane, James Prendergast and Patrick Purfield, Stamullen and Gormanstown; P. C. Markey, Patrick Murphy and J. P. Markey, Julianstown.

OBITUARY.

MR. HANS ITEN.

The death of Mr. Hans Iten, a noted Belfast artist, who resided at South parade, Belfast, took place during the week-end at Bulach, Switzerland. Mr. Iten was a well-known exhibiter at the Belfast Art Society's annual exhibitions, and also in Dublin, Great Britain and on the Continent. He has been an exhibitor in the Royal Academy since 1927. He also exhibited in the Official Salon of the Society of French artists, the Royal Hibernian Academy and in the Walker Gallery.

Mr. Iten received his education at St. Gall, Switzerland, and afterwards studied in Paris. His best work was accomplished in still life, and his floral pictures were the delight of all who love flowers.

THE FLOODED FIELD.—The heavy rains of the last three weeks have laid waste many a fair meadow and many an acre of standing corn. Here is a photograph of a field of unsaved hay near Portadown.

WELCOME DANGER.—"Charley's Aunt," as she appeared at a fête held on Skerries Strand, Co. Dublin, in aid of a local Church Restoration Fund.

IN SPATE.—A photograph of the Meeting of the Waters, in Co. Wicklow, which is in itself a pictorial commentary on the rains.

Buy Your Coal NOW BEFORE PRICES ADVANCE

THIS is the best time of the year to buy Coal. Prices are still at lowest Summer levels, and by buying NOW, before prices advance, you can save shillings per ton.

BUY good coal this time. Coal that will burn long and brightly. Coal that will throw out a radiance of cheer and comfort. Coal that will give utmost satisfaction to the last shovelful.

COALS WE RECOMMEND

GOLDEN ASH—This famous Coal is in great demand for use in Reception, Sitting, Dining Rooms, etc. Burning with a bright clear blaze, it makes a delightfully cheerful, lasting fire of great heat, which is very economical and satisfactory. Very clean and little ashes.

At 44/- per ton less 2/- per ton for cash, delivered in city, it is unrivalled for value and satisfaction.

YORK HOUSE—This is a thoroughly good Coal, free of slack, and better than most Wigans; it makes a clear, bright fire of great heat and leaves little ash.

At 40/- per ton, less 2/- per ton for cash, delivered in city, it is splendid value.

WE CAN ALSO SUPPLY

KITCHEN COAL at 36/-, less 2/- per ton for cash, delivered in city. BEST WALLSEND, BEST ORRELL, BEST WIGAN at reasonable prices; also BEST GAS COKE at lowest city prices. All Coals sent out in splendid condition, double screened and hand picked. Prompt Deliveries Guaranteed for Any Quantity.

Special Quotations for Coals on Rail and Institutions; also by Motor Lorries to any country district.

Mrs. Cottington Taylor
Good Housekeeping Institute

"I AM always interested in any preparation which assists the housewife to provide attractive dishes and has real food value. In gravy preparations particularly, flavour and nourishment are of even greater importance than thickening and colouring properties.

"We have used Stok in Good Housekeeping Institute in the preparation of many dishes.

"I can recommend it heartily as being an excellent gravy preparation—it is simple to use, gives meat dishes a delicious flavour and adds to their nourishment."

D. D. COTTINGTON TAYLOR
Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

THERE couldn't be a finer recommendation for Stok than this opinion, expressed by such a famous cookery expert—an opinion shared by nine other cookery experts, who helped to formulate Stok.

Stok makes wonderful gravy—so rich, so brown, so full of nourishment, for, unlike ordinary gravy preparations, Stok is made from meat, blended with other important ingredients to give it seasoning.

It's so simple to use, too! It flavours, thickens, and colours at the same time. Your grocer has Stok—2½d. and 7½d., or send for it to The Aintree Company Ltd., North John St., Liverpool.

Try this delicious recipe for MINCE

10 ozs. cooked beef, 1 small onion, 1 oz. dripping, 1 oz. flour, 3 gills gravy made with 3 teaspoonfuls Stok and 3 gills water, a few drops Worcester Sauce or Mushroom Ketchup, pepper and salt.

Chop the onion finely and fry it in the melted dripping. Remove from the pan, add the flour and cook gently over a slow heat until it is sufficiently browned. Then add the gravy, made with Stok, bring to the boil, return the onion, add pepper, salt, Worcester Sauce, and simmer gently for half an hour. If the gravy boils away during cooking, a little more may be added. Add the minced beef and re-heat for about 8 minutes, but do not bring to the boil.

TRAWLER "CATCHES" A TORPEDO.

A torpedo sixteen feet long, "caught" by the trawler Fyldea, was brought to Fleetwood by the vessel yesterday. The Fyldea was fishing in ninety fathoms off Tiumpan Head, in the Island of Lewis, Outer Hebrides, when the torpedo became entangled in the net, causing extensive damage. From the appearance of the torpedo it is believed to have been fired some years ago, and is thought to be of British origin. The interior of the gyroscope is in perfect condition.

Mrs. O'Connor, of 23 Queen street, DUBLIN, collapsed in her home yesterday afternoon, and was dead when admitted to the Richmond Hospital. An inquest will be held to-day.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE

EBOR CANDIDATES CONSIDERED.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.
YORK, Monday Night.

M. E. St. Alary will attempt to win the Ebor Handicap for the second year in succession with Bonny Boy II., and Mr. Arthur Fawcett, who framed the handicap, is convinced that he has not gone back since his successful effort last year. He has the Ascot Stakes running to give him a line, and it is on that running that he has weighted him and Brown Jack. The last-named is on the top of his form, and Lord Rosebery will have a fancied runner in The Bastard. Saracen likes the going to be good, and Sam Darling has Brumeux and the well-handicapped Poor Man to choose from. Poor Man has been such a failure this year that one cannot recommend him, and Brumeux will have to do very much better than at Ascot to beat Bonny Boy II. and Brown Jack.

We were pleased to see Monastic Haste win at Stockton, but the 12lb. penalty should be a barrier to his further success here. Dark Hillock, I suppose, will again be fancied. His turn to win a handicap is long overdue, and Mr. Clayton, who is very optimistic regarding Six Wheeler's stamina, expects his consistent horse to win.

NOT EASY TO SIZE UP.

There is one in the race who is not easy to size up, and that is Lord Derby's filly, Norland, who is by Rowland. Norland has won four out of the five races in which she has competed, and it was a seasoned horse in Pickle who beat her at Bevereley in May. She did not appear in public last year, but I am told she is very much fancied, and there should be no mistake with Cap-a-Pie and Servus in the stable, and in such form as well.

In the Convivial Plate the half-sister to Royal Minstrel and Qurrat-al-Ain has been nominated by Mr. Maher, and this grey filly by Manna is called Manana. Atbara and Windybrae have the best credentials of those who have appeared, and they are fully penalised for their forward running. Wall Street had the makings of a good colt, but his last effort puts him out of the picture.

Mr. Boazman has a chance with Old Friend in the Great Yorkshire Stakes after his disappointment at Stockton, and the best of the opposition may be Sea Rover, as I hear that Parenthesis is not a certain runner.

The Gimcrack Stakes sees Fred Darling with a strong hand to play from—Lord Ellesmere's two crack youngsters, Lemnarchus and Four Course, Lord Lonsdale's Emolument, a half-sister to Endowment, and Mr. Dewar's Silverburn. Mr. J. B. Leigh runs Lightning Star, who is hardly a class colt to look at, but he won the New Stakes in good style, and I have no doubt that he will get the six furlongs. Anyway, Harry Wragg has been engaged to ride him. Hill Cat is a son of Marten, and has already proved his capabilities.

The Harewood Handicap is a tricky sprint, and the best of the entry may be Pasha, Grandmaster, Quartrain, and The Dominie.

FIRST DAY FANCIES.

The Nunthorpe Stakes will be the race of the first afternoon, when Tag End, Oak Ridge, and Sir Cosmo are down to compete. Sir Cosmo should beat them on the July Cup form, but the shorter course will suit Oak Ridge and Tag End. Qurrat-al-Ain and Grace Dalrymple will not disgrace the three-year-olds, but I prefer to rely on OAK RIDGE.

Lord Derby's EIRENE enjoys the full allowances in the Yorkshire Oaks, and if she is going to win the St. Leger she must take this event, and with something to spare, while the best of the opposition may be Glorious Devon and Wedding Favour.

Lord Woolavington runs BALANCE in the Badminton Plate, and as he should have benefited by his race at Ascot, and is a useful colt, he should win this.

LONDON BETTING—YESTERDAY.

There was a fair attendance at the Victoria Club yesterday for the call-over on the St. Leger. Business was very light. Parenthesis was the first horse called. Fives were offered to small sums, when a leading layer offered five "monkeys." A wager of 1,000 to 200 was then accepted, but this rate was again offered. The only other candidates supported were Rameses the Second, about whom a wager of 1,000 to 60 was accepted and again offered, and Prince Paradise. Small sums were invested on the latter at 33 to 1, when the layers curtailed their offers to 25 to 1. This candidate will probably see a shorter price. The remaining horses were on offer at their quoted rates.

YORK TO-DAY : PROBABLE STARTERS AND BETTING.

EIRENE'S CHANCE IN YORKSHIRE OAKS.

OAK RIDGE MAY WIN THE NUNTHORPE.

There are few more enjoyable fixtures than that provided on the historic Knavesmire by the York Executive. At the opening stage to-day the Yorkshire Oaks, the Nunthorpe Sweepstakes and the Prince of Wales's Plate are valuable races, in which class will be well represented. The Yorkshire Oaks is chosen for the next public appearance of Lord Derby's St. Leger filly, Eirene. As a serious challenger for the last of the classics she makes little appeal to me, but she should be at home in this class, and if she is as good as she is thought to be at Newmarket she should be a good winner. Wedding Favour is a recent winner who has been going well in home gallops. Her performance when winning the Ellesmere Stakes at Newmarket from Advancer, Annaly and Bank Rate was better than anything she had done previously, and she should go close here. Glorious Devon, who runs in preference to the Oaks winner, Rose of England, is fancied, but the best should be Eirene.

The Nunthorpe Sweepstakes is a weight-for-age sprint, wherein the issue is as open as many a handicap. Sir Cosmo, last year's Free Handicap winner, can be relied upon for a forward display. He won the July Cup at Newmarket under 10st. 1lb., and is one of the fastest weight-carriers in training. Doch-an-Doris, Oak Ridge and Tag End can fight out their Ascot battle again, and Oak Ridge, who proved to be the best of the trio, will now be meeting Doch-an-Doris on 10lb. better terms. Flying Argosy will not be saddled, and leaving the issue to Sir Cosmo and Oak Ridge I prefer the latter.

The Prince of Wales's Plate will test the capabilities of Sir Abe Bailey's Portlaw, the newly-named Portree colt. His success last Friday in the Robin Hood Stakes at Hurst Park shows him to be very useful, and he had done well at Goodwood to run Lemnarchus to a neck at a difference of 7lb. The one he has to beat is the Beckhampton colt, Glenalmond, who scored in very easy style at Windsor a fortnight ago, but I think that : will be capable of holding Glenalmond at bay.

There will be a big field for the Clifton Welter Handicap, in which choice falls between Quothquan and Knight of the Vale. The latter, who will be ridden by Archie Burns, did well to finish second to Land of Burns in a similar handicap at Wolverhampton, but I prefer the claims of the Free Handicap winner, Quothquan.

YACHTING.

LULWORTH WINS BY GOOD MARGIN.

The Torbay Royal Regatta Committee opened their two-day festival yesterday with a very full programme, the chief event being that for the big class yachts. This event was won by Lulworth by a handsome margin. There was a fine sailing breeze at the start, but it varied later in the day, the competitors taking a fair time to complete their courses, but a fine day's sailing was witnessed, and full canvas was carried. The race was three times round a triangular course, a total distance of 45 miles, over which Westward and Lulworth allowed Britannia and White Heather, 1 min. 30 secs.; Candida, 6 mins. 22½ secs.; Astra, 6 mins. 45 secs., and Cambria, 7 mins. 7½ secs. They had their gun at 11 o'clock, and the official finishing times were:—

	H.	M.	S.
Cambria (2nd prize)	4	31	44
White Heather	4	34	0
Westward	4	35	19
Britannia	4	36	15
Candida	4	40	13

YACHT MEASUREMENT.

Mr. Norman Clark Neill and Major B. Heckstall Smith, representing the Yacht Racing Association and the International Yacht Racing Union, will meet the Committee of the New York Yacht Club after the termination of the races for the America Cup to discuss the future of the rule of yacht measurement. The object of the mission is to endeavour to come to some agreement in order that the same rule of measurement should apply to both sides of the Atlantic.

HANDBALL.

DUBLIN CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The semi-final of the Intermediate Hard Ball Doubles on Sunday was a struggle to the end, the full rubber being played before J. Norton and R. Mockler (St. Joseph's) gained the decision over their clubmates, P. Scanlon and P. O'Connor, by 11-21, 19-21, 21-15, 21-11, 21-11.

Other matches resulted as follows:—
J. Byrne (St. Joseph's) beat M. Kearney (Civic Guards), 21-7, 21-2.
P. Golding (St. Joseph's) beat G. Grainger (St. Joseph's), 21-11, 21-4.
B. Conlan (D.M.G.) beat J. J. Byrne (Aughrim), 21-3, 21-9.
V. O'Reilly (Clontarf) beat J. Cavanagh (Civil Service), 21-15, 21-16.
G. Rowe (St. Joseph's) beat P. Coyne (Civic Guards), 21-14, 21-15.
J. Hickey (Civic Guards) beat P. Keogh (Olympia), 21-17, 15-21, 21-10.
M. Pender (D.M.G.) w.o., M. Kelly (St. Joseph's) scr.

Slight Mishap to Norland.

Lord Derby's four-year-old filly, Norland, who is one of the fancied candidates for the Ebor Handicap at York, rapped her leg while at exercise yesterday morning. The mishap, however, is not considered as being serious, though one of her legs is slightly swollen, but it is hoped that this will yield to treatment, and that the filly will take part in the big event at York on Wednesday.

CRICKET.

HAMMOND HITS FREELY.

MANY CENTURIES.

Fry's Ground, Bristol, had all the appearance of a festival on the second day of Gloucestershire's match with Australia. The pity was that the compact enclosure would not accommodate a greater crowd than the 17,000 who assembled; for so great was the interest that the gates had to be closed in the early afternoon and many hundreds turned away. The receipts on Saturday were £605, and yesterday they reached £1,743. Parker met with only partial success, but Goddard came along with a fine performance on the drying turf, sending back five men at a cost of just over ten runs apiece. The pitch, though still presenting difficulties, played far easier than on Saturday, and, on the whole, the Australians gave a disappointing display. Ponsford stayed an hour and a half, making no mistake and hitting seven 4's, and then followed a collapse. The sixth, seventh and eighth wickets all fell at 131, Goddard narrowly missing the hat trick. Bradman rather astonished the crowd by his subdued efforts, remaining an hour and three-quarters for 42, and hitting only one 4. When Gloucester went in again, 85 behind, Hammond gave a delightful display of free, skilled batting. The drive through the covers was exploited with wonderful accuracy and frequency, and, reaching 80 out of 74, he was undefeated at the end. He has hit one 6 and eleven 4's, and has batted ninety-five minutes.

W. R. HAMMOND.

SURREY'S STRONG POSITION.

With the pitch dryer, and of nice comfortable pace, Surrey scored quicker at the Oval yesterday than on Saturday, and after tea their fast bowlers—Allom and Gover—were so successful that the position favoured Surrey at the close. Allom, who had two catches missed off him, took three wickets for 27 runs in his spell of seventy minutes, and then Gover came on and made Oldroyd and Mitchell each play-on. Yorks at the close were 260 behind with five wickets to fall. Shepherd, who batted for four hours, hit twenty 4's. He gave a chance to long-on when 77.

A blank Saturday caused by rain having reduced the match to two days, Lancashire adopted "safety first" tactics in their fixture with Notts at Trent Bridge. In consequence it was a tedious business; for in just under six hours only six wickets fell and but 254 runs were scored. Watson and Tyldesley shared in a big second wicket stand, which produced 121. Watson completed his third hundred of the season in 3 hours 35 minutes.

At Lord's yesterday Kent seemed to have done a good performance in dismissing Middlesex for 154, but the triumph of the bowlers extended to the Kent innings, so that the end saw Middlesex put the visitors out for 18 fewer runs. During the day 21 wickets fell for an aggregate of 315.

ARNOLD'S DISTINCTION.

A brilliant hundred by Arnold enabled Hampshire to gain an advantageous position against Northants at Bournemouth. Facing a total of 207, Hampshire started badly, losing two wickets for only two runs in Mathews's first over after lunch, but at the close they were one run ahead with four wickets to fall. Arnold and Mead put on 119 for the third wicket, and Arnold had the distinction of completing his first thousand runs in county cricket, a feat unequalled by any Hampshire colt in his initial season, and making his second century of the season.

At Derby yesterday Cutmore and O'Conor joined in the biggest partnership of the summer against Derbyshire. Together they put on 219, but for the most part the other batsmen did little.

Sussex found themselves no more than 49 behind at Eastbourne. They lost two wickets before the arrears were cleared off, but afterwards Duleepsinhji batted in really delightful style, and Sussex wound up 73 runs ahead with six wickets to fall. Thanks to admirable batting by Nichol, Worcester passed their opponents' total with three men out, but a collapse set in when Bowley came on a second time, and the last four wickets went down for 37.

Leicestershire, at Hinckley, wound up 362 in arrear with nine wickets to fall. At the start Warwickshire had three wickets down for 67, but the remaining seven wickets added 305. Wyatt being top scorer with 174 not out. It was not a perfect innings, for he was missed at 20 off Shipman, and again at 42.

PRESENTATION TO G. R. JACKSON.

G. R. Jackson, the Derbyshire captain, was yesterday presented by the members of the county team with a smoker's silver set, to mark their appreciation of his services as leader of the side since 1922. Jackson gave each of the players a pair of cuff-links bearing the crest of the Derbyshire County Club. He has decided to relinquish the captaincy next season, owing to pressure of business.

ASSOCIATION.

ALIEN PLAYERS BARRED BY ENGLISH COUNCIL.

At a meeting of the English Football Association Council in London yesterday the International Selection Committee drew the attention of the Council to the fact that games were being organised under artificial light, and the following resolution was adopted:—

"Attention having been called to the fact that the playing of matches under artificial light is being organised, the Council express their opinion that the playing of such matches is undesirable, and that clubs, members of the Association, are prohibited from taking part in such games."

The Council showed their disapproval of clubs introducing alien players by adopting the following recommendation from the International Selection Committee, who had been approached by the Ministry of Labour:—"The Council of the Football Association is not in favour of granting permits for alien players to be brought into this country for the purpose of being employed as football players, and would desire a continuance of the present practice of the Minister of Labour."

It will be recalled that Continental players have been refused permission by the Ministry to find employment with clubs in England, Scotland and Wales.

ENGLAND LEADS IRELAND.

STERN TUSSLES AT SCARBOROUGH.

GREGORY DEFEATED BY McGUIRE.

A feature of the International at Scarborough between England and Ireland yesterday was the success of E. A. McGuire over Dr. J. C. Gregory, the respective captains. It had been expected that McGuire would make a good match of it, but his straight-sets victory was not anticipated. It must be said that the British Davis Cup player was far below his usual form, while McGuire rose to the occasion, and did everything with unusual accuracy. There was a hard fight before the Irishman took the opening set after twelve games, which were featured by the splendid driving and accurate placing of McGuire. In the second set Gregory's play generally was weak, and he took only one of his service games. McGuire kept the Englishman running about, and steadily wore down his opponent to take the second set at 6-3 and the match. That success enabled Ireland to draw level, for in the opening match of the contest H. F. Cronin was beaten by E. C. Peters in two sets.

E. A. McGuire.

PETERS' RALLIES.

The Englishman won after staging a remarkable recovery in the first set, when he was led by 5-1. He took a sequence of six games for the set. In the second the players were level at one-all, but again Peters rallied, and winning five games in a row finished the match, which was outstanding in its one-sided nature after Cronin's initial success.

England won both doubles matches, so that Ireland were led by the home side by three rubbers to one.

Gregory was partnered by Nigel Sharpe, another experienced player, against H. F. Cronin and F. R. Scovell, and it looked as if the Irish couple were going to bring off another surprise when they took the opening set at 6-4. They combined very well and took advantage of their opponents' errors.

There was a long duel for the second set, but Gregory and Sharpe forcing the pace, and both hitting with greater severity, finally won it in the eighteenth game. The Irish players seemed a little tired in the remaining play, and captured only five games in the last two sets.

E. A. McGuire and V. Allman-Smith played pluckily against a strong English partnership in H. K. Lester and E. C. Peters. The home pair won in straight sets, but they were forced to fourteen games in the second. Lester and Peters scored frequently at the net, and won cleverly against tireless opponents.

SINGLES.

E. Peters (England) beat H. Cronin (Ireland)—7-5, 6-1.

E. McGuire (Ireland) beat J. Gregory (England)—7-5, 6-3.

DOUBLES.

J. Gregory and N. Sharpe (England) beat H. Cronin and F. Scovell (Ireland)—4-6, 10-8, 6-2, 6-3.

H. Lester and E. Peters (England) beat E. McGuire and V. Allman-Smith (Ireland)—6-1, 8-6, 6-3.

PLAY IN RAIN.

THE BOYS' CHAMPIONSHIP OF IRELAND.

The weather yesterday morning was most unfavourable for the start of the Irish Junior Championship meeting at Fitzwilliam L.T.C., Wilton place. In spite of everything, however, remarkably good progress was made with the championship events, and though the soft and slippery courts made conditions difficult there was plenty of good play.

In the senior boys' singles about the best match was that in which J. W. Murphy defeated J. F. Houlihan, who won the handicap singles at Bray recently. Both boys played extremely well, but Murphy, who appears to have some advantage in age adapted himself better to the conditions and produced the crisper game. Indeed on yesterday's form he should take a lot of beating. R. F. Egan, who won the junior event last year, had an easy passage through the first round only dropping four games in straight sets to A. Peart. G. F. L. Scott, the Ulster Champion, had an unexpectedly easy victory over a useful opponent in J. G. Mathews, who could only capture two games in two sets.

Considerable interest was taken in the meeting of Miss M. O'Keeffe and Miss M. Hamilton in the senior girls event. Miss O'Keeffe a couple of weeks ago ran Miss Phyllis Wallis, the Irish hard court champion, to three sets, while Miss Hamilton has shown good form in senior handicaps. Miss O'Keeffe employed a powerful forehand drive to such good effect that she won in straight sets, but the match was hard fought and Miss Hamilton showed a greater variety of stroke. Play will be continued this morning at 10 o'clock sharp. Details:—

HARP A.C. SPORTS.

Harp A.C. Sports were listed for yesterday at Bray, but only a few events had been decided when a very heavy rainfall made it impossible to continue, and the meeting was then abandoned until a later date. Details:—

100 Yards Open Handicap (final)—M. O'Sullivan (Rockwell College) (10yds.), 1; P. J. Corcoran (Curragh) and T. Moriarity (D.M.G.A.C.) (10yds.), dead-heated for second place. Twelve ran. Won by a foot. Time, 9 4-5 secs.

100 Yards Ladies' Race—Miss J. Baird (Harp A.C.) (2), 1; Miss V. Cummins (Harp A.C.), 2; Miss M. Murtagh (Harp A.C.) (6), 3. Six ran.

BOXING.

CHARLIE SMITH KNOCKS OUT REGGIE MEEN.

A heavy-weight contest with an important bearing on the British championship was staged at Leicester yesterday, when in the second round of a 15-rounds bout, Charlie Smith, of Deptford, knocked out Reggie Meen, Mexborough.

Although Smith won on a technical knock-out, Meen actually was compelled to surrender on account of a twisted knee, after being sent to the boards from a left hook. He was obviously in pain when he rose, and as he was unable to continue, the fight was awarded to Smith.

WATER POLO.

EXCITING GAME AT BLACKROCK.

DUBLIN HANDICAPPED.

Two first round matches in the Leinster Senior and Junior Cup competitions were down for decision at the Blackrock Baths last evening. Considerable interest was taken in both games, and a fairly large crowd was present. Sandycove, the winners of both trophies in 1929, had to face stout opposition in each match, especially in the senior game, in which Dublin, their adversaries, were strengthened by the inclusion of Hayes Dockrell, who had played for Dublin University in the League, and Lieutenant J. A. O'Conner, R.A.M.C., who is home on leave from Aldershot. Dublin thus had the strongest team in the water that has represented them for the past twelve months, with five internationals in the side, and hopes of success ran high amongst their supporters. Sandycove were short of C. Fagan, for whom H. Cullen deputised. A stirring encounter resulted in a draw, and the teams will meet again to-morrow to determine who shall play Clontarf in the semi-final.

University College made a welcome re-appearance in the Junior Cup, in which they were set a severe task in meeting the holders. The test was above their powers, and they were defeated.

SANDYCOVE (holders) 3 DUBLIN 3

Fifteen minutes each way was played. With the wind Sandycove attacked, but M. O'Connor sent them back, and a Dublin forward was taken out for being inside two yards of the Sandycove goal. Sandycove utilised their numerical superiority well, and went in front, through Cullen, who shot a smart goal. From a penalty T. H. Dockrell equalised, but near the interval O'Brien swam in smartly to take a pass from Horlacher to score Sandycove's second.

In the second half Sandycove had the greater share of the attack for a period, with a Dublin player out; but they could not overcome the strong defence put up by O'Connor, Purcell and Stafford. Eventually Purcell worked clear to score brilliantly. A penalty to McCormick was converted with a couple of minutes to go; but in a splendid Dublin rally Purcell, with a clever movement and the best shot of the match, again equalised.

Sandycove might have won had they made the most of their numerical advantage early in the second half; but, on the other hand, Dublin had so much of the play, and were so dangerous in attack, that they would have been unlucky to lose. On the whole, a draw was a good result of a first-class game. Teams:—

Sandycove—J. Flanagan; G. C. Higginbotham (capt.), N. F. Judd; H. Cullen; W. J. McCormick, L. O'Brien, A. F. Horlacher.

Referee—Mr. H. F. Brennan.

LEINSTER JUNIOR CUP.

SANDYCOVE 2nd... 3 UNIVERSITY COLL. 0

University College had a strong swimming side, but their team play was somewhat defective, and Sandycove profited accordingly. D. Healy scored twice in the first half, and his brother Sean in the second, the holders winning on their merits.

Sandycove 2nd—W. Fagan; C. R. Walsh, J. Doran; C. P. Kenna; D. Healy (capt.); S. Healy, L. Hughes.

University College—L. Murray; J. McCormack, W. Cummins; P. McCormack; J. V. Glass, K. C. Boylan (capt.), and J. Holland.

Referee—Mr. W. L. McGuire.

BELGIUM DEFEATS ENGLAND.

The European Water Polo Championships were begun in the Swimming Pool at the Nuremburg Stadium yesterday, teams from England, Belgium, Hungary, France, Sweden and Germany competing for the Klebelsberg Cup.

The match between England and Belgium resulted in a win for Belgium by 5 goals to 2. Martin scored both England's goals. Hungary beat France by 12 goals to 2, and Germany beat Sweden by 7 goals to 0.

CHESS.

DUBLIN CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY MR. J. J. O'HANLON.

Our Chess Correspondent writes:—Last night the fifth game was played in the Dublin championship contest between Messrs. Cranston and O'Hanlon, the previous score being: Cranston, 1½; O'Hanlon, 2½. The former player had the move, and the opening pursued was the Cambridge Springs. Moves came very rapidly at the beginning, and eight were completed within four minutes. Black's first pause was over his 10th move, and at the 13th White took a quarter of an hour, and then decided on a double exchange of centre pawns.

The play now became very deliberate, and no clear advantage of position was visible. Forces were exactly equal. In the critical play which followed the initiative was transferred to Mr. O'Hanlon, and White was pressed for time, getting in his 20th move only one minute before the allotted hour.

Black now threatened trouble to White's remaining Bishop by combination of his Queen and two Rooks. The pressure duly matured, and White's loss of the exchange was the least costly way out. Exchange of Queens followed, and Black captured his opponent's solitary Queen's side pawn. He was now content to give back the exchange in order to eliminate the remaining rooks. His two Queen's side pawns were now irresistible, and Mr. Cranston resigned, after 35 moves of an interesting and well-fought game.

Thus Mr. J. J. O'Hanlon carries off the championship of the Dublin club, after a contest which required only Mr. McMahon, of Belfast, and Mr. Creevey, of Cork, to raise it to the rank of a national championship.

GAELIC GAMES.

DUBLIN .... 1-3 ARMAGH 1-1

At Croke Park. Dublin pressed from the start, Diffney sending over the opening point in the first few minutes. Quinn, following a nice centre by Markham, beat several opponents and shot a nice point. Armagh got down, good mid-field work being badly finished by the front line. The Northern side continued to attack, but Corrigan and Grant shot wide. O'Toole placed Diffney in a Dublin breakaway, and the latter beat McVey for a goal. Armagh attacked from a long kick by Vallely, and Heenan going in scored. McLoughlin being at fault. Dublin led by 1-2 to 1-0 at the interval.

Diffney put on a further minor for Dublin midway through the second half, Corrigan adding a minor for Armagh. Dublin continued to have the better of a hard game and won by two points.

MINOR HURLING.

Kilkenny were altogether too strong and skilful for Down, who appeared in an interprovincial for the first time. The Ulster boys were drawn exclusively from Abbey Schools, Newry, and made a good impression, though outclassed in experience. Result:—Kilkenny, 13 goals 7 points; Down, 2 goals.

BLESSINGTON TOURNAMENT.

Two games were listed for decision in the Blessington tournament on Sunday. The first, between St. Ethna's (Dublin) and Cill (Kildare), was not played, as the Kildare team were late in arriving, and the referee awarded St. Ethna's a walk over. A friendly game was played afterwards, and resulted in a win for Cill by 1 goal 1 point to 2 points.

The second game, between Round Towers (Clondalkin) and St. Mary's (Saggart), ended in a win for Round Towers by 3 goals 2 points to 1 goal 3 points. It was a good game, and the victory went to a team which showed the better football ability.

GALWAY JUNIORS WIN.

The Connaught Junior Hurling Final at Roscommon on Sunday resulted in a win for Galway over Sligo of 3-7 to 3-2. In the opening stages Sligo held their own and for some time looked very much like winning, but on the change over Galway showed themselves better in stamina.

TIPPERARY TOO STRONG FOR LIMERICK.

In the semi-final of the Munster Junior Hurling Championship at Limerick on Sunday, between Limerick and Tipperary, the latter qualified to meet Clare in the final on the 14th September. Tipperary led at half-time by 2 goals and 2 points to 3 points, and further improved their position in the second half, while Limerick failed to overhaul them, although hurling well to the finish. Result:—

Blunn (scr.); 3rd, Miss D. Lyon (15). 200 Yards Handicap—1st, Miss M. Somerville (40); 2nd, Miss B. Morgan (23); 3rd, Miss Keogh (28).

A FINE DAY FOR WAR.

MIMIC OPERATIONS OPEN IN SURREY.

More ideal weather conditions for a war could not have been desired than those in which "Northland" and "Eastland" yesterday opened their mimic warfare in the Surrey countryside, between Chobham and the Hog's Back.

These operations, which are in connection with the annual collective training for the 2nd Division, are complicated by a number of ingeniously-conceived imaginary contingencies, including the uncertain neutrality of "Southland," which is "sitting on the fence," waiting to see where the advantage lies. Northland's military strength is mainly in the mechanical form. Northland and Eastland both have small air forces, while Southland has none.

It was learned that the Eastland force was being moved from the coast towards "Militaria," which is the bone of contention, and that Northland had also stopped her peace training and was moving towards Wokingham. Northland's citizen army was being mobilised. Southland, whose forces were already in a favourable position to intervene at once, made no move to indicate her intentions.

War actively broke out last night, when Eastland forces, consisting of a brigade of infantry and a field artillery brigade, crossed the frontier of Militaria.

DASH ACROSS STREET.

HOW BOY WAS KILLED IN DUBLIN.

At an inquest held in Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital, Dublin, yesterday on Bernard Heavey, aged seven years, of 2 Grant's row, who was knocked down by a delivery van on the 18th inst, and died in the institution last Saturday, it was stated that as a tramway delivery van and a bread van approached from opposite directions the boy ran across the street and was knocked down by the delivery van, a wheel of which passed over his body. The driver, Thomas Loughlin, could not have avoided the accident, and when he was charged in the District Court informations were refused.

Dr. Beare described the injuries, and said that death was due to shock and meningitis. The jury returned a verdict accordingly, and exonerated the driver of the van.

Mr. Byrne, on behalf of the Tramway Company, tendered sympathy with the relatives of the dead boy.

CARMELITE TRUST.

SIR ROBERT DONALD AND THE NEWSPAPER INDUSTRY.

There were several critical speeches from shareholders at the second annual meeting of the Carmelite Trust, Ltd., at River Plate House, London, yesterday. Sir J. R. P. Newman, Chairman of the Trust, presided.

Since the last meeting six directors have resigned, and a discussion arose around this fact and the finances of the company.

Several times the meeting was in an uproar when two or more shareholders endeavoured to obtain a hearing together.

A shareholder (Mr. Ward) said that when six directors retired, and simultaneously there was a heavy slump of the Stock Exchange prices of the company's shares, the directors gave no explanation of their action. Another shareholder protested that the shareholders had not been informed when the directors contemplated resigning.

Sir Robert Donald, Chairman of Anglo-Foreign Newspapers, Ltd., who are in dispute with the Carmelite Trust, referred to the three thousand small shareholders in the Trust "who had lost their money," but for whom there was no word of sympathy in the report.

The report and the Chairman's speech are totally inadequate, said Sir Robert. The newspaper industry position in this country is appalling. It has never been so bad. The first-class newspapers are not making any money at all. The key to a newspaper's prosperity is the volume of advertising, and that is down twenty per cent. among the big national newspapers. Within the next twelve months there will be many casualties among the newspapers. The newspaper industry will be the last to recover from the present slump.

"You have lost nineteen shillings of your pound," he went on, "and so far as I can see no effort is being made to salvage the remaining shilling. What we want in this company is an independent inquiry."

Sir Robert offered, on behalf of Anglo-Foreign Newspapers, Ltd., as the largest shareholders to foot the bill for such an inquiry, and this offer was received with enthusiasm by several shareholders.

Sir J. R. P. Newman appealed to the meeting to place a little more confidence in the directors.

"We welcome all inquiry," he declared, "but we have some important and delicate negotiations on foot. If there is to be an independent inquiry it will be absolutely fatal."

The Chairman asked the meeting to adopt the report and accounts, and although Sir Robert Donald continued to demand an investigation, or the adjournment of the meeting, he was shouted down.

Eventually the report and accounts were adopted, on the Chairman's promise to call a meeting of the shareholders in six months' time for the purpose of outlining the results of the negotiations to which he had referred.

FRENCH TEXTILE DISPUTE.

STRIKE TO CONTINUE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Monday.

The woollen textile workers who are on strike in the Roubaix-Tourcoing district have rejected the proposals made by their employers, and have voted for a continuation of the strike.

WIRELESS AND ADVERTISING.

PROPOSAL TO LET DUBLIN STATION.

The Department of Posts and Telegraphs of the Irish Free State is considering the feasibility of letting the Dublin Broadcasting Station on occasions to large advertising concerns who would be prepared to put on a programme of their own.

Proposals have been made to the Department, and the lines on which such a project would be carried out would be in accordance with the system at present in operation in the United States of America and in Australia. In both these countries broadcasting stations let their premises and hire their staffs to big firms, who put on a full musical programme of their own, interspersed at intervals with short talks on their products or references to the fact that the programme is being given by the firm concerned.

IN AMERICA AND AUSTRALIA.

The system has worked very successfully in the United States and in Australia. Care always has been taken to put on exceptionally good programmes; and, in fact, the various firms, who select this medium of advertising their goods, vie with each other in the excellence of their programmes.

UNDER CONSIDERATION.

"We are considering the question," Mr. P. S. O'Hegarty, the Secretary to the Free State Department of Posts and Telegraphs, told an Irish Times representative yesterday. "We cannot say more than that at present."

In reply to a further question, Mr. O'Hegarty said that before anything could be done the whole question of feasibility would have to be considered, of course; full care would have to be taken to see that first-class programmes were given, and that the minimum of advertising matter was introduced. It was probable that an experimental programme of this nature would be put on within the next two or three months.

In regard to the proposed Athlone high power station, it was stated that nothing definite was yet known, nor had the site been selected.

LABOUR OFFICIAL'S WORLD TOUR.

PRAISE FOR GREAT BRITAIN.

Mr. W. M. Citrine, Secretary of the Trades Union Congress, who returned to London yesterday from a sea voyage for the benefit of his health, during which he visited Cape Town, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and the United States, stated that he was convinced that relatively Great Britain was in a far stronger position than was understood abroad.

"I do not think that we boast enough of our achievements in post-war reconstruction, in financial effort, and in the organisation of social services, which are second to none in the world. I have seen or heard of nothing comparable to them. I return home with a deeper pride in the achievements of the old country and with a clearer appreciation of its influence and power in world affairs.

"British influence is not on the wane, but in my opinion is increasing, and I believe we are still able to teach other countries some elementary lessons in social organisation. I have seen no better forms of trade union and labour organisation than we have developed in this country, nor any higher qualities of leadership."

"TUBERCULOSIS AS RARE AS TYPHOID."

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
WINNIPEG, Monday.

If civilisation keeps up its present fight against tuberculosis the disease will be as rare in 1950 as typhoid fever is now in England, declared Dr. Ernest Ward, the Hon. Secretary of the Joint Tuberculosis Council of Great Britain, Canada and the United States, at Manitoba Sanatorium to-day.

The British doctors attending the meeting are members of the British scholarship tour, who are crossing Canada on an inspection of the principal tuberculosis sanatoria in the Dominion. The gradual disappearance of tuberculosis, Dr. Ward continued, is practically assured. He dwelt upon the importance of the education of school children in preventive measures against tuberculosis.

LONDON YOUTH SHOT.

A STRANGE AFFAIR.

A mysterious shooting affair at a house in Tufnell Park road, North London, was investigated shortly after midday yesterday.

After visiting the house, Mr. Jack Phelps, aged 18, of Hampton road, Upper Holloway, staggered over to the residence of a doctor, and was found to be suffering from a gunshot wound. He was taken to the Royal Northern Hospital and detained. Later it was stated that he was shot in the spine, and might have to undergo an operation. He was reported to be "fairly comfortable."

Phelps, who is employed by the Holloway Machine Company, is thought to have gone to the house occupied by Mr. Leonard McClean, who is also associated with the same company, but is at present away on holiday, to see that everything was in order.

Mrs. Whiterod, who lives opposite, stated that she heard a faint knock at the door of her house, and found Phelps there. Phelps told her that he went to the house and found the front door open, and that he was shot from behind as he was telephoning. There was a hole in his clothing at his hip.

Mr. Gordon Bull, a motor engineer, who called the police, stated that he understood that a revolver was found at the top of the stairs, at the foot of which was the telephone.

An employé of Mr. Bull's garage said that when the police entered they found that several drawers had been opened.

Phelps, when seen in the hospital, said that he heard a faint tapping in one of the rooms while he was going towards the telephone. As he lifted the receiver he felt something strike him in the back, but did not see anyone.

The police, it is understood, are working on the theory that Phelps's visit coincided with that of other persons who had no authority to be there.

When the police arrived at the house the safe was also open, but, according to a man working near by, it had not been opened by anyone who might have entered the house, but had been left open and empty when Mr. McClean went for his holiday.

BRITISH DYE INDUSTRY.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT EXPECTED SHORTLY.

A Government Committee report on the progress of the British dye industry, since the passing of the Dyestuffs (Importation Regulation) Act, will be issued during the next few days. The Committee was appointed to inquire into the conditions and prospects of the dye industry and the effect upon it of the Dyestuffs (Importation Regulation) Act, 1920. An official of the Board of Trade said to a reporter yesterday—"The report will indicate that the system of prohibiting imports, except under licence, has considerably increased the home output of dyes since it was put into operation. It has had an appreciable effect on the increase of exports of dyestuffs and intermediary products."

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
MELBOURNE, Monday.

Sir William McPherson, leader of the Nationalist Party, and leader of the Opposition since July, 1927, is resigning the leadership of his party, and also his seat in the Victoria Legislative Assembly, owing to ill-health and to pressure of business.

FRACTURED SKULL.

WOMAN'S DEATH FROM A FALL AT KINGSTOWN.

Mrs. Edith Rooke was found dead in the back yard of her house, 6 Vesey place, Kingstown, yesterday morning. Her skull was fractured, and it is believed that she had fallen out of a window some thirty feet from the ground. Her body was taken to Monkstown Hospital.

She was 58 years of age, and was the wife of Mr. Thomas Lloyd Rooke, solicitor, Merrion square, Dublin.

SEVEN MILES IN THE SEA.

A thirteen years old Ramsgate girl, Florence Proctor, yesterday swam from Deal pier to Ramsgate, a distance of seven miles, in four hours. Hundreds of holiday-makers cheered her when she landed.

Ahmed Shafi, a young Indian student, and Miss Janet English, of Beverley, Yorkshire, were both to have attempted to swim from Dover to Ramsgate, but unfavourable conditions caused them to postpone the attempt until to-day.

GARDEN, FARM, BEES, ETC.

ANNUALS.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Garden Correspondent says:—

It is now the time for sowing seeds of the hardier annuals, hardy enough to survive our winters, first and foremost of which comes the blue Cornflower, the early summer crop of blossom being, as most know, much appreciated in our markets. Where the brilliant little Californian annual, Limnanthes Grandiflora, has been established, self-sown seedlings will be in evidence galore. If not thus introduced for the sake of the bees, it should now be sown—just scattered near the hives informally and raked in—and it will be earliest of the spring flowers appreciated by the busy ones when flowers are scarce. Collinsia Bicolor, now not much seen, is another Californian annual which, sown at the present time, has with us proved a blessing in spring—that is, late spring; and the Candytufts in various colours, unless the winter is unduly severe, are most welcome among the flowers that bloom in the spring. Sweet Peas, of course, sown now, are for glass protection, and under those conditions inimitable.

THE SCRATCHING SHED.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Poultry Correspondent says:—

This is a good time to clean out the old litter of the scratching shed, and those who have gardens will find this good manure. Fresh stuff can be procured at present from grass clippings, weeds and leaves. All dry garden refuse makes good litter, but it is well to change it before winter, when other material can be substituted. Those who have the scratching shed in constant use, when the fowls are more or less confined, should limewash and thoroughly clean the shed at this time. Birds on free range will not need to use the shed till later on, and the best scratching place for them at present is in the fields, under the trees and among the shrubs, where the grain can be thrown.
